AMELIA HUNTERS SEE FLARES

70 CALLED TO DENOUNCE FORD IN LABOR TRIAL

Each Side Prepares for Test Case.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., July 5.—[Special.]—An array of 70 witnesses, among them former Ford company employés, officials of the United Automobile Workers' union and a number of newspaper men and photographers, will be called here beginning tomorrow morning to tell the National Labor Relations board that Henry Ford has violated the Wagner act.

This was announced by the labor board's staf of trial examiners today after their agents completed the serving of subpenas upon this small army of men.

To Hear About Battle.

Despite the fact that the fundamental charges against the Ford company are those which deal with its alleged interference with the rights of its employés to enjoy collective bargaining, the labor board and the union expect to devote considerable time to the gathering of testimony relative to the beating of several union organizers at the River Rouge plant on May 26.

While all involved admit privately that the attack on the organizers by loyal Ford employés has little bearing upon the basic charges, both the board examiners and the union officials are anxious to call in a number of witnesses in order to "smear" the Ford company before the public.

And this smearing process is to be continued on Wednesday morning when the union now plans to send out a second group of organizers to the River Rouge plant. This group has been directed to distribute copies of the union newspaper "The United Automobile Worker" to Ford employés arriving for the day shift at the factories.

Hope for More Trouble.

"We're hoping that there'll be more slugging of our union people by Ford thugs," one of the union leaders said today. "We consider the beating of our men as helpful to our problem of organizing the average workman.

"It's especially worth while at this time because the labor board hearings will have begun. A little riot just now would be very helpful to us."

The union program has been well advertised and there is much speculation here about how Harry H. Bennett, Ford personnel director, will accept the "demonstration."

TROOPS RULE CLEVELAND

Cleveland O., July 5.—(AP)—Ohio National Guard trucks, loaded with troops, rolled into Cleveland today to enforce peace when four strikebound steel mills reopen tomorrow.

All the plants are owned by Republic Steel corporation. The gates will be thrown open at 7 a. m. Normally the mills employ 6,650 workers.

Military headquarters announced tonight that 1,000 troops had arrived during the day and that 500 more would arrive tomorrow.

Resumption of work here will leave idle only one plant of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company, at East Chicago, Ind., in the long list of mills where walkouts were called May 26 by the steel workers' organizing committee.

Bethlehem Steel and Inland Steel were the other two companies affected. Refusal of the four independent steel concerns to heed the C. I. O. demand for signed labor contracts precipitated the strike.

Quiet Over Holiday.

A holiday lull prevailed on all sections of the long strike front today. At Youngstown, in the heart of the Mahoning valley, where National Guard troops have been on duty for two weeks, no pickets were at mill gates. Steel executives say production there is normal.

Johnstown, Pa., where the Cambria works of Bethlehem were strike bound, was quiet. Workers have been on a three-day holiday. Mill gates will be opened tomorrow for "normal operations," company officials said.

Union leaders did not disclose whether they planned to reëstablish large picket lines at the gates, but James Mark, leader of the striking forces, said: "The strike will go on. We will not give up."

Some apprehension was felt in Warren, O., over a scheduled re-opening tomorrow of the hot mills of the

80,000 Sport Fans

Chicagoland sport fans were evenly divided yesterday between baseball and horse racing. Almost 40,000 saw the Cubs win. Another 40,000 visited Arlington Park. Pictures of the two crowds are on the back page.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Fourteen innings of wild baseball, which occupied more than four strenuous hours, proved just a warmup for the Cubs yesterday before 39,240 spectators at Wrigley field. It took them all that time to chisel down two seemingly insurmountable enemy leads before whipping the St. Louis Cardinals, 13 to 12, in the first half of a double-header.

Then, apparently as fresh as colts despite their labors, the Cubs charged back and did it all over again. They continued to annihilate enemy pitchers and defeated the Cardinals, 9 to 7, thereby increasing to two games their lead over the pursuing New York Giants.

The first game lasted four hours and nine minutes and the second game two hours and fourteen minutes. Counting the interval between them, the spectators put in approximately six and a half hours at the ball park.

Use 38 Players.

Thirteen players undertook to pitch during the afternoon, three of them appearing in both games. They were pounded for 65 hits, 22 of which were for extra bases. The spectators were treated to three home runs, six triples, and 13 doubles. Twenty-four bases on balls were issued. The cast for the production included 38 players and three umpires, one of whom was assisted from the field after being hit by a foul ball.

The Cubs had to resort to all sorts of heroics in the first game. Bill Lee and his rescuer, Leroy Parmelee, were pounded for five runs in the third inning, at end of which the Cardinals led, 7 to 1. The Cubs made six tying runs off Ray Harrell and Mike Ryba in the fourth.

Cardinals Regain Lead.

The Cardinals mauled Clay Bryant and Curt Davis for another lead of five runs in the seventh and eighth, but the Cubs retrieved four of these in the same inning off Ryba, Lon Warneke, and Jess Haines. In the ninth a triple by Stan Hack tied the score and then the struggle took a turn for the better.

After all his other pitchers had proved ineffective, Manager Charley Grimm summoned old Pop Charley Root at the start of the ninth. He battled his way through six innings on a yield of four hits before getting the run he and his mates wanted. The run came off Bob Weiland, fifth St. Louis pitcher to see service. Frank Demaree, with five hits already completed, opened the fourteenth with a bounding single over the tall southpaw. Billy Herman sacrificed, Tuck Stainback walked and Bill Jurges broke up the fight by hitting a single to center and sending Demaree across the plate.

Lee Starts Again.

Undaunted by the blistering that chased him out of the first game, Lee returned as starter in the second. His fellow workers presented him with a five run lead by picking on Jim Winford, who had only a vague idea as to the location of the plate. They gave Lee two more runs in the third when Harrell came back for another try. All these runs were scored on five hits, one a homer with a man on by Phil Cavarretta. An eighth run was made while Lefty White was performing in the fourth. All this wasn't enough for Lee.

After three snappy innings, Lee slipped a bit in the fourth when Joe Medwick hit a homer. He was nicked for another run in the fifth. In the sixth Lee was perfect once more and it looked as if the remainder of the Girls Battle on Field of Honor; One Shot Dead

Coushatta, La., July 5.—[Special.]—Gossip sent the fighting women of the Pepper and the Allen families to a cow pasture near here today to settle a long standing feud. Slighted honor was the issue. Death by shooting was the result.

The principals were Jessie Pepper, 17 years old, and May Elvin Allen, also 17, former school chums, and their mothers.

Specific details as to the origin of the feud were lacking, but knowing nods and a few whispered suspicions to Sherif Floyd Jones of Red River parish gave him a fair idea.

"One of the girls started some gossip about the other," he said.

Classmates in School.

Three months ago the Pepper and Allen girls were friends. They attended the East Point High school, 12 miles north of here, and were graduated together last month. But they were not on speaking terms at the commencement. Their friendship ended last April after Miss Allen, whose home is out of town, visited her grandmother here for a few days.

Pretty soon folks began talking, and Miss Allen heard. It's unsafe in this part of the country to bandy with another woman's reputation. The men folks don't like it. But in this case, Miss Allen didn't wait for some chivalrous male to come to her defense.

She promptly confronted her former chum, and accused her of spreading slanderous gossip about her. Miss Pepper denied it, but the feud was on. The mothers of the two girls joined.

First Encounter Occurs.

No overt acts occurred, however, until last Saturday, when the Allen women—mother and daughter—cornered Miss Pepper alone in Moore's filling station just outside the town. They slapped and pummeled her, sending her home crying.

The Allen and Pepper women clung to the protection of their homes yesterday—the Sabbath. Then, like good feudists, they emerged today. Whether there was a prearrangement, Sherif Jones couldn't learn, but in any event the embattled women, Miss Allen and her mother, and Miss Pepper and her mother, converged on a strange field of honor, a small cow pasture near Crichton, just north of here. Mrs. Pepper carried a revolver.

Miss Pepper Gives Version.

The brief description of what happened after they met comes from Miss Pepper. Miss Allen and Mrs. Allen, she said, attacked Mrs. Pepper.

"They ganged her," was the way Miss Pepper put it.

Mrs. Pepper's revolver came out in the open, and in the scuffle it was discharged. That shot hurt no one.

Then Miss Pepper grabbed the revolver. She fired one shot. It struck Miss Allen near the heart, killing her.

Miss Pepper was held in jail here tonight under a formal charge of murder. She appeared unworried, saying she'd tell more about her story at the inquest in the morning.

Seize Deputy Bailif in Chase After Accident

A deputy bailif of the Municipal court and a woman sentenced to jail as a result of election frauds in the precinct of which he is Democratic captain were arrested last night after a five block police chase that followed an automobile collision.

The deputy bailif identified himself as George Kries, 38 years old, of 859 North Clark street. He is his party's captain in the 34th precinct of the 42d ward. Kries was charged with disorderly conduct in a complaint that accused him of using abusive language toward the park policeman who captured him and toward the woman driver of the other car.

Under Sentence of Year.

In the party with Kries was Miss Mary Barrett, 29 years old, a Democratic election official in his precinct in the election of Nov. 6, 1934. She was sentenced last November to a year in jail on contempt charges based on election frauds, but court action has thus far delayed serving of the sentence.

Others in the party were Miss Barrett's sister, Ellen Barrett, 27 years old, who lives with her at 125 West Locust street, and Frank Bolger, 33 years old, of 1427 North Clark street, driver of the car.

The party's troubles began at Sheridan road and Bryn Mawr avenue, when Bolger's car figured in a collision with one driven by Mrs. Geraldine Johnson, 33 years old, of 3553 North Racine avenue.

Policeman Frank McAuliff, directing trafic at the intersection, said he hurried over and remonstrated when Kries began berating Mrs. Johnson. Kries then launched a tirade at the policeman, McAuliff said.

Policeman Fires in Air.

In the midst of this, McAuliff continued, Bolger started his car and the party drove away through the heavy trafic. McAuliff sprang on the running board of Mrs. Johnson's car and ordered her to pursue Bolger's automobile. Twice, the policeman said, he was forced to fire into the air before the fleeing car stopped at Sheridan road and Glenlake avenue.

He arrested Kries, Bolger, and the two women and took them to the Summerdale station. Bolger was charged with leaving the scene of an accident. The two women were charged with disorderly conduct. The prisoners were released later on bond. Kries was a defense witness at the trial of his precinct's election officials.

2 Flying Boats Hop to Pioneer Atlantic Route

BOTWOOD, Newfoundland, July 5.—(AP)—Commercial airliners began bridging the temperamental north Atlantic tonight, heralds of scheduled passenger service to be inaugurated in a few months.

An American flying boat, the four motored Pan-American Clipper III., lifted off Ganders Lake late today bound for Foynes, Ireland, 1,995 miles away, on a survey flight.

A British craft, the Caledonia of Imperial Airways, streaked westward for Botwood, water of Ireland's Shannon river dripping from her silvered hull.

Pass Each Other at Sea.

Navigation experts of Pan-American Airways calculated tonight that the Clipper and the Caledonia passed each other high above the sea at 10:06 p. m., [Chicago time]. They figured the ships were some 67 miles apart at the time and thus that their occupants could not have sighted each other. At the time of the supposed passing, the experts calculated the Clipper was 952 miles out and the Caledonia 1043.

Regular trans-Atlantic service, for years a hope of the future and forecast by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, may be in effect by next spring, with four nations bidding for passenger and mail trafic.

The Caledonia, of a little less than 20 tons gross weight, and the Clipper, of 22¾ tons, were expected by their skippers to reel off the distance between the European and American continents in 15 hours or so.

Capt. Harold E. Gray of the American Transport line hoped to pick up a tail wind which would bring him down at Foynes in less than 15 hours, while Capt. A. S. Wilcockson of the Caledonia estimated his probable flying time at 16 to 17 hours.

Crew of 7 on American Plane.

With the British skipper was a crew of four; with Capt. Gray a crew of seven.

Capt. Gray and his men shoved off from their lake float at Botwood at precisely 4 p. m. [Chicago time], and eleven minutes later were in the air.

The Clipper flew at 11,000 feet. At first there was a fog below it, then coming out the plane sighted an iceberg. The fog closed in again, veiling two steamers with which the Clipper talked by radio. The fog broke again at 665 miles out and the Clipper reported the wind was favorable. When 846 miles out the crew put on furlined suits and opened the plane's windows for purpose of better observation. The temperature was 33.8 degrees F.

Helped by Tail Winds.

When 1,230 miles out and flying at 10,200 feet the Clipper logged, "Marvelous tail winds." Speed had averaged 177 miles an hour. Fog up to 3,000 feet still shrouded the ocean.

Ceremonies at Foynes, with President Eamon de Valera of the Irish Free State participating, delayed Capt. Wilcockson 55 minutes. He took off in a rain at 7:57 p. m. [1:57 p. m. Chicago time].

The Caledonia, carrying besides Capt. Wilcockson First Officer Charles Bowes, Radio Operator T. E. Hobbs, and Marconi Expert T. Valette, headed into darkness at 500 miles out, but reported she was making good progress. Wilcockson planned to take the direct course to Newfoundland which is thirty miles longer than the great circle route but eliminates nine alterations in direction of the flight.

Land Routes Optional.

The British survey route will be Southampton to Foynes, to Montreal, and New York. That of Pan-American is Port Washington, N. Y., to Botwood, to Foynes and Southampton. The Clipper is due at South-

RADIO CLEWS LEAD RESCUERS TO PLANE 'SITE'

Hope of Saving Two Flyers Is Revived.

BULLETIN.

HONOLULU, July 6 (Tuesday).—(AP)—The coast guard cutter Itasca, searching 280 miles north of Howland Island for Amelia Earhart, missing flyer, reported early today it had sighted flares.

The plane in which Miss Earhart and her navigator, Capt. Fred Noonan, were flying from Lae, New Guinea, to Howland Island on the longest leg of their projected round the world flight, was amply supplied with flares. The Itasca sent out a radio message to Miss Earhart: "We can see your flares and are coming toward you."

BULLETIN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HONOLULU, July 6.—(Tuesday.)—The coast guard reported early today that the cutter Itasca had reached the point 281 miles north of Howland Island, where Amelia Earhart and Capt. Fred Noonan are reported down in their globe girdling plane. The cutter began searching the surrounding ocean. The navy mine sweeper Swan also was but a short distance from the scene.

HONOLULU, July 5.—(AP)—Ragged radio signals sent an armada of rescue ships toward a mystery spot 281 miles north of Howland Island today in the hope that Amelia Earhart is alive and afloat in mid-Pacific.

The long-searching coast guard cutter Itasca intercepted the fresh yet cryptic message and put out at top speed for a position north of the tiny island target which Miss Earhart and her navigator missed Friday on an ocean spanning flight.

The British freighter Moorby was believed only 90 miles from the indicated objective and it altered its course to hurry in that direction. The navy minesweeper Swan likewise was proceeding under forced draft. The ship was within 200 miles of Howland Island at 9 a. m. [Chicago daylight saving time]. The 250 foot, gleaming white Itasca, a heavy smoke attesting its speed, was bettering 15 knots and expected to arrive at the position at 11:30 p. m. [Chicago time].

Operators Pick Up Messages.

Howland Island, a bare dot of land, was the goal of Miss Earhart and her navigator, Fred J. Noonan, on a 2,570 mile flight from Lae, New Guinea. Short of fuel, harassed by headwinds, they were cut down in their flight. Weak, garbled radio messages from the $80,000 plane did not give their position, nor tell whether the ship alighted in the tropic seas or reached the comparative safety of one of the numerous tiny coral atolls.

But today, at 7:12 a. m. [Chicago time] three radio operators at the Wailupe naval station heard a message they believed came from the globe-girdling plane. It was fragmentary; faint words between others that had been blotted out by static.

Piece Message Together.

The operators pieced it together to read:

"281 North Howland . . . call KHAQQ [the call letters of the Earhart plane] . . . . beyond north . . . . don't hold with us much longer. . . . above water. . . . shut off."

From this message came widely varying interpretations. A lieutenant of the Pearl Harbor naval base suggested it meant the plane was sinking; the coast guard said it might mean radio transmission from the ship was being "shut off" by failing batteries.

George Palmer Putnam, Miss Earhart's husband, said in Oakland, Cal., he believed the words "above water," indicated certainly the plane had landed on a reef, that the gasoline, required to turn the right motor to provide radio transmission, was being exhausted, and that his wife and Noonan were somewhere north of Howland. However, he suggested that search also be made 281 miles south of Howland and the coast guard at San Francisco broadcast the suggestion.

The coast guard here sent a message to Washington, D. C., that independent bearings appeared to agree with the garbled transmission from the plane that Miss Earhart and Noonan were approximately 281 miles north of Howland.

From San Diego, Cal., swinging down the great arc toward the tropic waters, the navy's fastest vessels hastened to the Howland Island area. The rescue fleet was led by the $40,000,000 airplane carrier Lexington, mothering 57 pursuit planes. Accompanying the carrier were the destroyers Drayton, Lamson, and Cushing.

From Honolulu the battleship Colorado, bearing three navy planes with great cruising range, was speeding southward.

Ration Drinking Water.

As the vessels draw near the search area, planes will leave the decks to take up their own pursuit. The Colorado also carries fuel and water supplies for the cutter Itasca, which is so short on both that drinking water has been rationed to the crew.

Previous efforts at getting a direction bearing from signals which may have come from the missing plane, placed it at widely separated points in the general search area. One Pan-American airways bearing indicated the transmission was coming from a point 400 miles northeast of Howland, far from any land.

At Los Angeles, Lieutenant Commander Clarence S. Williams, who plotted the Earhart course, suggested the search be made within a cone-shaped area, 300 miles wide at the base, extending westward from Howland.

Lindy Predicts Rescue.

At Paris, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was quoted as predicting Miss Earhart would be found. A reporter asked him: "Do you believe she is lost?" and his answer was "How should I know? Nevertheless, I should say 'no.'"

In support of a Pan-American Airways suggestion, based on bearings from the faint signals, that the plane may be in the Phoenix island group, the coast guard at San Francisco suggested the state department request British coöperation in an examination of uninhabited parts of the islands.

On every ship and in every shore station, a constant watch was kept for signals from the Earhart plane. The ceaseless vigil brought small reward in definite information, but endless rumors came from amateur listeners over half the world.

Freighter Hears Message.

Coast guard listeners said, however, that probability was lent the "281 North Howland" report by the fact that the freighter Moorby, itself north of Howland Island, reported at 6:30 a. m. [Chicago time], it had heard a strong continuous carrier wave on the Earhart frequency.

A message from the commanding officer of the aircraft carrier Lexington said the vessel expects to reach Lahaina roads, in the Hawaiian Islands at about 2 p. m. [Chicago time], July 8. She will refuel at that point, which is about 75 miles southeast of Honolulu, before proceeding to the Howland Island area. The Lexington was averaging 25 to 26 knots, virtually her top speed. The carrier likely would wait until she leaves Lahaina to release squadrons of her planes to aid in the hunt.

Adviser Hears Signals.

Paul Mantz, technical adviser to Miss Earhart when she was making her globe-circling flight plans, said three long dashes, as requested by the Pan-American station at Honolulu, had been heard by him early today in Los Angeles.

"We heard the dashes here," he said, "and this is the most hopeful sign yet."

Pan-American radio men estimated the Earhart ship might be in the vicinity of Gardner and McKean Islands in the Phoenix group, which is from 150 to 200 miles south of Howland Island.

Intercept Faint Replies.

Searchers reported they were heartened, also, by what appeared to be wirelessed replies to instructional broadcasts sent the missing flyers by station KGMB at Honolulu. The faint signals were intercepted by the navy, coast guard, and Pan-American stations at Honolulu, and by the coast guard at San Francisco.

The flyers were told to send a series of two long dashes if they were on the water, and a series of three long dashes if they were on land. Apparently in reply, on the 3105 kilocycle band assigned to the Earhart plane, came a number of high frequency whistles from a carrier wave, but most listeners could not be certain what the senders were trying to transmit. Mantz interpreted them as three long dashes.

"Help is on the way," he told her. "Signals have been heard."

Amelia's Messages Disclosed.

The last decipherable message receive from Miss Earhart's plane while it still was in the air, was at 8:44 a. m. Friday, Howland time [3:14 p. m. Chicago time]. The coast guard disclosed that this message said "we are on the line of position 157-337. We are now running north and south."

Forty-seven minutes earlier, Miss Earhart had radioed "we are circling but cannot see island; cannot hear you."

The coast guard service at Washington was told by the Itasca's commander that as the Earhart plane winged toward Howland on the flight from Lae, the flyers neither acknowledged nor complied with repeated instructions from the Itasca to transmit on 500 kilocycles.

The Itasca explained to them that it was essential they use the 500 kilocycles band in order that the cutter's direction finder could function. The finder could not cut in on the higher frequencies.

Later, the Itasca said, "a high frequency direction finder was set up on Howland island," and the coast guard manned it throughout Friday night, "but never was able to secure bearings due to Miss Earhart's very brief transmission and her use of voice."

The message that Miss Earhart and Noonan were "running north and south," followed by about an hour a transmission from the plane saying: "We must be on you but cannot see you. Gas is running low. Have been unable to reach you by radio. We are flying at 1,000 feet." One hour and 45 minutes earlier the Earhart plane had signaled: "About 100 miles out."

Ships last night raced for a mystery spot in the Pacific 281 miles north of Howland Island in hopes of rescuing Amelia Earhart and her navigator, Fred J. Noonan. Search for the missing aviatrix was concentrated in that area upon receipt of garbled radio message supposed to have been sent by Miss Earhart.

Tokio Appeals to Japanese Vessels to Hunt Amelia

TOKIO, July 6.—[Tuesday.]—(AP)—The Japanese government today radioed an appeal to all Japanese vessels in the South sea region of the Pacific to join United States naval vessels in search for Amelia Earhart. Professional and amateur radio operators throughout Japan kept constant vigil for a signal from the missing flyer, believing that she may be marooned on one of the Phoenix group of islands south of Howland Island.

URGES COLLEGES TO PREPARE THEIR STUDENTS TO WED

Chapel Hill, N. C., July 5.—[Special.]—Courses designed to prepare young people for marriage will soon be offered in almost every college in the country and eventually they will be given in the high schools, Dr. Ernest R. Groves, University of North Carolina sociologist, a distinguished authority on problems of marriage and family life, predicted here today.

Dr. Groves spoke at the opening session of the annual conference on conservation of marriage and the family being held at the University of North Carolina. He is directing the conference.

Seventeen years ago Dr. Groves, then at Boston university, introduced into the college curriculum a course on family problems, and since then similar courses have been adopted by colleges all over the country until today more than 600 such courses are being given.

PICCARD TO TEST STRATOSPHERE CRAFT IN 10 DAYS

Rochester, Minn., July 5.—(AP)—Dr. Jean Piccard, stratosphere explorer, declared today he was ready to test his strange craft of 80 small rubber balloons. Weather permitting, he will take off within the next ten days to learn how the 4-foot balloons, filled with hydrogen, behave in the air.

Tests at the University of Minnesota, where Piccard is connected with the aeronautical engineering department, show clusters of small balloons have greater lifting power in proportion to their weight than a single bag, he said.

Piccard expects to reach 2,000 or 3,000 feet in his attempt here. If the flight is successful he will construct a craft of 2,000 rubber balloons for an attack on the rarified air.

Friction set up by the bouncing balloons and tangled strings is his greatest worry. The thin latex balloons may "burn" through from rubbing and send him plummeting to the ground in his open gondola.

DE VALERA FACES PECK OF TROUBLE DESPITE VICTORY

Must Rely on His Foes to Help Form Regime.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, July 5.—As the results in Ireland's most important general election since the formation of the Irish Free State continued to flow in, it became apparent that once again Irish politics had provided the world with a fresh paradox.

The Fianna Fail party of President Eamon de Valera was in top place in the voting. His followers had gained 64 seats of the 138 in the new dail eireann [parliament] and observers predict the party ultimately will win five more. Should his party gain this total of 69, De Valera still could form a government, but he would need help from another party or parties. The United Ireland party of former President William T. Cosgrave, now has 44 seats—Labor 11 and indpendents 8. Eleven constituencies remain to be heard from.

Vote for New Charter Close.

Despite the practical assurance that Irish voters have given governmental control back to De Valera, they came near to refusing to give him his new constitution, which he had made his election issue and which he said he would rather see approved than be elected himself.

The new constitution, which is designed to cut all ties with Great Britain, has received 514,080 affirmative votes to 404,661 against it.

Fianna Fail party leaders were dismayed that the majority was only 109,419. It seems that the women, the Laborites, and the left Republicans did it.

The women believed the new constitution in some way was a discrimmination against their sex. It states that a woman's place is in the home. This apparently made Irish women think they were not getting an even break in working and other privileges.

De Valera Faces Trouble.

The Laborites and left Republicans voted against the new document as a party matter and because they did not think it went far enough.

The new constitution will provide plenty of trouble for De Valera in months to come. It will be more difficult for him to put through the implementing legislation that will be required than if he had been able to roll up a big vote in its favor.

Legislation will be required by the new dail to set up a second chamber, or senate, in the parliament, as provided in the new constitution. An act also will be necessary to give provision for a referendum and also for the election of a new president. Some believed that with the great mass of work ahead, De Valera might summon the dail to sit through August.

Cosgrave May Quit Seat.

Further speculation was on what Cosgrave will do. Cosgrave may resign his seat and hand over the task of leading the opposition party to James Dillon, his young lieutenant and son of John Dillon, former famous Irish leader.

Cosgrave's health has not been good, and his decision, it is said, also would be conditioned by the defeat in the elections of Gen. Richard Mulcahy, Cosgrave's right hand man in the dail, and like Cosgrave, one of the founders of the Irish Free State.

One of De Valera's first endeavors after he forms a new government will be to seek improvement in relations with England. In approaching this problem he will try to use his new constitution, which has cut the hawser between Ireland and England, on paper at least, as a bargaining basis for a new financial arrangement.

This, apart from speeding up commercial exchange, would provide a more effective means of defense, for which De Valera, despite having made Ireland a de facto republic, must still depend on the British.

SCOTS SEE THEIR QUEEN, 'A BONNIE LASS,' AND KING

Pay Honor to Rulers on Post-Coronation Visit.

EDINBURGH, Scotland, July 5.—(AP)—The keys of this ancient capital of Scotland were presented its new sovereigns today as King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain arrived for a post-coronation visit through their northern realm.

Princesses Elizabeth, heir presumptive to the throne, and Margaret Rose accompanied their parents as they rode in an open carriage down stately Princes' street between cheering throngs. The royal salute of twenty-one guns roared from Edinburgh castle on its crag above the city.

Sergeant Thinks Queen O. K.

For the queen, daughter of a Scottish earl, it was a triumphal homecoming. As she walked with the king to review ex-service men Ex-Sergt. George Alexander, 84 years old, greeted her in the burr of the Highlands.

"You're a bonnie lassie," he said. "I wish I'd courted you myself." The queen stopped and talked with him about Aberdeen, his home.

The royal party took up residence in Holyrood palace, where they will be at home until Sunday. Then they will travel south through Glasgow and other Scottish cities en route to Wales to make a similar visit.

The lord provost, Louis Gumley, tendered the city's keys to King George on a red satin cushion and welcomed the new monarch to his "ancient and hereditary kingdom of Scotland."

King Trusts Keys to Official.

The king returned the keys, assuring the lord provost he entrusted them to his keeping. There was a similar ceremony at Holyrood palace, where the keys of that historic royal residence were handed the king by a representative of the duke of Hamilton, hereditary keeper.

The royal procession down Princes' street was led by the duke of Atholl at the head of a troop of Scottish horse on shaggy Highland ponies. The men wore the same khaki uniforms, slouch hats, and black cocks' feathers last worn during the 1903 post-coronation visit of King Edward VII. Mounted Royal Scots Grays rode before and behind the sovereigns' carriage.

The king was in the dress uniform of admiral of the fleet. The queen wore forget-me-not blue and the princesses strawberry pink coats.

EIGHT PLUNGERS IN POKER GAME WIND UP UNHURT

A nice sociable eight handed poker game was in progress last night on the rear porch of Albert Benedict's second floor flat at 723 Forest avenue, Oak Park. Between hands Mr. Benedict would tap a keg of beer for refreshment.

Without a warning there came a rending of timbers. The porch collapsed, sliding the eight startled poker players twenty feet to the ground and covering them with a cascade of poker chips and beer.

None of the players or two babies belonging to Benedict and Lester La Bree, 918 South Kenilworth avenue, incurred more than a scratch or bruise. But George Bramhall, owner of the building, wailed aloud. He was holding three aces and two kings.

Leave Newfoundland and Ireland on Flights.

ampton Thursday and the Caledonia at Port Washington Friday.

Pan-American may, on the return trip, explore the southern route by way of the Azores and Bermuda. The American company has alternate landing facilities at Charleston, S. C., and Baltimore.

With Capt. Gray were First Officer William S. De Lima, Second Officer William Masland, Engineering Officer C. D. Wright, Assistant Engineering Officer E. Walter Smith, Radio Officer T. J. Roberts, and Ship's Clerk William Thaler. The ship carried 2,300 gallons of gasoline and the Caledonia 2,320 gallons.

Have Same Cruising Speed.

The two flying boats have approximately the same cruising speed. The Caledonia was built by Short Brothers. The Clipper is a Sikorsky and its engines have a total of 3,200 horse power. The two flight commanders are each veterans of more than a million miles of flying.

Masland, of the Clipper crew, is a veteran of eight crossings of the Pacific, and Wright has fifteen Pacific crossings to his credit.

At the start of the flight the Clipper had the advantage of a tail wind of about 21 miles an hour and cruised at an air speed of 165.5 miles an hour. The Caledonia flew at a speed of about 125 miles an hour. The British ship had to fly lower and overcome the same winds which aided the American flying boat.

Others Survey Routes.

In addition to the United States and Great Britain, France and Germany have announced survey flights across the Atlantic for this year, the former with the six engined flying boat, Lieutenant de Voisseau Paris, and the latter with two catapult seaplanes, Nordmeer and Nordwind. The German company, Lufthansa, conducted flights last year by way of the Azores.

The South Atlantic is being flown regularly with mail and cargo, but without passengers. Regular service is maintained between the United States and the orient with flying boats. Until the destruction of the airship Hindenburg Germany maintained an air route over the North Atlantic during the spring, summer, and early fall months.

FLYER CRASHES PLANE TO AVERT SMASH IN MIDAIR

To avoid colliding in mid-air with two men in a heavier plane which had just taken off, John B. Anderson, 27 years old, an amateur pilot, deliberately pancaked his light monoplane yesterday evening at the Pal-Waukee airport, in Wheeling. He escaped with a bruised wrist and a torn shirt.

Returning from Danville, Anderson, who lives at 1260 North Dearborn street, saw a biplane about to leave the runway. He circled the field at an altitude of 100 feet, according to William Turgeon, an instructor. Then, as the biplane took the air and started aloft, Turgeon said Anderson apparently thought the two ships would crash.

Anderson kicked over the rudder, stalling his engine, Turgeon declared. The little Taylor-Cub plane swung about and plopped down, breaking the landing gear and propeller. The men in the other ship continued on their way, unaware of his daring deed. Anderson, who has been flying only two months, obtained his pilot's license a week ago.

PLANE RACES FOR YUKON TO BLAZE NEW AIR TRAIL

ABOARD EDMONTON-YUKON PLANE [via Radio to Edmonton, Alta.], July 5.—(AP)—This pontooned monoplane, trail blazing a new air mail and passenger route 1,200 miles from Edmonton to Whitehouse, Yukon territory, turned westward up the Laird pass in northern British Columbia today in a dawn to dusk flight.

Sponsors said the new route will, within a year, bring San Francisco and Chicago within twelve hours of Alaska. They said Canadian air services, operating between Alaska or the Yukon territory and Montana, will carry free all mail originating in the United States or Alaska and consigned to the other.

As the plane flew west and north over virtually uncharted country and among snow capped peaks passengers and crew of the United Air Transport plane kept watch for J. O. Phillips, St. Louis, Mo., business man, en route from Edmonton in his plane on a pleasure jaunt to Whitehorse alone.

DEMAND DEATH FOR CONFESSED STRANGLER OF 3

Wife, Held for Her Safety, Still Has Faith.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 5.—[Special.]—A demand for the death of Albert Dyer, confessed strangler of three little girls June 26 in the hills west of the city, was voiced today by District Attorney Buron Fitts. The slayer, worn by thirty-six hours of grilling which brought his confession last night, paced his cell nervously near by. Occasionally he screamed in fear.

The prosecutor said three murder charges would be filed against Dyer, one each for the killing of Madeline Everett, 7 years old; her sister Melba, 8, and their playmate, Jeanette Stephens, 9.

Dyer, a WPA employé placed to guard a street crossing near Centinela Park in Inglewood, broke last night when police threatened to take him to Inglewood, where citizens milled angrily about the police station last week during the questioning of suspects.

Wife Disbelieves Admission.

Although Dyer confessed the deed in full, declaring that a sex craving was his only motive, his wife, when informed, raced to his side in the county jail and declared:

"He never did it!"

Dyer said he played with the three children in the park on the morning of their deaths and persuaded them to meet him in the Baldwin hills, which lie north of the suburb, to hunt rabbits.

The killer then related how he watched for the children, who "were dressed in bright colored clothes and looked fresh and nice," how he met them in the canyon and took them one by one out of the sight of the others and strangled them.

Goes Home to Dinner.

His clothing stained with blood, Dyer said, he hurried home and changed, then calmly ate a "good supper."

Although other witnesses turned up during the day to add circumstantial bits of evidence to Dyer's confession, authorities still were checking the possibility that another person may have been involved.

Alienists began examinations to determine if Dyer may not have made the confession for a morbid thrill.

Merle Everett, father of two of the victims, said he did not believe Dyer's story. He said he did not think the children could have walked from the park to the scene of their death, about five miles. He held that some one took them there in an automobile.

George T. Ray, a medical clinic employé, today laid claim to rewards totaling $5,000 for capture of the slayer. Police said, however, that an unnamed 12 year old Mexican boy probably would receive the major share of the money for an earlier identification of Dyer.

Wife Shot by Husband Who Killed Self Dies

Mrs. Helen Sekula, 44 years old, 1507 Superior street, died yesterday in the County hospital of a bullet wound inflicted by her husband, John, 58 years old, Sunday night just before he shot and killed himself. The double shooting occurred after a quarrel at 1813 Superior street, where Mrs. Sekula was visiting relatives. The couple had been estranged.

GERMANY RULES ARMY GETS FIRST CHOICE OF GRAIN

Calls for 10 to 20 Pct. of Rye Harvest.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 5.—Nazi agricultural authorities ruled today that all persons and offices buying rye from farmers must offer to the army every month a minimum of 10 to 20 per cent of the grain they purchase.

This is to make sure that the German army obtains from home producers the rye it needs for the famous dark bread, "kommiszbrot"—regimental bread—its soldiers eat. It is also to insure a supply of oats for horses.

Provide Purchase Periods.

Under the ruling, 10 per cent of the purchased grain must be offered between July and September, 15 per cent until December and 20 per cent from January to March. Buyers of oats and fodder to be mixed with oats must offer 50 per cent of what they have bought to the army. If the army fails to buy all they offer, they may sell it to special offices controlling grain for the Nazi government.

Preparations of the agricultural office to control grain and other farm produce are more thorough this year than ever before. The regulations extend to all grain, legumes, fodder and buckwheat.

Horses Get Regular Fare.

In view of a shortage of oats the agricultural office suggested the army cut down the oats rations of its horses from six kilograms [13.2276 pounds] to five daily. The army protested most vigorously and the horses continue to enjoy their regular fare, undiluted by "ersatz" [substitutes].

Meat bones, which children have been bringing to school to turn in for industrial purposes, are to be collected by mothers during vacation period. They will be dried in the sun and the children will take them to school when it reopens in August, according to instructions issued through German newspapers.

8 DEFENDANTS FACE ARRAIGNMENT TODAY IN SCOTTSBORO CASE

Decatur, Ala., July 5.—(AP)—Eight Negroes will be arraigned in Circuit court here tomorrow to begin a new episode in the 6 year old legal drama known to millions as the "Scottsboro case."

Announcement by the prosecutor that the state was prepared to try all the defendants followed denial of compromise reports.

Judge W. W. Callahan, trial judge, said he knew "nothing of any compromise." Melvin Hutson, the solicitor, intimated all the Negroes will be tried after the hearing tomorrow.

Charged with raping Mrs. Victoria Price and Ruby Bates aboard a freight train March 25, 1931, the Negroes have been in jail since the date as their attorneys battled to save them from the electric chair.

The ninth defendant, Heywood Patterson, is under a 75 year sentence, expected to be appealed to the United States Supreme court, which has set aside two previous death verdicts in the case.

HITLER WARSHIPS QUIT WAR ZONE, BRITAIN LEARNS

Nazis No Longer Peril Valencia Coast.

LONDON, July 5.—(AP)—All German warships have left the Mediterranean, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the house of commons today as the government presented a review of the Spanish situation to that body.

British hopes of an early compromise to restore all European coöperation to isolate the Spanish war rose as reports from other capitals indicated greater readiness to make concessions.

The presence of German warships in Spanish waters has been a danger source in the tense European situation. Two recent crises sprang from the Deutschland bombing of May 29 and the alleged attempts to torpedo the cruiser Leipzig.

Caution British Shipping.

Eden told the house the Italian and German withdrawal from the four-power naval patrol after the Leipzig "incident" had left Spain's eastern coast, held by the loyalists, wide open. The little portion of the northern coast still held by the government, however, was closely blockaded by the rebel navy. Eden later gave the cabinet meeting a report on the Spanish situation.

The board of trade warned British shipping that rebel warships were trying to capture all shipping in the vicinity of Santander. British warships, the board said, will protect British merchantmen only outside the three mile limit.

Hope to Break Deadlock.

Informed sources asserted government leaders hoped for an early break in the nonintervention deadlock, in which Britain and France, favoring effective restoration of the four-power naval patrol, are opposed by Italy and Germany, proposing that the patrol be dropped and both Spanish factions be accorded the status of belligerents. Britain and France were ready to use their own naval ships to replace those Italy and Germany which were withdrawn from the patrol two weeks ago.

Nearly all principal European capitals were said to show signs of readiness to give ground to reach a fresh basis for agreement. Britain, known for realistic approach to foreign affairs, was said to be weighing carefully certain known factors. First, was a realization that the Fascist powers, having recognized fully the Spanish rebel junta, will not accept what they call a "bolshevist conquest" of Spain—a complete government victory.

Will Resume Ore Shipments.

Second, was the recent success of the armies in the northern Spanish littoral, where important British economic interests lie. Much British capital is invested in mines around conquered Bilbao and one-third of their output formerly went to Britain.

Financial quarters heard today that Gen. Francisco Franco, the rebel leader, had given verbal approval to resumption of iron ore shipments to Britain from the Orconera properties, largest British-owned company in the Bilbao region. Before Bilbao fell the rebel blockade hampered such shipments and hurt the Welsh coal trade with northern Spain.

Another point in British leaders' minds, it was said, was that the area around Gibraltar was in Franco's hands and could be used as a base for operations against that historic British stronghold by a nation favored by Franco.

Seek Release of Captive Ship.

PARIS, July 5.—(AP)—Foreign officials said tonight they expected prompt release of the French freighter Tregastel, captured by Spanish rebels off the northern coast of Spain yesterday.

They indicated hopes the incident would be settled speedily without further complicating the unfriendly relations between France and the rebels.

The French sloop Vauquois, which sped yesterday to the Bilbao-Santander coast to investigate the seizure of the Tregastel, returned to Bayonne. The submarine chaser CH-2, on the same mission, was understood to have returned.

Officials said the inquiry had shown the freighter, chartered by a French committee to aid the Spanish government, had been traveling in ballast and carrying a neutral observer. Neither refugees nor war supplies were aboard. She was taken within Spanish territorial waters, where, French officials admitted, the rebels had a right to stop her. Latest reports indicated she was held at Bilbao, now in rebel hands.

22 More Russians Executed as Spies in Hire of Japan

MOSCOW, July 5.—(AP)—Twenty-two more employés of the soviet far eastern railways have been executed as "agents of the Japanese intelligence service, spies, and diversionists, Khabarovsk press advices reported tonight. The executions took place at Vladivostok. A total of 210 known executions now have taken place in soviet Russia's spy hunt, 153 of them in the far east.

SETS AIR RECORD

[Acme Photo.]

Norman B. Doerr and his midget monoplane with which he set refueling endurance record yesterday.

Norman B. Doerr set a solo refueling endurance record for light airplanes yesterday at Sky Harbor airport, west of Northbrook, remaining aloft 24 hours and 2 minutes, breaking the record of 19 hours and 57 minutes held by Miss Evelyn Hudson of Osnord, Calif.

Doerr, a flying instructor, set his midget monoplane down on the runway at 9:04 o'clock last night. The 19 refueling feats Doerr and his assistant, William Kneubueler, accomplished, gave the throng at the airport cold chills.

Kneubueler was strapped to the front fender of an automobile going down the runway 65 miles an hour. In his hands he held a canvas bag with a large ring, containing the fuel tin. Doerr flew 15 feet above, dropped a wire hook, snared the ring, and drew the canvas bag aloft.

Germany Starts Work on Third Cadet Training Ship

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 5.—The German navy is building its third cadet training ship in three years, Admiral Albrecht, commander in the North sea, announced today. The rapidly growing German navy needs a greatly increased officer corps. Like its predecessors, the Horst Wessel and the Gorch Fock, the new ship will be a sailing vessel.

Watch for Oil Well to Gush; Blast Kills Three

REBEL BOMBERS FLEE AFTER RAID NEAR VALENCIA

Routed by Anti-Aircraft Guns' Heavy Fire.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VALENCIA, Spain, July 5.—Six trimotored rebel planes killed three civilians and wounded fifteen in the latest dawn raid on an outlying district here today. Fifty-six bombs were dropped. Heavy fire from ground batteries kept the planes away from the city proper. One of the raiders, it was said, had been hit, but managed to escape.

The planes had approached along the coast after a 150 mile hop from the Island of Mallorca. The raiders flew in three pairs, heading for the city from three directions.

The technique of night raiding that has become more or less commonplace here is virtually dictated by geographical conditions, and as a result there is little chance of any real surprise now that the anti-craft defenses are in order.

Fly to South of Valencia.

From Mallorca the rebel aviators strike across the Island of Ibiza, taking a line to the mainland south of Valencia. After that it is a question of following the coast northward. An attempt to fly to Valencia directly from Mallorca would mean that if carried off their course the planes might not be able to get their bearings upon reaching the coast.

The time of the raids also is more or less variable. To attack in daylight would invite attack by loyalist pursuit planes.

Loyalist planes did their share of bombing today. It was announced tonight they bombed rebel troop concentrations on all sides of Madrid. North of Cordoba their planes set fire to an artillery ammunition dump, it was reported.

Claim Franco Calls for Help.

PARIS, July 6.—[Tuesday.]—(AP)—The Spanish government news agency, Agence Espagne, issued today a purported memorandum from rebel generalissimo Francisco Franco to Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini, asking for more assistance to carry on the Spanish civil war.

The agency said Franco asked the German and Italian leaders for "125,000 more men, 500 airplanes, 50 artillery batteries, and a considerable number of tanks."

[Both Germany and Italy have recognized the Franco administration and large numbers of Germans and Italians have been fighting with the rebel forces.]

Loses Heavily at Bilbao.

The agency's report of the alleged memorandum said:

The rebel chief told Hitler and Mussolini he had lost 20,000 men and 20 per cent of his war materials during the successful campaign against Bilbao, Basque capital in northern Spain.

He was planning simultaneous offensives against Madrid and on the Teruel front, northwest of Valencia.

Agence Espagne added that Franco's message stated he had undertaken a "political campaign" aimed at obtaining recognition of his government abroad.

The general predicted he would gain recognition in several South American countries "after the fall of Santander," the northern rebel army's next goal now that Bilbao has fallen.

If he is unable to secure recognition Franco wants the next best thing: Classification as a belligerent. That would give the rebels the right, among other things, to halt foreign shipping off Spain.

PORTUGAL REVEALS ASSASSINS' CAREFUL PLAN TO KILL PREMIER

LISBON, July 5.—(AP)—Police disclosed tonight elaborate preparations had been made for yesterday's unsuccessful attempt to bomb Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, "strong man" of the Portuguese government. They continued a country-wide search for the bombers.

Police declared they were convinced foreigners took part in preparations for the bombing. They said material used to set o the bomb included an electric wire and a transformer of English manufacture and asserted "only professional bombers are capable of such organization."

The bomb had been placed under the grill of a covered gutter in front of the private chapel where it was known the premier usually attends Sunday mass. From there an electric cable ran along the gutter and around a corner to a point 300 yards away, where a button apparently was pressed at the moment the premier alighted from his car. The bomb exploded, however, in such a manner that Salazar was merely covered with dust.

APARTMENT LOOTED.

PORTO RICO TOLD TO "WORK HARD" FOR STATEHOOD

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, July 5.—(AP)—Gov. Blanton Winship told a holiday crowd today at San Juan that "Porto Rico has made great advances" toward the acquisition of statehood within the United States.

He reminded his hearers that many territories waited a long time before becoming states of the union, and said statehood can be obtained by the people of Porto Rico only "by thinking high, feeling deep, working hard."

Martinez Nadal, president of the senate, said unrest in the island was due to uncertainty of the political future but that the majority of Porto Ricans wanted statehood as opposed to the full independence demanded by the Nationalist party.

The unrest was in evidence in five attempts to destroy bridges, which did no serious damage, just before the Fourth of July celebration. It included a parade which took 82 minutes to pass the reviewing stand. Participants said it was the largest demonstration since Porto Rico began celebrating American Independence day in 1900.

UNABLE TO SLEEP HE TAKES WALK; KILLED BY AUTO

Auroran Upset by Noise of Firecrackers.

Unable to sleep yesterday morning because of the firecracker explosions, John Evans, 60 years old, went for a walk, was struck by an automobile, and died a few hours later in the St. Charles hospital in Aurora.

Mr. Evans, who lived with his son, Alfred, at 949 Fulton street, Aurora, was hit by a car driven by Walter Rowoldt, 23, 432 Bangs street, Aurora, when he was crossing an intersection a few blocks from his home.

Three young motorists were injured, two of them seriously, yesterday when a homemade, propellor driven automobile crashed into a ditch beside East 55th street, Hinsdale. The contrivance had been a feature of the annual Hinsdale Fourth of July parade.

Pulled from Burning Wreckage.

Fred Dodge, 21 years old, Ulm place, Hinsdale, owner and driver of the contraption, and John Bower, 9, of Clarendon Hills, a suburb of Hinsdale, were taken to the Hinsdale sanitarium suffering from internal injuries and burns. John Dodge, 14, a brother of Fred, was permitted to return to his home after receiving treatment at the sanitarium. Dennis H. Parkerson, a Chicago policeman, pulled Fred Dodge and Bower from the burning wreckage.

David May, 31 years old, 5519 Kenwood avenue, a professional parachute jumper, was seriously injured yesterday when his motorcycle was struck by an automobile at 57th and Dorchester streets.

Drives Auto Against Train.

Charles Wagenknecht, 71 years old, a retired city policeman, was injured yesterday, probably fatally, when he drove his automobile into the baggage car of the Twin Cities Flyer, a Chicago bound express of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, in Fox River Grove.

Wagenknecht, who lives in Grand View subdivision near the suburb, drove onto the tracks through a wigwag signal at the Main street crossing was flashing, according to State Highway Policeman William Gallagher.

Piece of Wreckage Hits Woman.

A piece of the wreckage from his car struck Mrs. C. Van Gedder, 7 West Campbell street, Arlington Heights, who was standing on the station platform. Wagenknecht was taken to the Sherman hospital in Elgin. Mrs. Van Gedder was given first aid by a physician.

The bodies of two youths who were killed when their car and a truck collided in the 7600 block in Archer avenue, Justice Park, early Monday morning were identified later in the day as those of Lloyd Goldsmith, 20 years old, of Cairo, and Elmer Charles Coch, 18, of Willow Springs.

Mrs. Antonio Raulli, 73 years old, 4219 Gladys avenue, died last night in Mercy hospital in Gary from injuries suffered when the car her son, Felice Fiorito Raulli, was driving collided head-on Saturday with another automobile on United States highway 12, east of Gary. Raulli, his wife, and two children and the two colored occupants of the car escaped with minor injuries.

Six Vacationists Hurt.

Six holiday motorists were injured yesterday in a collision of two cars at Dempster street and Greenwood avenue, east of Des Plaines. In one car were John Mooney, 37, and his wife, 27, of 822 Pine street, St. Louis, and William J. Tynan, 35, and his wife, 25, of 2000 Lincoln Park West. The Mooneys are staying at the Drake hotel.

In the other car were William Gross, 20; August Blenkle, 20, and Paul Bole, 19, all of Des Plaines. Police were told that Gross, driving north in Greenwood avenue, failed to stop at Dempster street. Both cars crashed and went into a ditch. Mrs. Mooney was not hurt.

From June 30, when the state legislature, because of a patronage feud, muffed its last opportunity to pass a drivers' license bill which has been effective in reducing motor deaths in other states, to 4 p. m. yesterday 10 persons were killed and 259 injured in trafic accidents in Chicago. Between Jan. 1 and 4 p. m. yesterday 527 persons had been killed in trafic accidents in Cook county, according to the coroner's office. Of these, 409 were killed in Chicago, where 10,863 were injured in the same period.

Strikes Pistol on Curb; Boy, 15, Shot Fatally

Burlington, N. J., July 5.—[Special.—Russell Morley, 15 years old, was wounded fatally with an automatic pistol last night when celebrating with his two companions. One of his friends, John Adams, 12, was carrying his father's gun, which had jammed. Young Morley struck the weapon on a curbstone and it discharged a bullet into his head. He died in an emergency hospital here an hour later.

CAB DRIVER SHOT IN TRAFIC FIGHT; HUNT HOODLUMS

Police squads last night were seeking four men who terrorized a group of Yellow cab company drivers after a trafic dispute, and fired at them with a shotgun wounding one driver in the face.

The injured man, Walter Nakicen, 23 years old, said the hoodlums accused him of cutting them off at 22d street and Wentworth avenue. When they threatened him, Nakicen said he ran to State street to get help from other cab drivers.

The hoodlums circled the block and returning saw the drivers standing on the corner. Without warning one of them fired a shotgun. All the drivers but Nakicen dropped to the street, escaping injury. He was taken to St. Luke's hospital.

Asks Rehearing on New Teacher Retirement Law

John E. Groves, retired Chicago school teacher, said yesterday that he has filed a petition with the Illinois Supreme court asking for a rehearing of the curt's recent decisin that the new compulsory retirement for Chicago teachers is constitutional. Groves was one of 241 teachers retired a year ago when the new law, reducing the compulsory retirement age from 70 to 65 years of age, went into effect.

FOUND DEAD IN SHACK.

Walter Synkolski, 58 years old, died of a heart attack yesterday in his shack near 68th street and Lawndale avenue, Lyons township. The body was found by Steven Bercek, sanitary department employé.

$10,000 IS GIVEN TO N. U. TRAFIC SAFETY SCHOOL

Dr. Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern university, announced yesterday a gift of $10,000 to expand the police training program of the university's Trafic Safety institute. The fund was received from the Kemper foundation for Trafic Police Training, represented by H. G. Kemper, vice president of the Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty company.

Last year the foundation expended $6,500 on the course, the first of its kind ever conducted. The larger grant this year will enable between 8 to 12 American policemen on active service to study at the institute during the academic year starting Oct. 18.

INJURED BY "DUD" SKYROCKET.

TWO WOMEN PAY ON MURDER DEBT IN PRISON TODAY

Mrs. Blanche Dunkel, 46 years old, and Mrs. Evelyn Smith, 48, sentenced in August, 1935, to 180 years in the penitentiary for the murder of Ervin Lang, will spend today in solitary confinement at the women's reformatory at Dwight. Judge Cornelius J. Harrington of the Criminal court ordered that they be so punished each anniversary of the cold-blooded murder of Ervin, Mrs. Dunkel's son-in-law.

Judge Harrington intended the punishment to be a constant and yearly reminder of their deed.

After breakfast with the other prisoners today the women will be taken to solitary confinement rooms in the Clara Barton cottage at the model prison.

Conductor Falls Trying to Board Car; Dies of Injuries

John A. Noonan, 67 years old, 6730 Cornell avenue, a veteran surface lines conductor, was injured fatally early yesterday when he attempted to board a moving Stony Island avenue street car at 68th street on his way to work at the Burnside car barn. He died in the Jackson Park hospital of a skull fracture.

The Protection of American Auto Insurance Travels with Them

■ Holiday motor trips are carefree trips when your car is insured with American Auto. For, wherever you may go—any place in the United States or Canada—the protection of your American Auto policy travels with you. Should accident strike in some small, out-of-the-way spot, American Auto aid comes immediately—sparing you inconvenience and delay. The service facilities of this Company are nation-wide, and no matter where you go you will always find an American Auto Claims Representative near at hand. Moreover, the deserving car owner can have this protection and service at lower premium cost.

The careful driver—the motorist whose car is used largely for private and family purposes—should not have to share the cost of insuring reckless and irresponsible drivers. For more than twenty-five years American Auto has made a practice of favoring those drivers who may be considered preferred risks.

As much as 25% lower premiums

American Auto therefore has fewer claims to pay, and is able to operate with greater economy. These savings are passed on to policyholders in the form of lower premium rates.

Before you buy or renew any automobile insurance, call your nearest American Auto Agent or Broker for full information about the important advantages he can offer you.

PROTECT YOUR INSURANCE INVESTMENT BY DEALING THROUGH ACCREDITED AGENTS OR BROKERS

Don't be misled by the suggestion that you can save in dealing direct with the kind of a company that has no local Agents. Buy only from an accredited Agent or Broker if you would invest in protection that really protects. The competent advice and personal services of your local Agent or Broker are invaluable safeguards to your best interests. He is able to prescribe insurance . . . Stock Insurance, of course, "tailored" to your particular needs. American Auto deals only through these accredited representatives, offering you unexcelled protection and service at fair, reasonable cost.

INQUIRY FACES DILEMMA OVER ROOSEVELT TAX

Fish Demands Publicity for Income Return.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 5.—[Special.]—The investigation of tax evasion and avoidance initiated by the President is scheduled to conclude this week with a decision by the inquisitors on Representative Hamilton Fish's demand for the disclosure of Mr. Roosevelt's income tax return.

Hamilton Fish.

Mr. Fish, a Republican congressman who represents the district in which the President's New York country estate is situated, charged that Mr. Roosevelt avails himself of a legal loophole to deduct from his income the expense of maintaining his country estate in the guise of the operating expenses of a farm. No less legal, according to the treasury department admissions, are the legal loopholes through which those pilloried by the investigationg committee have escaped payment of taxes.

Probably Mr. Roosevelt is in no danger of the disclosure of his income tax return by a committee overwhelmingly Democratic. Evidently, however, he deemed it the better part of valor to disarm criticism, if possible.

Raises Christmas Trees.

That was the evident purpose of the tour of his estate at Hyde Park by newspaper reporters he personally conducted yesterday on which he repeatedly stressed the claim that the property is devoted to the business venture of raising Christmas trees. Therefore, the expense of operating would be properly deductible from Mr. Roosevelt's gross income under the law.

Inferentially the President admits Congressman Fish's charges, but pleads the justification of the law, as do those who have been listed by the treasury as tax evaders by the investigating committee. Three years ago the President cited as an illustration of tax loopholes his own avoidance of taxes through depreciation allowances on an ancient barn.

So far it is a list of tax evaders handpicked by the treasury that has emerged from the investigation. Most of those cited are political opponents of Mr. Roosevelt. Senator Robert M. La Follette [Rad., Wis.], has challenged the committee to make public other cases so far suppressed. These presumably are the evasions of taxes by persons close to Mr. Roosevelt or otherwise high in favor with the administration.

Blames Error on Evaders.

The President blames tax evasion for the failure of income tax receipts this year to come up to expectation by half a billion dollars. Thus he seeks to pass to tax evaders the blame for his failure to achieve a balanced budget this fiscal year. The tax avoidance disclosed by the investigation is only an infinitesimal fraction of 500 millions.

The biggest loophole for tax avoidance is provided by tax exempt securities. There were 64 billion dollars of such securities outstanding on June 30, 1936.

Representative Robert L. Doughton [D., N. C.], chairman of the ways and means committee, says he will introduce an amendment to the constitution to enable the federal government to tax state and local securities and those governments to tax federal securities.

Senators Harry Byrd [D., Va.], and Augustine Lonergan [D., Conn.], within the last few days have won senate committee consideration of proposals to impose federal taxes on compensation paid to state and local officials and employés and on income from federal, state, and municipal securities.

Supreme Court Decision.

There is nothing in the constitution which expressly prohibits taxation by federal and state governments of the instrumentalities of the other. The Supreme court, however, has established through a long line of decisions that such taxation would infringe upon the constitutional doctrin of sovereignty of federal and state governments.

It is estimated that federal taxation of securities now exempt would bring in about half a billion dollars additional revenue a year.

Less revenue probably is involved in the exemptions granted public employés, although a tabulation issued by Editorial Research reports shows an annual federal service pay roll of $1,848,470,480 and a comparable pay roll for state and local employment of $3,483,756,000.

Charges of WPA Rackets in N. Y. Go to President

New York, July 5. — [Special.] — Charges of racketeering in the distribution and conduct of the WPA supervisory posts were sent to President Roosevelt today by Ralph M. Easley, chairman of the executive council of the National Civic federation. It was the fifth of a series of letters on alleged abuses in the federal relief program.

Project supervisors were described by Easley as "miniature czars," whose policy was governed by "their pocketbooks and their animal appetites." When general layoffs of WPA personnels are ordered some supervisors seize the opportunity to get rid of "the conscientious workers who live under the delusion that efficiency and honesty pay best on WPA," according to the letter.

"Workers who 'come across' and communist union members are safe, and they know it," Easley said.

Many Lack Experience.

Many WPA supervisors, the letter declared, have had no previous work or executive experience, have never qualified for relief, and perform their WPA duties in name only, leaving the actual work for "their friends and protégés on the project who are also paid by the federal government."

"Among the supervisory employés we have investigated we have found people who are driven daily to their WPA project office in private limousines operated by private chauffeurs; who own chains of apartment houses, either in their own or their wives' names, who have private jobs on the side; whose wives or other family members occupy appointive or civil service positions with the federal, state, or municipal governments; who are privately engaged in real estate, sales work, bookmaking, policy, and other commission occupations; who have bank accounts of considerable size or other income," Easley asserted.

Cites "Kickback Racket."

The President was told that "on numerous projects a very profitable kickback racket is in operation." Workers seeking pay increases are approached by "go-betweens or walking delegates" who guarantee the wage boost in return for payments of from $30 to $100, he asserted.

"In cases where workers approached by these racketeers file complaints with the administration," his letter added, "they find themselves called severely to task by the project supervisor for 'squealing' and are branded as trouble makers. This is usually followed by a good beating in the street for not having kept their mouths shut."

Under pressure from his supervisor the average relief worker is forced to part with about 25 per cent of his WPA pay, according to Easley.

West Virginia Pastor on Trial as Wife's Slayer

Beckley, W. Va., July 5.—(AP)—The Rev. Monta H. Ball, 38-year-old hill Methodist pastor, came before a jury composed mostly of farmers and miners today for trial on a charge of slaying his pretty second wife. Six farmers, four miners, a filling station operator and a finance company manager composed the jury. The trial started just four months after 29-year-old Mrs. Victory Gay Cooper Ball died of shotgun wounds in the parsonage at Rock Creek.

Coast Guardsmen Rescue 14 Adrift in Speed Boat

Coast guardsmen from the Central station yesterday went to the rescue of fourteen passengers in a speed boat which had motor trouble a mile east of Roosevelt road. The boat, piloted for hire by Lawrence Osmussen, was towed back to its landing at the south end of the yacht lagoon in Burnham park.

AFTER EFFECTS OF FALL FATAL.

Thomas Washo, 49 years old, died in the County hospital yesterday of pneumonia which followed injuries incurred on June 12 in a fall on the sidewalk at Racine avenue and 15th street.

Fish Charges Boat; Runs Sword Into Its Occupant

Block Island, R. I. July 5.—(AP)—Capt. Alfred Cyr narrowly escaped serious injury near here today when a swordfish charged a small boat he was in, ran its sword through the frail craft and wounded him in the chest. Capt. Cyr had taken to the small boat after the 200 pound fish, harpooned a short time before. He got the fish.

PRESIDENT JOINS IN INDEPENDENCE FETE AT CHURCH

Visits Little Hamlet on Woman's Plea.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Mount Marion, N. Y., July 5.—[Special.]—In a simple political sermon beside a white clapboard church erected 100 years ago President Roosevelt told residents of this hamlet that there is no danger of a change in the American form of government.

"What I hope is that the newer generation, like the older generation, will realize that in meeting new conditions we are not changing the fundamentals of the American form of government," he said.

"We are always going to keep our feet on the ground in the future as a nation just as we have in the past."

Compares European Rulers.

His confidence in the American future was set in contrast to unsettled conditions in dictator ruled Europe. To drive home his point the President pointed out that where government heads abroad never move except under guard of a forest of bayonets, he goes about almost as freely as the citizenry.

"You can multiply that example of the difference between the American form of living and what it is in Europe a thousand times," he said. "That is why I say I am very confident of the future of this country as long as we maintain the democracy of our manners and the democracy of our hearts."

Mr. Roosevelt made his speech seated on the tonneau of his car beside a smaller speaker's stand on the lawn of the Dutch Reformed church, erected in 1834. Thronged on the lawn were residents of this once pioneer community—the men largely in shirt sleeves and the women in summer prints.

Accepts Woman's Invitation.

The President said he was participating in the Independence day exercises of the community because of a letter received last February. The letter was written by Mrs. Warren Myer, president of the Ladies' Aid society, who blushed on the platform.

Two paragraphs of the letter induced him to attend the community celebration, the President said. One said that the simple meeting might give relaxation from the weary official grind and in the other Mrs. Myer said she came of a pioneer family of seven generationes who have tilled the same acres they wrested from the wilderness for 227 years and gave eighteen sons to the revolution.

The President left by special train at 11 p. m. for Washington. Secretary Morgenthau, who has been spending a few days at his home near Fishkill, also boarded the train here for the return trip.

LEADERS TO BRING UP HIGH COURT PACKING BILL IN SENATE TODAY

Washington, D. C., July 5.—[Special.]—Administration leaders plan to bring their compromise bill on Supreme court packing to the senate floor tomorrow and keep it there until the fight is won or lost. Senator Logan, who will lead the fight on behalf of the compromise proposal, which is to be offered as an amendment to the original administration measure unfavorably reported by the senate judiciary committee, worked throughout the day polishing plans by which he hopes to obtain a final vote within two weeks.

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

OLD ADVICE

By CALEB

ONE thing there is that does not change much with time. That is good advice.

Daniel Defoe — that writing juggernaut of old, best known for Robinson Crusoe and Moll Flanders—was a great giver of advice.

In 1726 there was published his book, "The Complete English Tradesman," showing that the writer of fiction need not confine himself forever to that department of literature.

Defoe may never have been a shopkeeper. But if he were on earth today, many a department store might profitably employ him.

Here is a typical excerpt from the "English Tradesman":

"Nothing can give a greater prospect of thriving to a young tradesman, than his own diligence; it fills himself with hope, and gives him credit to all that knows him; without application nothing in this world goes forward as it should do; let the man have the most perfect knowledge of his trade, and the best situation for his shop, yet without application nothing will go on. . . .

"Such a shop, says the customers, stands well, and there is a good stock of goods in it, but there's no body to serve, but a prentice-boy or two, and an idle journeyman; one finds them always at play together rather than looking out for customers; and when you come to buy they look as if they did not care whether they shew'd you any thing or no. One never sees a master in the shop if we go twenty times, nor any thing that bears the face of authority. . . ."

Presumably, down through the years, every good merchant has conscientiously applied himself to the task of seeing that customers were "looked out for." And yet down through the years there is no question that employes from time to time have given customers the impression that they "did not care" whether they showed anything or not. Good advice changes but little because human nature changes but little.

Today, every one with advice to be given, if he is conscientious, gives the same advice Daniel Defoe gave merchants, lo those many years ago. "Be diligent. . . . Without application, nothing goes forward as it should . . . if you do not apply yourself, you will not progress."

List of Casualties Doubles Figure for 1936.

New York Toll, 845

A total of 389 cases of fireworks burns and injuries were treated in New York hospitals yesterday. With the 456 reported on Sunday, the toll of the celebration there was 845, higher than last year's 838, but still below the 2,640 in 1935. St. Louis reported more than 100 fireworks injury cases.

Chicago surveyed its Fourth of July casualties from firecrackers and other explosives last night, and while rejoicing that no fatalities had resulted, could not say it had been the safe and sane Fourth that was expected. One hundred and forty-six persons, mostly children, in the city and suburbs, were injured by firecrackers during the three day holiday.

This was more than double last year's total of sixty-one. Last year, however, there was one death. Chicago, with most of the nation, escaped firecracker fatalities this year. Only two were reported in the entire country last night. A girl 8 years old died in Woonsocket, R. I., and a girl 9 years old in Baltimore, Md.

85 Injured in Day.

In Chicago, 85 persons were injured yesterday, more than on both Saturday and Sunday, when 61 were injured. One of those most seriously hurt was Raymond Kanter, 7 years old, whose eyes were burned by a rocket Sunday night in Wick's park, west of Wauconda in Lake county.

Chicago police who tried conscientiously to make the holiday safe by arresting fireworks venders and others asserted last night that their fight is not over. They said they were handicapped by outside communities which do not ban fireworks sales. Capt. John Prendergast, head of the uniformed police, said that every one injured by firecrackers would be interviewed with the purpose of learning where fireworks were purchased.

"We cannot control areas in the county which refuse to coöperate in a safe and sane Fourth," said Capt. Prendergast, "but we can and intend to hunt out every local seller who violated the city ordinances against the sale of fireworks."

Reduction in Fatalities.

Year by year, since 1899 when THE TRIBUNE began a nation-wide campaign to make the Fourth safe and sane, there has been a noticeable reduction, especially in Chicago, in fireworks fatalities and also casualties. The Fourth just ended appeared, strangely, to show a change.

This year, as in previous years, police and press began their safety campaign early. Schools aided as heretofore. While the casualties were more numerous than last year, the Fourth, police said, was less noisy than usual. This would indicate, they said, that the quantity of fireworks used had diminished.

The move for a safe and sane Fourth inaugurated by THE TRIBUNE in 1899 followed the printing of the tabulation of the many dead and injured in celebrations that year.

VICTIMS OF FIREWORKS IN CHICAGOLAND

One hundred and forty-six persons, most of them children, were injured by fireworks in Chicago and suburbs over the week-end holiday. Sixty-one were hurt Saturday and Sunday and eighty-five yesterday. Those hurt yesterday and twelve injured Saturday and Sunday, but not reported until yesterday, were:

THOMAS
RE-GROWS HAIR

IT IS possible to re-grow hair on thin and bald spots where the hair-loss has been caused by one or more of the 14 local scalp ills which come within the scope of Thomas treatment. The above photographs show how hair was completely re-grown for Thomas client Joseph Pilla in less than 6 months. Almost 90% of all cases of hair-loss come within the scope of Thomas technique. If your case seems hopeless, you will be frankly told when you come in for a scalp examination.

You owe it to yourself to learn what can be done to save your hair — to prevent baldness — or to re-grow hair. Call today for a complete scalp examination. The examination will be given privately without charge or obligation. Learn for yourself just how The Thomas' end dandruff, stop abnormal hair-loss, and re-grow hair on thin and bald spots.

IT'S SWELL TO FEEL SWELL!

To guard your health demand Fresh cigarettes

Copyright, 1937, by P. Lorillard Co., Inc.

They BOTH Feel Swell . . . Young Miss Mary Perry of Cleveland, Ohio, old Mr. W. C. Perry of Indianapolis, Indiana, granddaughter and grandfather. Both delight in FRESH Old Golds. Both say, "It's swell to feel swell! O. G.'s are easier on throat and nerves!"

"MIGHT jes' as well smoke a parcel o' hay!" Grandpa used to grumble, whenever I lit up a cigarette.

But he quit being pernickety, the minute he tried one of my Old Golds. "I got to admit," he confessed, "this here cigarette is fresh an' tasty as berries an' cream! Fact is . . . I like it!"

So will you! . . . Old Golds are tasty because the prize crop tobaccos, blended in them, give these cigarettes an appealing double-mellow flavor all their own! And Old Golds are fresh, because every bit of their rich flavor and fragrance is guarded from dryness, dust, and dampness, by an exclusive double Cellophane package. Protected by an EXTRA jacket of moisture-proof Cellophane, two jackets instead of one . . . Old Golds remain delightfully and healthfully FRESH despite the most trying July weather.

IT'S THE EXTRA JACKET! Every pack of Double-Mellow OLD GOLDS is wrapped in TWO jackets—double Cellophane. That extra jacket keeps OLD GOLDS in prime condition in any climate. You can't buy a stale OLD GOLD.

CHICAGO PACKS ROADS, PARKS AS HOLIDAY ENDS

Throngs Brought Out by Good Weather.

Chicagoans were ready for work today after enjoying one of the finest and sanest Fourth of July holidays in many years. Good weather—barring the Sunday shower—good roads, good parks, and plenty of worthwhile amusements helped to make the long holiday something of a record.

The holiday was marred only by an increase in trafic and the drowning toll. Throughout the nation 289 persons were killed in motor accidents, 110 were drowned, three deaths were attributed to fireworks, and 94 died from miscellaneous causes. The Chicago area contribution was five drownings and five motor fatalities.

350,000 Cars Out.

Highway experts estimated that 350,000 cars were out. The four lane approaches to the city again demonstrated their admitted superiority over the antiquated two lane roads. These latter highways for miles were solidly covered with snail-like cars in bumper to bumper formation.

Chicagoans who did not go out of town enjoyed themselves in parks, at beaches, at ball games, and other places. Standing room was pretty much the rule. It was difficult to walk more than 20 feet in Lincoln park without stumbling over some one. Officials estimated that 150,000 persons visited the parks.

The Chicago Zoölogical park at Brookfield attracted 45,000 visitors, according to Assistant Director Robert Bean. And all the beaches were packed, with the improved Oak street beach leading the list with 145,000. At Jackson park beach there were 60,000; Diversey, 75,000, and Wilson, 60,000. The top figure of the day was held, however, by the forest preserves, which played host to 500,000. Everywhere yesterday's attendance exceeded Sunday's.

Life Guards Save Several.

The sadder side of the holiday was contained in the several fatalities. Of the six drownings five of them occurred yesterday. The first occurred Saturday. Four occurred in Lake county. Life guards at beaches made several thrilling rescues, else the toll might have been higher.

The drowning victims were Henry Sonnengren, 21 years old, 5714 Cullom avenue; Julius Petersen, 19, of Grayslake; Edward M. Mannina, 18, of 91[illegible] 31st place; John Lehman, 52, of 1[illegible]1 Cuyler avenue; Fred Doornbus, 16, of 7251 University avenue, and Theodore Michaels, 2226 Medill avenue. Michaels was drowned Saturday in Meirs bay, Pistakee lake, northwest of Waukegan.

Sonnengren drowned when he fell into a water filled clayhole a mile north of Glenview while fishing. Petersen sank while swimming to a raft in Channel lake. Mannina failed to come up after diving from a rowboat in Fox river, five miles north of Antioch. Lehman drowned in five feet of water in Deep lake, about two miles east of Lake Villa. Doornbus was drowned at Cedar Lake, Ind.

ARREST FIVE MORE FOR ILLEGAL SALE OF FIREWORKS

Police brought arrests for illegal sale of fireworks in Chicago to a total of ten with the arrests yesterday of the following persons:

CHN, CHARLEY, 60 years old, a Chinese, 659 North State street, charged with selling fireworks to children near his home.

G[illegible]D, DAVID, proprietor of a liquor store at 5001 Broadway avenue.

LE, SAM, a Chinese, owner of a grocery store at 4319 Archer avenue.

SABROW, RICHARD, 9125 Baltimore avenue.

WALL, MRS. INA, 42 years old, owner of a candy store at 1435 Grace street, charged with selling fireworks to boy.

All will be arraigned in courts today.

St. Louis Children Lose Eyes in Fireworks Blasts

St. Louis, Mo., July 5.—(AP)—Two children lost their right eyes and 115 other persons were less seriously hurt in firecracker mishaps as St. Louis celebrated a noisy Fourth. A piece of glass from a bottle shattered by a fire cracker damaged the eye of Lawrence Knee, 15 years old, so badly it had to be removed. Lucille Perry, 12, colored, lost her eye in a fire cracker explosion.

Burglars Smash Open Safe in du Pont Offices

Burglars ransacked the automotive paints branch of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Inc., at 2530 Michigan avenue yesterday, and also smashed open the safe in the office. The burglary was discovered by a watchman last night. Police will not be able to find out what, if anything, was taken until today when the office staf reports for work.

BINGHAM CHEERS BRITISH AND U. S. POLICY TO REARM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 5.—Vigorous endorsement of the rearmament policy in Great Britain and the United States and a warning to "despots" who made it necessary were delivered tonight by Robert Worth Bingham, United States ambassador, in a speech at an Independence day dinner of the American society in London.

"In my judgment the rearmament policy in Great Britain and the United States is having the greatest weight toward peace of any measures which have been put forward," said the ambassador. He declared the English speaking peoples had allowed their defenses to be reduced below the danger point.

CALL 70 TO TELL LABOR BOARD OF FORD 'VIOLATIONS'

Both Sides Prepare for a Test Case.

Warren plant of Republic Steel. Chief of Police Barney Gillen said he heard rumors of heavy picketing. National Guard and city officials made plans to provide additional protection.

With the spotlight in the 40 day old labor controversy focusing sharply on the Cleveland reopening tomorrow, Sherif Martin L. O'Donnell issued a proclamation establishing military rule in Cuyahoga county. The edict created "dangerous strike zones" within an area of 1,500 yards of each Republic plant and limited the number of pickets to twelve at each entrance.

Sherif O'Donnell and Police Chief George J. Matowitz canceled all furloughs and days off and put their men on 12 hour shifts starting today. In addition, an order went forth for 102 candidates awaiting appointment as cadets on the Cleveland police force to appear for strike duty late today.

A National Guard patrol unit arrested six C. I. O. pickets outside Republic Steel's plant at Canton, O., when a carload of nonstrikers reported to Maj. W. E. Stark of the 112th engineers that pickets hurled rocks at them. Maj. Stark said he searched a patch of weeds where the pickets were standing and found two slingshots, a baseball bat, and a quantity of stone slingshot ammunition in a tin can.

BABY IS "RICH"

Mrs. Earl Pesta, her baby and the 5,000 pennies.

Cleveland, O., July 5.—[Special.]—Earl Pesta Jr. has few financial worries as he starts life. His parents saved 5,000 pennies before his birth, but some of them will be used to offset doctor and hospital bills. The pennies were collected in a big jar.

TROOPS SENT TO STRIKELESS CITY; NONE KNOWS WHY

Cleveland, O., July 5.—A surprise movement of state troops into Akron, O., added a note of mystery to the steel strike situation tonight.

City officials of Akron, as well as guard officers, expressed themselves ignorant of the reason for sending troops there. The C. I. O. union at Akron claims 12,000 members, but there is no strike there.

The head of the Akron local announced several days ago that pickets would be stationed at the entrances of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber company plant tomorrow for the purpose of collecting back union dues from delinquent members. This plan was called off today. Goodrich officials denied they had called for troops. So did the mayor, and so did union officials.

Announcement that troops were being sent to Akron was made at the office of Adjutant General Emil Marx in Columbus, but without explanation.

JAPANESE TEMPLE SOLD TO FURNISH NAVY WITH IRON

OSAKA, Japan, July 5.—(AP)—The magnificent Temple of Humanity was sold under the auctioneer's hammer today to furnish scrap iron for warships of Japan's increasing navy.

The edifice, vacant since the government suppressed the Hitonomichi sect for esoteric rites, was sold for $150,000 to an Osaka scrap iron merchant who will dismantle it and sell the metal. Some 3,000 iron dealers flocked to the temple, bidding in the hope they could resell the massive framework to the navy for a substantial profit.

GUILDSMEN'S STRIKE HALTS PUBLICATION OF STAR IN SEATTLE

Seattle, Wash., July 5.—(AP)—A strike of American newspaper guild members closed the Seattle Star today as pickets surrounded the plant in a jurisdictional dispute over circulation employés' union affiliations. More than 200 employés were idle.

Teamsters, aided by police, moved through the picket line with four delivery trucks to the newspaper's empty loading platforms, but printers did not attempt to enter the building and only two newspaper executives and a few watchmen were inside.

The Star is a member of the Scripps league of newspapers. The guildsmen who struck included newsroom, advertising and circulation employés.

Third Child Dies of Poison After Eating "Mushrooms"

Huntington, W. Va., July 5.—(AP)—A meal on poisonous fungi claimed a third victim tonight with the death of Mary Louise Raub, 5 years old. Two other Raub children, 3 and 9 years old, died yesterday. Hospital attachés said the father, G. F. Raub, and another daughter were improving. Seven members of the family were affected after eating what they had believed to be mushrooms.

Lewis "Ambitious, Thirsts for Power," Nazi Paper Says

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 5.—The semi-official Nazi newspaper Der Angriff today devoted two columns to an analysis of the activities of John L. Lewis, leader of the C. I. O. in the United States. It believes Lewis is "ambitious" and "thirsts for power," and "will continue to fight for the ideals of Moscow."

RICHARD STEALS MEAL: AND WHAT A MEAL HE EATS!

When Leonard Bartrum and his family returned to their home at 208 West Chicago avenue last night they were surprised to find a stranger in their midst. He was Richard Carson, 45 years old, 3508 Lowe avenue. Carson was sleeping.

This wasn't the biggest surprise though. Carson, police discovered, entered the Bartrum flat not to steal, but to feast and sleep. Here is what he ate and drank:

A bottle of eyewash, jar of cold cream, two ounces of finger nail polish, two sticks of lip rouge, and a half bottle of wine. He left untouched apparently as uneatable a nice ham sandwich. Police took him to the County hospital where his stomach was pumped out. He'll recover in a day or two.

Dancer Smokes in Bed; Dies from Her Burns

Miss Ruby Carmen, 20 years old, a dancer at the Bon-Air Country club in Wheeling, died yesterday in the County hospital from burns incurred early Sunday when she fell asleep while smoking a cigaret in a rooming house north of Wheeling. With other members of the Don Arden troupe Miss Carmen had completed a strenuous rehersal and three shows, after arriving Saturday from Detroit, Mich.

SEVEN 100-FOOT SUPER-HIGHWAYS

would be necessary to accommodate in private autos the people carried on the North Side "L" alone

Astounding! But true. And this without even taking into consideration the super-boulevards that would be necessary to accommodate present day necessities if West and South Side Rapid Transit services were included.

Twenty-five (25) more such 100-foot highways would be required to accommodate in automobiles the maximum number of passengers that could be carried in one direction on a four-track elevated structure over the "L" divisions as they now exist.

And if all of the buildings in the Loop were removed there would not be space enough to park the private automobiles required to move people now using rail transportation—to say nothing of having street space for getting them in and out.

Large numbers of people can be transported only in short periods of time on limited trackage by the use of train operation. The carrying capacity of one line of traffic comparable to ONE ELEVATED TRACK is as follows: motor coach, 9,000 persons; street cars, 16,000 persons; ELEVATED TRAINS, 35,000 persons per hour.

No wonder RAPID TRANSIT ELEVATED SERVICE IS THE BACKBONE OF TRANSPORTATION IN CHICAGO AND THE NORTH AND WEST SUBURBS.

The 5,383 TRAINS operated each 24 hours on PRIVATE RIGHT-OF-WAY, used only for RAILROAD SERVICE, not only are the greatest factor for public safety, but this ABOVE TRAFFIC transportation provides the ONLY relief from city street congestion and the ONLY means of fast, dependable service—whatever the weather.

Because of its cleanliness, fresh air and sunlight, fewer stops and comfortable stations—and the general relief of the user from TRANSPORTATION FATIGUE—no small wonder "L" service is the favored service of the women as well as the men.

The lowest-cost transportation in the Metropolitan Area is the WEEKLY UNLIMITED-RIDE "L" PASS. With it you ride as often as you wish—seven days a week. It's transferable. Any member of your family, friends, employees can use it. "L" fares for children are the lowest to be had. You can easily afford to take them many places during vacation time.

GET THERE! Ride the "L"
THE FAST, COMFORTABLE WAY

MARRIAGE TEST LAW IN EFFECT!

A new state law requires a couple to prove they are free from syphilis and gonorrhea before a wedding license can be obtained. With separate departments for men and women, and with men and women physicians in attendance, the Public Health Institute is especially well fitted to make the necessary tests. A thorough physical examination in a private room, including Wassermann and Kahn blood tests, urinalysis and smears, costs $3.00 per person.

BLAME YOURSELF

if a neglected or self-treated venereal disease wrecks your life!

You can easily avoid disability or premature death from gonorrhea or syphilis by consulting your physician or this clinic—in time!

Only a few days' or weeks' delay may spell failure of treatment for syphilis, according to Dr. Thomas Parran, Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service. And what's true of syphilis is also true of gonorrhea, for many an easily curable case becomes practically incurable when neglected too long.

Self-treatment with drug store preparations is quite as dangerous as neglect, as it merely relieves the more noticeable symptoms and permits the infection to spread unchecked throughout the body. Sooner or later every person who resorts to self-treatment will be forced to visit a physician or clinic, and by that time it may not be possible to do any more than keep the disease from growing worse.

So, if you want to prevent disability or early death, don't ever take chances with syphilis or gonorrhea but consult your family doctor or the Public Health Institute—at once! Remember, every day you lose in obtaining proper medical attention increases the risk of having destructive complications that may cut many years from your life!

Here's what can happen!

Neglected or self-treated syphilis, for instance, may lead to fatal heart disease, blindness, deafness, apoplexy, locomotor ataxia, paralysis or even insanity! And it often causes mothers to give birth to dead, deformed or feeble-minded babies!

Neglected or self-treated gonorrhea may result in a sight-destroying eye infection, sterility, stricture, crippling rheumatism, or serious prostate, bladder and other troubles. Among women it is an all-too-frequent cause of mutilating pelvic operations that make it impossible for them ever to have children!

Thus, if you know or suspect yourself to be infected, you can see how vitally important it is to see your doctor or the Public Health Institute—immediately! For unless treatment is begun early and continued until a cure has been proved, you may doom yourself to invalidism or premature death.

In fact, a recent study of two groups of men—one with untreated syphilis and the other without—showed that 75% of the syphilitic group had signs of heart, nerve or other trouble! On the other hand, only 23% of the non-syphilitic group showed similar signs, proving that freedom from syphilis plays an important part in assuring general good health and long life.

Treatments as low as $1.00

Organized by public-spirited citizens as a corporation "NOT-FOR-PROFIT" under the laws of the State of Illinois, the Public Health Institute offers treatment for venereal diseases at the lowest possible fees consistent with specialized medical attention. An examination for syphilis and gonorrhea, including blood tests, urinalysis and smears, costs only $3.00, while some treatments for syphilis cost as little as $1.00 and some of those for gonorrhea still less!

Despite these low fees the Institute provides a friendly, personal service. Each patient is promptly attended in a private room, and to avoid embarrassment is known by a number rather than by name. The Institute's facilities are available to all, as even those who are temporarily short of funds can arrange to be treated.

NOTE: Each of the Institute's men and women physicians is thoroughly trained in the superior methods resulting from giving over 4,500,000 examinations and treatments!

STOP FIDDLING! C. I. O. CHIEFTAINS TELL ROOSEVELT

Gov. Townsend Replies to Troop Request Today.

The steel strike situation in the South Chicago and East Chicago districts took an active turn last night after a lull over the holiday weekend. These were the developments:

1. Committee for Industrial Organization strike chiefs sent President Roosevelt a sharp telegram, accusing him of fiddling while Rome burns, and calling upon him to call a national conference to end the strike they began on May 26.

2. A small crowd of strikers and strike sympathizers gathered in front of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company plant in South Chicago to hear Nicholas Fontecchio, Steel Workers' Organizing committee leader, try to revive interest in the strike.

3. Gov. M. Clifford Townsend of Indiana announced that he would reply to day to the appeal of East Chicago ministers for troops to protect men who are clamoring to return to their jobs in the closed East Chicago plant of the Youngstown company.

Plant to Reopen Today.

4. Officials of the Valley Mould and Iron corporation announced that they would reopen their strike closed plant at 108th street and the Calumet river this morning.

The telegram to President Roosevelt was sent by Emil C. Koch and Frank Rucker of the S. W. O. C. of John Lewis' C. I. C. It accused the steel companies of violating the law and continued:

"They will continue to do so as long as you continue to play the fiddle while Rome burns, the same as old Nero did. The time is at hand and a national emergency is here. We still have faith in you. Please act at once, call a national conference of representatives of the steel industry and the Steel Workers' Organizing committee to make a peaceful and just settlement of the strike."

Governor Plans Reply.

Gov. Townsend announced that he would reply to the ministers' appeal after representatives of the workers had also asked him to protect those who wished to return to their jobs in the Youngstown plant in East Chicago, which is in Indiana.

The back to work movement there has been given added impetus by the knowledge that the Inland Steel company employés are now working and drawing pay under a strike truce. The Youngstown company has refused the truce, insisting that the governor enforce the law and safeguard workers in their right to their jobs. Until protection is given, company officials say they will not reopen the plant. The South Chicago plant, guarded by police, has already been reopened.

LEWIS BRAKE IS CHOSEN HEAD OF ILLINOIS V. F. W.

Moline, Ill., July 5.—(AP)—The Illinois Veterans of Foreign Wars closed the eighteenth annual state encampment this afternoon by electing Lewis Brake of Mount Vernon commander and choosing Peoria as the 1938 encampment site.

Other officers elected were: Senior vice commander, William Grace, Chicago; junior vice commander, Carl Gillig, Peoria; quartermaster, Lemer Fredenall, Elgin; judge advocate, W. M. B. Smith, Edwardsville; surgeon, Dr. M. M. Benedict, Dwight; chaplin, the Rev. Daniel Monahan, Rock Island.

Frank Colley of Chicago was reappointed department adjutant. E. J. Stillwell, Elgin, was renamed patriotic instructor. Edward D. Rosengren, Chicago, was named department inspector.

FORCED HEALTH TESTS ARE NEAR, SAYS SENATOR

Compulsory public health examinations are more than a probability under the administration of the social security act, Senator Elbert D. Thomas [D., Utah] told 2,500 delegates yesterday at the opening of the American Osteopathic association convention at the Stevens hotel.

"All professions are regulated," Senator Thomas said. "Schools today have school nurses and physical examinations.

"Do you think the government would go into social security for the benefit of the people without considering the matter of medical examinations on a scientific footing? Public examinations of the people are coming because the social security act is actually a big insurance deal."

GIRL IS MISSING

ALICE GRIFFO.

The Hyde Park police yesterday were searching for Alice Griffo, 13 years old, who disappeared after she had left her home at 4717 Kenwood avenue Sunday to attend church services at St. Ambrose's Catholic church, 47th street and Ellis avenue. Mrs Gertrude Whitton, her mother, told the police that she feared that her daughter may have met with violence. The girl recently graduated from the Holy Angel's parochial school.

ROPER DEMANDS REASON BY BOTH IN LABOR UNREST

Urges Workers Maintain Public's Regard.

Washington, D. C., July 5.—(AP)—Secretary of Commerce Roper asked tonight that workers be protected from exploitation both by "misguided labor spokesmen and by selfish leaders of industry."

Following up President Roosevelt's recent expression of opinion that the public is impatient with extremists on both sides of the industrial strife, Roper added to the usual administration criticisms of some employers this advice to labor:

"Labor has achieved great power for good. In doing so it has necessarily been placed in a corresponding position of responsibility to itself and to the general community.

Urges Policy of Rectitude.

"It should develop a policy which will safeguard the continued faith of all citizens in the rectitude and sincerity of its purposes and in the justice of its methods.

"The employer is not alone an employer and the employé is not alone an employé. They are first of all American citizens with responsibilities to the consumers and to society at large. They must justify the good will of each other and the public by observing these obligations imposed by law or agreement as well as those suggested by good morals."

The cabinet member also hinted of amendments to the Wagner labor relations act to satisfy employers who think it one-sided.

"When fair administration reveals defects or inadequacies in statutory requirements, then prompt correction should be made in the interest of all," he said in this connection.

Urges Reason in Disputes.

Concluding his plea for industrial peace, Roper said:

"American ideals preclude hate and wilful animosities. Those ideals have long been expressed through understanding and coöperation among all segments of our people during periods of adjustment.

"Now the component parts of the national community demand that the disturbed segments adjust their differences, equitably and peaceably, so that the system under which we have achieved mutual progress shall be maintained inviolate."

C. I. O. ASKS ROOSEVELT TO TRY TO END STRIKE IN N. Y. SHIPYARDS

New York, July 5.—[Special.]—Intervention by President Roosevelt and three members of the federal cabinet to "reëstablish industrial peace" in New York and New Jersey shipyards, now closed by a strike, was urged today by local 13 of the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America, a C. I. O. affiliate. The strike has been in effect since the middle of last month.

Identical telegrams sent by the union to the President, Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper, Secretary of the Navy Claude E. Swanson, and to all representatives and senators from the affected area said:

"Obstinate refusal of New York and New Jersey Drydock association to comply with national labor relation board terms, causing shipowners to violate safety at sea measures, retarding completion of naval work and merchant marine expansion act. Imperative use your good offices in behalf of 15,000 shipyard workers by taking action to reëstablish industrial peace."

NEW THIRD ABBOT FOR LISLE ABBEY IS CONSECRATED

With elaborate ceremonials corresponding to those in which a Catholic bishop is consecrated, the Rt. Rev. Procopius Neuzil yesterday was made third abbot of St. Procopius abbey, Lisle, by the Most Rev. Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, papal delegate to the United States. The service, known as the benediction of an abbot, was held in St. Procopius church, 18th and Allport streets.

Assisting in the benediction were the Rt. Rev. Martin Veth, abbot of St. Benedict's abbey, Atchison, Kas., and the Rt. Rev. Justus Wirth, of St. Bede's abbey, Peru. The sermon in the Czech language was delivered by the Rt. Rev. Oldrich Zimal, of Cleveland, O., and the English sermon by the Most Rev. William D. O'Brien, auxiliary bishop of Chicago.

A testimonial luncheon followed the benediction in Bohemian-American hall, 1436 West 18th street. The Rev. Vincent Taylor, of Belmont, N. C., was toastmaster.

GERMAN AND ITALIAN LABOR ORGANIZATIONS FORM AN ALLIANCE

ROME, July 5.—(AP)—Formation of a sweeping alliance between the government controled labor organizations of Italy and Germany was announced today.

The pact, signed by Tullio Cianetti, president of the Fascist Confederation of Industrial Workers, and Robert Ley, leader of the German Labor Front, was approved by the Italian and German governments.

The text of the accord, which consists of eight articles, declared it was not intended to "create a new internationale"—referring to the international organizations of Socialists and communists. Nevertheless, the two labor fronts agreed to consult each other before taking any international action; to recognize labor organizations affiliated with the other; to exchange information and data on experiences.

THE RIGHT TO RIOT.

The narrow escape of Philadelphia from a food blockade, supported by lawless violence or threats of it, is the latest development in a period of industrial warfare unequaled in extent in American history. In spite of the steady advance of the material conditions of labor, interrupted only by economic conditions which have affected all classes of the nation; in spite of the assured prospects of further advances; in spite of the recognition of the rights and interests of wage earners and the establishment of methods and agencies for their realization by peaceful procedure—violence has been resorted to repeatedly and inexcusably.

This situation is the result of the doctrin, widely advocated, condoned, at least, in high places and encouraged by the connivance of public officials, that the right to riot is paramount to the rights of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. Under this doctrin nothing can be left of the American people's right to the protection of their institutions or to the fulfilment of the laws framed by them for the peaceful adjustments of their differences. Under this doctrin communities can be starved into submission to the will of mobs, law abiding men murdered, helpless and innocent women and children starved with impunity, provided this is the will of rioters.

The law abiding citizens of the nation, and they are the vast majority of all our people of every condition and section, have watched with growing concern and indignation this intolerable defiance of law and civilized order. The peace of not only Pennsylvania but of Michigan and Ohio, to say nothing of Indiana and Illinois, has been repeatedly broken by violence under guise of peaceful picketing. Mobs have repeatedly rioted. The police in the performance of their duty have been attacked and injured by armed rioters. Agitators have roused gatherings by inflammatory utterances. Peaceful American workers have been attacked, threatened, and abused; their families have been terrorized. A march of 40,000 men not engaged in the industry concerned has been threatened to overawe workers to surrender their right to work. Workers lawfully engaged in their livelihood have been besieged and denied the protection due them as citizens. Water mains have been dynamited to compel the closing of plants in operation by their own employés, throwing six thousand employés out of work. Martial law has been proclaimed, the National Guard called out and called in, workers kidnaped, cars stoned, mail and food shipments to working citizens refused. Officials sworn to enforce the laws and preserve order have refused the performance of their duty and assisted the elements of disorder and criminal violence.

The doctrin of the right to riot has no place in this land. Under American law and American institutions no economic condition or issue justifies resort to lawless violence. The permanent right of American citizenship is to peace and the peaceful adjustments of differences for which our laws and our institutions fully provide. The right to riot cannot live under the same roof as the right of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

THE TRUCK CONTROL BILL.

The truck control bill enacted by the Illinois legislature just before the close of the session will affect practically everybody in the state. It will be lauded, cursed, praised, and condemned according to where the observer sits.

To the railways it is a victory. It will raise the cost of shipping by truck and therefore force dollars into their coffers. Likewise, such trucking companies as operate large fleets and are able to maintain legal and technical stafs will have cause for jubilation. In 99 cases out of 100 they are interstate as well as intrastate operators and subject to the national motor carrier act. They will be fully equipped with all the paraphernalia demanded by burocratic red tape. Motorists who regularly use the state highways for business or pleasure will benefit to a certain extent because the number of trucks will be substantially reduced.

On the other hand, the small operators who own one or two trucks and who represent seventy-five per cent of the highway transport industry of the state will be substantial losers. They have been paying license fees, gasoline, oil, personal property, and vehicle taxes on their equipment in accordance with state and national demands, but now they are faced with the cost of printing tarifs and the thousands of miles of empty operation that state regulation always creates. Shippers who have been able to expand business through the use of these "hair roots" of transportation will resent the substitution of clumsy common carriage, as will the hamlets of which these services have become a convenient institution.

THE TRIBUNE opposed the bill as an unnecessary invasion of industry by state authorities and an attempt to stem evolution. The only possible excuse for the measure was the bald statement that as interstate trucks are regulated, intrastate movements should be similarly stratified. Interstate regulation, in its turn, rests on the theory that highway transport competes with the regulated railways. Admittedly, regulation is an expensive handicap, so all forms of transportation should be equally encumbered.

As has been demonstrated by the rejuvenation of railway passenger service and the establishment of their convenient pickup and delivery freight service, highway transport was rapidly making over the railways into a better public servant. This process might have gone farther, as it has in Europe, to coördinate railway and highway services through special containers with substantial benefits to commerce. To retard this natural evolution is inherently wrong. Just as were early efforts to check steamship development for the benefit of sailing ferries and railway progress for the benefit of the canals.

AMBASSADORS: THE DEBTS!

Of the 35 billion dollars comprising our national debt, nearly 10 billions isn't our debt at all. It consists of money which, for convenience, our government borrowed from our people for the use of other governments. Thus, the American people shouldered the burden for 5 billion dollars, which was for England; 4 billions, which was for France; 2 billions, which was for Italy, and a half billion, which was for Belgium. Other countries were responsible for smaller portions of the debt.

If the United States had charged these countries what the money cost us they would have no kick coming. But we did much better than that. We were willing to play the banker at a loss. Although we borrowed the money at rates ranging up to 4¼ per cent, we agreed to consider the situation of each debtor in fixing the rate and made the average rate only 2.14 per cent. Moreover, we didn't ask that the debts be discharged at once, but let them have sixty-two years to pay. Never did a lender show such consideration for a borrower.

The countries knew they got a good deal and for seven or eight years made their payments without quibbling. Then came the depression. Always generous, we gave them a year's moratorium to get their affairs in shape. When the year rolled around most of the countries paid the instalment which came due. Then, excepting a gesture in 1933, they stopped paying.

And, what is worse, we have let the years go by without making them resume. To the largest debtor, England, prosperity has returned. She is much better off in every way than at any time during the period when she met her obligations to us punctually. England began paying in 1923. She began paying then because of the force and ability of our diplomatic service. England was far less able to make payments in 1923 than she is now. The British debt is not materially larger than it was then. She has a stock of gold available for international settlements which is more than five times as large as that which she possessed in 1923. British business conditions now are far better than they were then.

Meanwhile our need is far greater than it was then. Our national debt is 13 billion dollars greater than in 1923. Our budget then was in balance, now it is sadly out of balance. There can be little doubt that if our diplomatic service had the force and ability of that which represented us in 1923 payments would now be forthcoming. A sizable contribution would be made to relieve our deplorable financial condition if our foreign representatives paid more attention to national business requiring urgent attention and less to the social affairs of royalty. If our ambassadors would get out of their black silk shorts and into their working clothes a part of the burden of the American taxpayer would be lifted.

A BRITISH LEAD FOR NEW YORK.

Now that a British bishop has entered the lists for a more liberal British law of divorce, even those elements of our eastern population which like to take their ideas from England may be ready to favor some liberalization of divorce laws by their own lawmakers. New York is especially in point. Its law, like that which has been under successful attack in the house of commons, recognizes only one cause of absolute divorce, adultery. The house, after prolonged debate, has passed a measure removing some of the most flagrant hardships of existing procedure and providing that, in addition to adultery, desertion for at least three years, cruelty, and incurable insanity shall each be ground of divorce.

The reasoning advanced by the proponents of the English bill should make some impression upon New York, where conditions support it with at least as much force as in England. Mr. Herbert, who has led in the fight for the reform in parliament, has argued that the purpose of the measure is "to strengthen the institution of marriage and increase respect for law," pointing out that the existing rule is so out of touch with contemporary conceptions of the marriage relation that "people must commit either adultery or perjury" to be relieved of intolerable conditions, and is, therefore, a "definite incentive to immorality." The divorce situation in New York and some other American communities notoriously supports this declaration as applied to their own situations, and ought to bring about the early enactment of a humane law, and a better one than parliament is likely to adopt. The decision of the Illinois Appellate court, Chicago branch, invalidating a Reno residence in the Jardine case may make harsh legislation advisable or necessary.

Editorial of the Day

ANONYMOUS IMMORTALITY.

[Providence (R. I.) Bulletin.]

Does the name Septimus Winner mean anything to you? No? But wait. It was Septimus who composed "Where, oh where ist mein leedle dog gone?" Doesn't that sufficiently illuminate him? Philadelphia, which has got beyond centenaries, celebrated his 110th anniversary the other day.

The composer is forgotten; the song lives on. This is as it should be. It is much more important that we remember this classic than the name of its author. Who composed "Sweet Adeline" or "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree"? But what a lift free souls gathered to discourse sweet harmonies get from them!

It is the song that counts. And "Where, Oh Where" has counted tremendously in the humdrum lives of bathroom yodelers, barber shop quartets, and those chance groups who gather upon the slightest pretext around a vibrating bass or whisky tenor.

Septimus' immortal song played a more important part in the life of the nation in the days when itinerant German bands—Dot leedle German bandt, consisting of an emphatic tuba, a patient alto, a slightly sour clarinet, and a cornet—wafted it upward on beery breath.

But its echoes persist. In the leedle dog "mit his hair cut short und his tail cut long" Septimus has achieved his anonymous—except in Philadelphia—immortality.

Ancient Mariner's Grandfather.

Sir: A lake is a widening out of a river. The St. Louis river rises in Minnesota and at Duluth widens out into Lake Superior; at the Soo it narrows and is called St. James river; it widens again and is called Lake Huron; narrows again and is called Detroit river; then is called progressively Lake Erie, the Niagara river, Lake Ontario, and the St. Lawrence river. Lake Michigan is only a bay. Does it empty into the St. Louis river or does the St. Louis empty into it? F. W. S.

WHAT THIS country really needs is a good set of auto maps on which the nudist camps would be clearly marked.

BUSINESS CALL.

Advertisers are seldom subtle, but there is a suspicion that the La Grange undertaker who inserted the following advertisment in a local newspaper is clever:

Children play
Independence Day.
'Tis therefore right
That all be gay.

AVOID CHRONIC ASTHMA.

NOW that the season of sneezing and bleary eyes is approaching, we must not fail to recall that asthma afflicts some people the year round. Those who are attacked, or who are likely to become so, possess what is called an allergic constitution. By this we mean that the individual is bothered whenever he breathes air containing an irritating foreign protein, comes in contact with it via the skin, or swallows it with his food. Some children who are affected become free as they approach adult life. Others, on the contrary, will not develop asthma until middle life or even later.

We know that bacteria and hundreds of irritants have been identified among the causes. Most chronic cases originate with but a mild manifestation due to some specific material. Just as soon as the patient finds himself in an atmosphere free from noxious pollen granules, or when frosts or a change in the direction of the wind clears the air, all signs vanish, at least for those sensitive to pollen.

Let us assume that these seizures—ordinarily termed hay fever—recur year after year. Sooner or later the swollen mucous membrane of the air passages will be infected with bacteria. With the passing of the pollen the microbes remain. The result is that the trouble lasts longer each succeeding season. Should an acute cold come on, the individual may be unpleasantly surprised to find that among his symptoms may be some which are similar to those of his hay fever period. An identical situation may return with each infection until after a while there is but little freedom from the bronchial spasms which characterize the disorder.

To just what extent fresh bacteria are responsible is not clear. It is obvious, however, that the mucous membrane is greatly engorged and it cannot fail but lose its power to resist infection or prevent absorption once the organisms have been planted.

We must not forget that of a thousand patients who face the same environment only a relatively small number will display the chronic type of asthma, but once it has fastened itself firmly, every physician knows how difficult it is to eradicate. We have a right, therefore, to insist that whenever hay fever comes on the "varmint" shall be pounced upon vigorously, to the end that repeated recurrences shall not pave the way for infection of the air passages extending well down the bronchi.

For the safety of our victims of allergy we must hunt to their lair all materials to which the patient is sensitive. Foods, clothing, skin irritants—all must be tested and the offenders avoided. Having placed the patient in the best possible position to shun absorption, the next move is to desensitize him against everything which gives a positive skin reaction. This may be accomplished by small doses of extracts either injected beneath the skin or given by mouth.

More than ordinary care must be employed in preventing colds and in maintaining the air passages as free as possible from accumulations of mucus and microbes. If sinuses are infected, adequate drainage is highly desirable. Bacterial vaccines are of value, provided their administration is carefully controled. As has been pointed out repeatedly, large doses may make matters worse. In many cases, however, with small doses, resistance may be built up to the point where sensitivity is lost.

From the mechanical point of view iodized oil or postural drainage will help to empty the fine bronchi which have become plugged with mucus. If the oil is employed, about the only precaution that need be observed is not to use it on one who is sensitive to iodine.

If the air sacs become grossly dilated and are unable to expand and contract, an abdominal binder which forces the diaphragm upward affords considerable relief.

For the patient with distressing symptoms which come on quickly, adrenalin has been used with excellent effect, as has the inhalation of helium gas.

DRINK IT SLOWLY.

W. writes: Why should a person drink milk slowly?

2. What makes eyes turn red on the white part?

REPLY.

1. All food, including milk, should be eaten slowly so that it can be well mixed with saliva. Otherwise the result is indigestion, and the production of quantities of gas, including swallowed air.

2. The redness can be caused by conjunctivitis or inflammation of the mucous membrane of the eye. This may be due to exposure, wind, smoke, etc. To determine the cause, a skilled ophthalmologist should be consulted.

MAY BE HARMFUL.

Mrs. L. writes: Is it harmful for a 19 month old baby to refrain from urinating for five or six hours at a time? When in the house she urinates about every half hour but out of doors she will go as long as six hours. Is it harmful to the bladder or does it show good control?

REPLY.

Urine retention—beyond certain limits—is harmful. As the child grows the bladder increases in size. You can train your youngster to empty the bladder at the proper time. Every two to three hours is desirable at the age noted.

BLACKENED NAILS.

J. K. writes: What is the reason my finger nails are turning black?

REPLY.

There are a number of parasitic diseases of the nails which cause pigmentation. Bluish-gray discoloration of the nailbed is a symptom of argyria [silver poisoning]. In Addison's disease the nails may be pigmented black or dark gray. Hemorrhages beneath the nails may leave a permanent discoloration due to the deposit of reduced hemoglobin. Look for the presence of some parasite first of all. I assume no dye is used on the nails, eyebrows, or hair. Certain aniline dyes will turn black.

TOMATO JUICE.

S. J. B. writes:

1. I drink about two glasses of tomato juice daily. Will this cause pimples?

2. What kind of juice will prevent skin eruptions?

REPLY.

1. No.

2. All fruit juices are a valuable part of the diet for the vitamins which they supply. They will not, however, prevent skin eruptions.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON.—Colored people from all parts of the British Empire met here recently to debate certain awkward matters which were not made less awkward during the coronation. It was a general conference of the League of Colored Peoples.

The general secretary of the league, Charles E. Collet, said: "There is the growth of prejudice and discrimination here in the United Kingdom.

"I am sorry to say that this color bar prejudice was most unpleasantly displayed in many instances during the late festivities.

"It is becoming not easier, as it should be, but more difficult to insure that colored visitors coming on holiday or business to the capital of the empire should not be humiliated by finding that hotels and boarding house will not receive them.

"Our league was founded six years ago, and it has about 600 members, of whom some 150 are whites. We now feel that the time has come for us to frame a definite policy, and stick to it.

"The problem of the colored peoples is growing more critical within the empire every day. It is political, social and economic, but above all, it is becoming a human tragedy.

"Perhaps it isn't quite a 'nice' subject for general discussion. I daresay some quite 'nice' people may think so. All the more reason for discussing it fully and wholeheartedly.

"There are only, I believe, 10,000 colored residents in the British Isles. But apparently 10,000 in 50,000,000, or a percentage of 1-50th of 1 per cent is enough to constitute a problem.

"What is to become of the hundreds of colored children of British birth in the motherland if the color bar is to operate with ever more increasing stringency?

"We cannot remain defenseless any longer. We must organize for self-protection. And we hope to have on our side men and women representative of the sincerest and highest minded white opinion."

The League of Colored Peoples is representative of colored distinction and intelligence in this country. The president, Dr. Harold Moody, is a Jamaican, who received his degree of medicine and bachelor of science in London and practices here. Collet, the secretary, comes from the Seychelles, and is a man of letters.

The vice president, J. A. Barbour-James, comes from British Guiana, and is a retired civil servant. The treasurer, W. W. Springer, is a young Oxford graduate now studying law.

BARKING DOG.

Chicago, July 1.—[Friend of the People.]—Our neighbor has a dog which he leaves out at 6 a. m. and sometimes as late as 11 p. m. in the gangway between the two houses on which our bedrooms face. Whenever some one passes he barks and whines. We have asked the owners to be so kind as to take him in the alley, but they tell us we can do nothing about it. We have small children and the dog wakes them, as our windows are only a few feet from the sidewalk. Please tell us if there is a law to stop them and what we must do. F. H.

Officers investigated this complaint, making frequent visits to the location and stayed in the immediate vicinity for a period of from fifteen to twenty minutes at a time and did not hear any dogs barking or making any unnecessary noise. We also tried to interview the complainant on numerous occasions by ringing the door bell, but could not get any response. We will continue to give this complaint special attention and any violations found will be handled as the law directs.

JAMES P. ALLMAN,
Commissioner of Police.

NO VIOLATION HERE.

Chicago, July 1.—[Friend of the People.]—A neighbor of ours is building an additional room in front of their home. This will bring it right up to the sidewalk, which is much out of order to the rest of the block. Kindly investigate and see if it is possible to stop them from doing this. J. L.

Our inspector reports that all buildings in this block are nine feet from the sidewalk, with the exception of No. 3913, which is eleven feet from the sidewalk. The building in question was thirteen feet from the sidewalk and by adding four feet to the front of said building it will be nine feet from the sidewalk, in line with the other buildings.

RICHARD E. SCHMIDT,
Commissioner of Buildings.

THE FORGOTTEN PEOPLE.

Council Bluffs, Ia., July 2.—After listening to the morning radio report of the Roosevelt wedding the real meaning of "princes of privilege" seems quite clear. We are what is termed the "middle class" of professional workers. At the end of twenty years of hard work and saving we find ourselves with our home paid for, insurance, and investments which should have provided for our old age. After our marriage I continued work for several years until we acquired and paid for a home for the son we wanted. He is now 13 years of age, a splendid child who has learned to work, study, and play. We believed his education was assured by our investments. We know now it is not. Under the guise of "aid for the underprivileged" our President has destroyed the value of those investments, allows mob rule to threaten seizure of our very homes, and even refuses to guarantee our right to continue to work, the only hope we of the "middle class" have to give our children an education and preparation for life.

Bitter? Perhaps I am. Hypocrisy always has a nauseating effect on me. Princes of privilege? Who are they if not the demagogs who in order to secure political power discard all sense of justice and rob our child of his chance for a happy, useful life, but retain for their own all the luxuries they desire in a selfish, indolent existence?

[MRS.] RUTH HENDERSON.

OUR GPU.

Chicago, July 2.—If you were molested by a racketeering band of roughnecks and might have had the temerity to defend yourself and your family and business, or just had prepared to do so, wouldn't it jar you if next you were treated by police and judge as if you, and you only, were the culprit?

It can't happen here, you will aver. Do not be too sure, considering the spectacular exploits of our newest and busiest governing instruments, the United States senate's miscalled civil liberties committee and the onesided national labor relations board, both of them unblushingly imitative of the Moscow OGPU. C. B.

THE LADY BAR FLIES.

Chicago, July 1.—Although a modern woman, I agree with the bartender who is disgusted with woman drinkers. I have stood at a bar, but my finer instincts always rebel. Perhaps it is the memory of my mother's distressed face years ago, when our ordinarily good father would stop at a bar on pay days and come home to make the evening a perfect hell for his family.

Surely we women must be lacking something if we have come to feel that we must drink anywhere and everywhere. At best a drink only cheers for a very short time. For peace of mind and real contentment it is necessary that we use the finer things of life. EXPERIENCED.

THE VOICE OF REASON.

Chicago, July 2.—So now Robert M. La Follette is a radical! And because he called at the soviet embassy to pay tribute to the skill and daring of Russian airmen I presume he has become a full-fledged "Red" in your eyes—or shall we say—for your purpose. Such stupid and ill timed propaganda is so obvious that it deludes no one. That investigation in Washington will go on just the same—and you had better believe that the rank and file of Americans are watching its outcome with grim determination. Organized greed is due for a rude awakening. The workers of America will not pay taxes to support officials, policemen, or a militia who regard themselves as the paid hirelings of organized greed and as such murder our workers when they demand a living wage and fair working conditions. It would be well for every one connected with the Republic Steel corporation, THE TRIBUNE, the city hall, and the police force to reflect upon this fact and govern their actions accordingly. Obstructionistic and coercive tactics have become intolerant to freedom loving Americans. We know that with the resources available in the United States nothing but inefficiency or the obstructionistic activities of those who refuse to look beyond the horizon of their own self-interests can prevent every good worker from obtaining a high standard of living and adequate security. All of you would do well to recognize this fact before it is too late. If you insist upon betraying our best interests we can retaliate by boycotting your newspaper. Then let us see if you will be able to sell your advertising space. An ever increasing circle of my acquaintances feel the same way about your paper as I do and have ceased purchasing it. So had I until this evening. One glance over the same old rehash of the same old prejudices and propaganda, and back on the "wagon" I've gone.

A. M. BERTHELSEN.

THE WAR IN SPAIN.

Chicago, June 30.—Since Italy and Germany are plainly carrying on a war of aggression against the legal, democratic government of Spain, it is obvious that in all fairness the neutrality act ought to be applied at once to these two nations. Furthermore, the American government will perform a service for democracy and civilization by taking a firm attitude in Spain against the two Fascist nations which are now determined to crush democracy and to precipitate another world war. That firm attitude would be reflected in the decisions of the British Tory government.

ALBERT CHERNEY.

CHESTERTON LETTERS.

Webster Grove, Mo., June 15.—I am engaged upon a biography of G. K. Chesterton, who visited Chicago several times. If any of your readers have letters from, or other information about, the English author, will they please communicate with me? CYRIL CLEMENS.

CARDENAS WINS VOTE IN MEXICO; FOES CRY FRAUD

Ruling Party Assured of Huge Majority.

MEXICO CITY, July 5.—(AP)—The government's National Revolutionary party tonight appeared assured of an overwhelming majority in the chamber of deputies for another three years as the result of yesterday's nationwide elections.

President Cardenas.

President Lazaro Cardenas' party asserted it had won at least 160 of the 173 places in the lower house, with returns not all in. Cardenas, elected in 1934, will serve until 1940.

Cardenas' opponents charged the government had shown fraud and partiality in the elections.

Attacks Government Party.

"The official party, as usual, used every means to assure its triumph," said Jorge Prieto Laurens, president of the Social Democrat party, which led the opposition coalition.

A majority of the voting booths, he said, were placed in homes of government party leaders, and "a mere 10 per cent" of the eligible voters was allowed to ballot.

No major disorders were reported, but police said 21 persons were injured in the federal district, which takes in Mexico City and 11 surrounding villages. Eight were hurt in clashes and 13 in accidents involving trucks and autos carrying voters.

House to Meet in September.

The new house will meet in September with the senate, which is not elected this year. Congress sits from Sept. 1 to Dec. 31. When it is not in session there is a permanent committee consisting of senators and representatives named by the two houses.

Monte Carlo Folks Elect Council; Helps Prince Rule

MONTE CARLO, Monaco, July 5.—(AP)—The principality of Monaco today elected a new national council headed by Louis Aureglia, mayor of Monaco and president of the National Liberal Union. Most of the new council of 21 were in the old one.

[Monaco, chiefly famous for its gaming tables, elects a national council every four years which, with the prince, exercises legislative power in the little state. The reigning sovereign is Prince Louis II. Monaco has a native population, excluding visitors, of about 22,000.]

MRS. F. O. LOWDEN, EX-GOVERNOR'S WIFE, DEAD AT 68

Pullman Family Member; Born in Chicago.

Mrs. Florence Lowden, wife of Frank Oren Lowden, former governor of Illinois, died yesterday at their Sinnisippi farm home near Oregon. She was nearly 69 years old.

During a European trip this spring, Mrs. Lowden's health became impaired. But upon her return with Mr. Lowden May 20, she appeared to be fully recovered.

Sunday night she dined at the farm with her husband, their son, Pullman, and a family friend, Miss Margaret Enders, of Florence, Italy. Early yesterday morning a maid found Mrs. Lowden dead. Apparently she had passed away quietly in her sleep.

Born in Chicago.

Mrs. Lowden was born in Chicago Aug. 11, 1868, the daughter of George M. Pullman, millionaire railroad car builder and founder of Pullman city. As a young girl she often accompanied her father on trips about the country.

Although the Pullman mansion at 1729 Prairie avenue was one of the show places of the city, and Mrs. Pullman was a leader of Chicago society, she and her husband believed in subordinating social achievement to education.

Accordingly their daughter, Florence, was sent abroad to study for a few years. She later attended Miss Anne Brown's finishing school in New York, and on April 29, 1896, she returned home to marry Frank Lowden, a hard working young Chicago lawyer.

In 1917 Mrs. Lowden became the first lady of the state, when her husband was elected governor. She took an active part among women in caring for the wants of Illinois' soldiers during the war.

Interested in Charities.

Although a quiet life with her family on the farm always remained her major interest, Mrs. Lowden, like her mother, was interested in many charities, among them St. Luke's hospital and the Visiting Nurse association. Upon the death of her mother in 1921, Mrs. Lowden and a sister, Mrs. Harriet Schermerhorn, of New York and Lenox, Mass., shared Mrs. Pullman's $3,425,000 estate. The Pullman estate, once worth $18,000,000 had dwindled due to Mrs. Pullman's generous charitable contributions.

Mrs. Lowden was a member of the Women's Athletic club, the National Society of Colonial Dames, and the Fortnightly club.

Surviving Mrs. Lowden are her husband, her sister, and four children, Pullman, Mrs. Philip [Florence] Miller, Mrs. Albert F. [Harriet] Madlener Jr., and Mrs. John B. [Frances] Drake Jr.

Funeral services will be held at the farm home tomorrow morning, with Dr. Frederick Shannon of the Central church officiating. Burial will be in Graceland cemetery.

124TH ARTILLERY MARKS HOLIDAY WITH BIG GUNS

Camp McCoy, Wis., July 5.—[Special.]—Chicago's 124th field artillery regiment of the Illinois National Guard celebrated the holiday today with heavy fireworks. For more than four hours the twelve 75 millimeter guns of the regiment hurled high explosive shells and shrapnel into the hills of this huge artillery range. The battle practice opened the second week of the annual two weeks of field training for the regiment at this camp.

A critical but pleased observer of the day's maneuver was Brig. Gen. Samuel B. Lawton, commanding the 58th field artillery brigade of the 33d division. When firing ceased he congratulated Col. Charles C. Haffner, regimental commander, on the accuracy of the fire.

The regiment will continue its schedule of intensive field training until the end of the week. For the following two weeks the 122d field artillery from Chicago will be here for drills and firing practice.

Another Illinois National Guard regiment, the 123d field artillery, equipped with 155 millimeter Howitzers and commanded by Col. Dell B. Hardin, arrived in camp Saturday.

HENRY P. BERGEN, FORMER CHICAGO ALDERMAN, DEAD

Henry P. Bergen, three times elected alderman from the old 31st ward, now the 16th, and Democratic candidate for congress from the Third district in the 1928 campaign, died last night in his home. He was 67 years old and had been ill since an operation in February.

Mr. Bergen was born in Chicago. He was in the city council from 1910 to 1916 and at the time of his death was a financial expert in the treasurer's office in the City hall. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Catherine Bergen, and a son, Walter F. Bergen, 1504 West 63d street.

The funeral will be held Thursday at 9 a. m. from the home, 6200 Bishop street, and then to St. Theodore's church, 62d and Paulina streets, where requiem mass will be celebrated.

Trinidad Oil Workers Back on Job After Month's Strike

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, July 5.—(AP)—Trinidad's oil workers returned to work today after a one month strike, on the assurance that Gov. Sir Murchesom Fletcher would investigate their demands for wage and hour adjustments. Wage increases for the moment were granted only to workers in lowest wage brackets. They received a 25 per cent increase. Fifteen persons were killed and fifty injured during the strike.

1938 ELECTION MAY ECHO HELP GIVEN TO LABOR

Louie Lewis Seen as Dieterich Opponent.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Senator W. H. Dieterich.

Springfield, Ill., July 5.—[Special.]—Labor's success with its legislative program started political tongues wagging before the 60th regular session of the Illinois legislature adjourned last Thursday, the talk being that passage of about 20, or a majority of labor bills, is likely to be reflected in next year's elections. The big prize in 1938 will be the United States senate seat now held by William H. Dieterich, Beardstown Democrat.

So far as any one knows, Senator Dieterich plans to seek a second term; at least he has made no announcement to the contrary. And he stands well with the state and Cook county central committees by his backing of the slate indorsed by both organizations at the 1936 primary.

Dieterich Irks Horner.

Senator Dieterich's support of the slate enraged Gov. Henry Horner, whose name was omitted from it, but who was renominated notwithstanding. The resentment the governor feels was manifested last spring when he urged President Roosevelt not to nominate Dieterich's candidate, J. Leroy Adair of Quincy, to the federal bench in this district, an appeal the President ignored. Since that time the big question has been whether Mr. Horner would back a candidate against the senator.

Four or five names have been mentioned as possible recipients of this favor and a new one came with the end of the session, in connection with labor's success. This is Speaker Louie E. Lewis of Christopher, in the southern coal fields, who was elected to the presiding chair through the support of labor and the governor.

Backs Compensation Bill.

Labor bills received kindly treatment in the session and it is recalled that the only time the speaker left the rostrum to address the house was to support the workmen's compensation bill, which was in danger of failing on roll call. Through his influence it passed the house, only to be killed by the senate the closing night.

Most important of the labor bills passed were the woman's eight-hour law and the unemployment insurance act, both of which were signed last week. In addition almost a score of minor measures were approved and sent to the governor.

Should Lewis seek the senatorial nomination next year, he is in a position to receive labor's backing and, in addition, that of Mr. Horner, whose program he helped from the house rostrum. A possible hitch to a labor indorsement might be the fact that the speaker's brother, Thurlow Lewis, is counsel for the United Mine Workers' union in Illinois, a C. I. O. affiliate.

Rogers Park and Evanston Feel Brunt of Sand Fly Attack

Rogers Park and Evanston bore the brunt of the current sand fly invasion last night. Millions of them infested the brighter lighted areas in those sections. They made motoring hazardous, and in one stretch near Calvary cemetery formed a carpet half an inch thick on the pavement. They were so thick on the sidewalks at Chase avenue and Sheridan road that a number of pedestrians slipped and fell. Strollers buttoned up coat collars as though in a snow storm.

Maj. Gen. Wittenmyer, 75, Dies in Nation's Capital

Washington, D. C., July 5.—(AP)—The war department tonight announced the death of Maj. Gen. Edmund Wittenmyer, 75, retired, in Walter Reed hospital. Gen. Wittenmyer was retired at his own request in 1923 after 40 years' service. He served in Cuba during the war with Spain and with the China relief expedition in 1900.

[Copyright: 1937: By the New York Times.]

GRENOBLE, France, July 5.—Henri Cuenot, 75 years old and France's oldest active skier, died today of pneumonia. He had suffered from exposure incurred while trying to scale a peak near here last Friday. Cuenot lost his way and later was found by a rescue expedition.

THE HURDY-GURDY: A STORY IN A PICTURE

U-BOAT PASTOR'S AID IS ARRESTED BY NAZI POLICE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 5.—Prof. Ludwig Bartning, elder of the Confessional [Evangelical Lutheran] church in Dahlem, a Berlin suburb, was arrested by the G. S. P. [secret police] today. Prof. Bartning at Sunday's services read a protest against the arrest of the church's pastor, the Rev. Martin Niemoeller, and asked the congregation to sign it. It was announced the protest would be circulated among other Confessional churches and presented, as a petition for Niemoeller's release, to the ministry of justice.

Secret police raided Bartning's home to confiscate the protest but failed to find it. At Dahlen it was feared authorities might take measures against those who signed the protest if it is located.

Niemoeller, a submarine commander during the world war, is a militant leader of the Confessional movement which opposes Nazi domination of the Protestant church. He was arrested on charges of "stirring up hatreds in his sermons against leading persons in the Nazi state and government."

JEWISH WOMAN FINED FOR MAKING LOVE AT HOME

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 5.—A Jewish woman, 29 years old, today was fined $80 for "violating the laws for the protection of German blood." She employed a non-Jewish servant. The court held this was a punishable offense because the Jewish woman allowed a Jewish admirer to spend three nights a week in her residence, thereby "virtually making him chief of the household."

A Nazi law provides that non-Jewish women beneath the age of 45 years must not work in a household headed by a Jew.

[Copyright: 1937: By the New York Times.]

KARLSRUHE, Germany, July 5.—The mayor of a town near here has been expelled from office on charges of associating and doing business with Jews. The mayor, who owned a farm, sold his cattle to a Jewish dealer. Authorities ruled that no civil or communal servant having any personal relations with Jews could be trusted.

Wisconsin Jail Breakers, One a Woman, Sought Here

Chicago police were asked last night to be on the lookout for a woman and four men who escaped Sunday night from jail in Neillsville, Wis. They were named as Dorothy May Barnes, 25 years old; Charles Hamilton, 30; George Hart Jr., 27; Stanley Bogdan, 20, and John Ledvora, 19. According to Sherif Matt Madsen at Neillsville, the fugitives stole an automobile after breaking jail and headed south.

When your Stomach is "off"

...take soothing, calming, quieting Pepto-Bismol

Never upset an upset stomach. Calm it. Soothe it with Pepto-Bismol. Unlike drastic, irritating physics and purges, Pepto-Bismol does not stir up trouble when you take it. Its pepsin aids protein digestion. Its bismuth soothes the irritated intestinal walls.

This pleasant flavored medicine retards intestinal fermentation and the formation of gas. It relieves the distress caused by over-indulgence, nervous excitement, change of diet, or improperly selected and prepared food.

50¢ at all druggists. In its distinctive three-cornered Norwich bottle. The Norwich Pharmacal Co., Norwich, N. Y., makers of Unguentine.

This chart shows the stomach and its 28 feet of intestines. When your stomach is upset, your intestines may be upset, too. Don't make the mistake of adding to the upset with drastic, irritating doses of physics and purges. Pepto-Bismol soothes the upset—soothes the irritated intestines, all the way.

Pepto-Bismol when your stomach is out of order!

DR. T. P. FROST DEAD; EX-PASTOR IN EVANSTON

Dr. Timothy Prescott Frost, former pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church in Evanston, died yesterday in his home in Bradford, Vt. He was 87 years old.

Dr. Frost retired from the Evanston church in 1917 after serving it fourteen years. He then lectured for a year at the Garrett Bible institute, and retired. His home in Bradford was purchased for him at a cost of $7,500 by his Evanston congregation as a farewell gift.

The clergyman previously had held pastorates in Brooklyn, N. Y.; Newark, N. J., and Baltimore, Md. He was born in Mt. Holly, Vt., and ordained in 1877. After his retirement he devoted his time to literary efforts. He was a former president of the Frost Family Association of America. Surviving Dr. Frost are two children.

Several Thousand Firemen Leave, Then a Fire Starts

Trenton, N. J., July 5.—[Special.]—A few minutes after the last of several thousand volunteer firemen, who attended the first annual field day of New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania firemen, had left the grandstand at the New Jersey state fairgrounds here, fire started in a barn on the grounds. Two volunteer fire companies from Hamilton township were called out, but the barn was reduced to ashes.

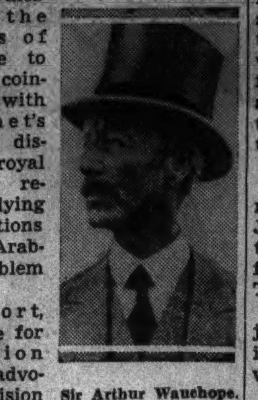
BRITAIN PLANS TO SPLIT PALESTINE IN THREE STATES

Take Steps to Ward Off Arab Revolt.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 5.—The British admiralty's dispatch of the warship Repulse to Palestine and the readiness of troops there to face trouble coincided today with the cabinet's meeting to discuss the royal commission's report embodying recommendations to solve the Arab-Jewish problem in Palestine.



Sir Arthur Wauchope.

The report, which is due for publication Thursday, advocates a division of Palestine into three parts, according to political sources here. There would be a Jewish state, an Arab state, and an area under permanent British mandate.

Both Sides Oppose Scheme.

Advices from Palestine indicate that both Arabs and Jews vigorously oppose the commission's recommendations and Arab Nationalists are threatening to break out in armed rebellion as they did last year.

Sir Arthur Grenfell Wauchope, high commissioner for Palestine, is under instructions to impose martial law at the first signs of disturbances.

[The grand mufti of Jerusalem, spiritual leader of Palestine Arabs and an opponent of the British plan, yesterday presided over a meeting of the Arab higher committee which directed last year's general strike against Jewish immigration and sale of land to Jews.]

The proposed new Jewish state, according to authoritative sources tonight, would comprise the whole of upper and lower Galilee, the vale of Jezreel, the greater part of Beisan, and all the coastal plain from Ras-en-Nakurah in the north to Beer-Tuvia in the south.

The northern frontier of the Jewish state would consist of the existing frontier of Palestine along the southern boundary of Lebanon from the Mediterranean to Syria and would continue along the present frontier of Syria, along the Jordan and sea of Galilee by the outfall of the Jordan down to a point north of the town of Beisan.

Jews to Have Coastal Plain.

In the west the boundary would run along the south of the vale of Jezreel to Megiddo, then south along the edge of the coastal plain in the foothills with an arc to exclude Tulkarem.

The Jewish settlement in Transjordania, it is reported, would be included in the Arab state. Haifa would belong to the Jewish state.

The Jewish state thus planned would contain 225,000 Arabs and besides the Arab population of Safed, Acre, Haifa, and Tiberius. These towns, which are part of the Jewish state, would for some time remain under a temporary British mandate and the Arab population would not be obliged to assume Jewish citizenship as long as the mandate existed.

Permanent British Mandate.

The report, it is learned, also recommends that Britain should receive a new permanent mandate over the cities of Jerusalem, Bethlehem, Nazareth and over the corridor from Jerusalem to Jaffa covering the area between the Jaffa-Jerusalem road and the Jerusalem-Jaffa railroad.

The Arab towns of Ludd and Ramleh would be included in the mandate. The town of Jaffa would be part of the Arab state. Under the mandate would be included also a port of the southern area bordering on the gulf of Akaba. The rest of the country together with Transjordania would form the new Arab state.

For the establishment of these two independent states the British government would conclude treaties with representatives of the Arabs on one side and the Zionist organization on the other. The Arab state would receive a grant of $10,000,000 for the transfer of the Arab population.

HOLIDAY PREVENTS GOV. HORNER'S ACTION ON DOZENS OF BILLS

Springfield, Ill., July 5.—[Special.]—Gov. Henry Horner is expected to announce executive action tomorrow on dozens of bills passed by the legislature before Thursday's adjournment. He had intended to do so today, but could not because the office of Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes was closed and the action could not be recorded in the secretary's books, as the law requires.

The governor spent the July 4 week-end at his office in the executive mansion, going over the bills.

SYPHILIS PERIL TO YOUTH TOLD BY DR. PARRAN

U. S. Surgeon General Is Congress Speaker.

BY THORNTON SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., July 5.—[Special.]—Syphilis is a youth problem, Dr. Thomas Parran Jr., surgeon general of the United States department of health advised the social hygiene committee of the American Youth congress today. Ten thousand victims each year are less than 15 years old, he stated. Half of the syphilis acquired in the United States each year is contracted by persons under 25 years old and while the incidence of gonorrhea has not been tabulated as exactly as syphilis, it is well known, Dr. Parran said, the means of infection are comparable for the two diseases.

As a primary step toward a remedy, Dr. Parran recommended that pupils in the latter years of high school receive a course of scientific instructions not only on biology and sex but on the diagnosis of the two venereal scourges.

Cases Reduced by Half.

A message from Dr. Parran revealing the latest factual information on the prevalence of syphilis was read to the committee by Dr. C. A. Harper, Wisconsin health officer, principal speaker who also described how Wisconsin by nearly 20 years of marriage law enforcement and universal diagnosis has reduced the prevalence of syphilis in the state by one-half.

Dr. Parran's message described a recent one-day survey of all recognized sources of treatment in 50 areas in the United States.

"The fact that so many adolescents and young adults acquire syphilis indicates a grave need for teaching not only the biologic facts of life to all individuals about the time of puberty but also to let students, particularly in the latter years of high school, know the simple facts with regard to the diagnosis and treatment of the two diseases," Dr. Parran's message explained.

"Too often the health officer's educational activities come at a time after the individual has been infected. Agencies not primarily responsible for health work must coöperate in the prevention of communicable diseases if they are to be controled effectively."

"The Greatest Vocation."

Wisconsin, Dr. Harper said, has for eighteen years had two staf members of the state board of health who have given instructions on venereal diseases in 416 of the 430 high schools of the state.

The Youth committee approved three resolutions which were presented by Maj. Bascom Johnson, legal adviser of the American Social Hygiene association.

"Marriage," Maj. Johnson commented, "is the greatest vocation in life and marriage is the vocation for which American youth is least prepared."

The resolution adopted endorsed the purpose of modern laws which require blood tests to determine the absence of venereal diseases from both applicants for marriage licenses; they endorsed state public health service, based on the New York law as a model. The law provides free treatment for indigent patients and for an expanding health service.

It's Our Family's Whiskey, Neighbor
Mr. Martin in the middle is a real well to do man!
Mr. Martin owns what I think is the biggest apple orchard in the county. Mr. Martin's place is on the other side of the tracks, on the very top of Gosser Hill, and there's no prettier house on the whole South side than Mr. Martin's. And Mr. Martin says he doesn't know of a tastier whiskey than The Wilken Family's! Harry E. Wilken
There's mighty smart people buying the Wilken Family Whiskey!
Of late I've been noting how many real well off people have taken to serving The Wilken Family Whiskey. First off, when they started hearing of it, I suppose they didn't quite know what to make of its price being less than what they were used to paying. But as time went on, they gradually came to find out how specially mild it is—and extra tasty.
So naturally they got saying to theirself, "Look here—where's the sense in paying out a lot of money when there's something exactly to my liking right under my nose." And so one thing leading to another, it got so as pretty near every place you go, you're finding folks enjoying Our Family's Whiskey. There's all the Wilken Family's experience behind it—Grandpa Wilken's, Pa Wilken's, and ours. And if a whiskey with that much experience shouldn't be about the tastiest ever—then I don't know what would be!
Harry E. Wilken

It's sure TASTY and MILD!

Loads of Film Fun Ahead for Sally's Guests

But Hurry! Letters Must Be In by Thursday.

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Tribune Charities, Inc.]

In addition to all the other crazy things that go on in "A Day at the Races" there's the funniest steeplechase you ever saw! After watching the three Marxes playing doctor you think you just can't laugh any more, but Harpo, Chico, and Groucho just go on and on.

One hundred boys and girls will have an opportunity to see this picture with me at United Artists' theater next week. On Thursday, July 15, fifty boys and the same number of girls will file into the cool big theater and see one of the best comedies of the season.

If you think you'd like to be one of this group, better write me a letter about it, because I'm going to select my guests from among the youngsters who write and tell me why they'd enjoy such a party.

Just write and tell me in your own words why you want to come to this party, and be sure to give me your full name, address and age. Don't just sign your letter "Mary" or put your address on the envelope only. Each child must write his own letter—requests from parents will not be considered. If you plan on writing you'd better hurry, because Thursday—day after tomorrow—is the deadline, and all letters will be read and judged on that day.

The mail has been pouring in, but you still have a chance to have your letter considered if you'll get busy on it right away and mail it to Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

Culbertson's "Gold Book of Bidding and Play"

VALUE OF GRAND SLAM NOT VULNERABLE OR VULNERABLE.

[Copyright: 1937: By Ely Culbertson.]

If on the rubber game I bid a grand slam and am defeated by one trick, by losing a finesse, my loss is the value of a small slam vulnerable plus 100 points [for an undoubled undertrick], making a total of 1,530 points. Had my finesse succeeded I would have scored 2,210 points, or 680 points extra. In other words, I have risked 1,530 points to gain 680 points, where the blind finesse offered but an equal chance to win; very foolish odds indeed. Furthermore, a number of end plays such as a throw-in play, where a trick is given up in order to gain an extra trick, will not be available at a grand slam bid. Therefore, justifiable odds for a grand slam must be better than 2 to 1.

A grand slam should be bid when twelve winners are definitely certain and when the thirteenth winner will fail to materialize only in case of a bad break. This rule is the same, vulnerable or not vulnerable.

North: ♠ A Q 10 6 ♥ A K J ♦ J 7 ♣ K J 3 2.

South: ♠ K 7 5 4 ♥ 6 3 ♦ A K 9 8 ♣ A Q 5.

A seven spade contract is justified with these hands, since the contract can be made unless one opponent holds four trumps. The odds against this are greater than 2 to 1.

TODAY'S HAND.

West, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

♥ A 10 8 5
♦ 10 6 3

WEST
♠ J 5 3 2
♥ K 7
♦ A J 9 4 2

EAST
♠ K 7
♥ 6 4 3 2

SOUTH
♠ Q 8 6
♥ Q J 9
♦ K Q 7
♣ K Q 6 2

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	1 club	Pass
1 diamond	Pass	Pass	1 no tr'p
Pass	2 no tr'p	Pass	3 no tr'p
Pass	Pass	Pass

South's delayed one no trump was largely predicated on East's sudden cessation of bidding: His three no trump bid after North's raise was further influenced by the fact that West had taken no action over the one no trump.

West opened his highest club. Since East had only one outside entry he decided that the best defense lay in the diamond suit. Therefore he put up his club ace and returned the diamond eight. If South had slipped at this point the contract would have been doomed. Had he played the diamond queen West merely would have signaled with the nine spot. Later, when East took the lead with the spade king, another diamond through declarer would permit West to run his suit.

From the bidding South concluded that the diamond ace certainly was on his left and, that being so, nothing could be lost by ducking. He therefore played the seven and, by doing so, took all the wind out of the defenders' sails. West won with the jack, but could make no return that would defeat the contract. For lack of a better play, and hoping against hope that he might get on lead again, he returned the ace and another diamond. Declarer won and successfully finessed against the heart king, then made spade leads up to dummy in order to keep West off lead. The defenders had to be content with one club, two diamonds, and the spade king.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: Dealer opened the bidding with one heart. Should second hand put in a bid with the following? ♠ Q 9 7 6 4 ♥ 9 ♦ K J 7 6 2 ♣ J 3.

Answer: No. Second hand should pass, whether vulnerable or not vulnerable.

Tomorrow's Hand

Neither hand vulnerable.

SOUTH
♦ A 10 5 2
♣ J 10 4

Mr. Culbertson will discuss this hand in tomorrow's article.

JO-JOTTE POINTER.

"My opponent dealt and I took hearts, the turned trump. After the draw he announced a twenty and, when asked how high, stated 'To the ten.' Mine [in trumps] was higher, so I scored it. How should I play the hand? The turned trump was the ace of hearts, the information card was the ten of diamonds, and the lead was the king of diamonds. My hand was ♠ A K ♥ J 10 9 ♦ A 7 ♣ 9 7."

Your opponent must have ♠ 10 9 8 for his twenty. Therefore, take the first trick with the ace of diamonds and lead out your three trumps. Then lead the nine of clubs and let your opponent lead the spades to you.

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune.]

The influence of the thermometer on human behavior would make a good research problem title for some serious minded student. To any such I cheerfully surrender the idea.

There are dozens of tangents to the problem. Consider the Sunday school picnics which have either been held or not held, according to the dictum of the thermometer. Consider the effect of the thermometer's ups and downs upon the sale of white shoes and bathing suits. Consider, for instance, Elmer Glump, who awoke in fine fettle one morning, but made the mistake of looking at the thermometer, which registered 99. Elmer promptly died of heat prostration.

But it's the influence of the thermometer upon the behavior of foods which is, at present, most interesting to me. Consider the batches of candy ruined every day just because no thermometer was present to gauge the cooking time. Consider the too-brown and hard doughnuts, a result of guesswork in deep fat frying.

Then there are cakes and cookies scorched by unregulated ovens, roasts under or overdone for want of a cooking guide.

A set of cooking thermometers should be considered requisite to every kitchen. If there's no oven regulator, a small oven thermometer which can be set upon the baking shelf is almost a necessity. Be sure, when buying one, that it is instantly and easily readable, for if it isn't, the oven door will be open long enough to cause a perceptible drop in the mercury, and consequent inaccurate reading.

Besides the oven heat regulator, every kitchen needs a thermometer for candies, frostings, and jellies, one for deep fat frying, and another which records the internal temperatures of meat. The meat thermometer is inserted in a knife-cut slit in a roast or fowl, and will report accurately the inner state of doneness. Only by the thermometer test may one judge absolutely whether a roast is rare, medium or well done.

Most standard recipes specify the proper temperatures to which various foods should be cooked, but it is helpful to have at hand charts for various types of cookery to be used as a guide. These charts might be clipped and kept in some accessible kitchen drawer.

TEMPERATURES FOR COOKING CANDIES

Type of candy—	Temperature.	Cold water test.
Fudge, penuchi, opera creams	234 or 236 degrees	Soft ball
Fondant	238 or 240 degrees	Soft ball
Caramels	246 or 248 degrees	Firm ball
Taffies	265 to 270 degrees	Hard ball
Butterscotch, toffee	290 to 300 degrees	Crack

TEMPERATURES FOR DEEP FAT FRYING

Food—	Temperature.	Cooking time.
Croquettes [Cooked mixtures]	390 degrees	1 minute
Doughnuts	375 degrees	3-5 minutes
Fritters [Uncooked mixtures]	360 to 375 degrees	3-5 minutes
Potatoes [½ inch strips]	350 to 400 degrees	5 minutes

TEMPERATURES FOR MEAT

Meat—	Internal temp.	Oven temp.
Fresh pork	185 degrees	300-350 degrees
Lamb, well done	182 degrees	300-350 degrees
Lamb, slightly rare	175 degrees	300-350 degrees
Beef, well done	180 degrees	300-350 degrees
Beef, medium	160 degrees	300-350 degrees
Beef, rare	140 degrees	300-350 degrees

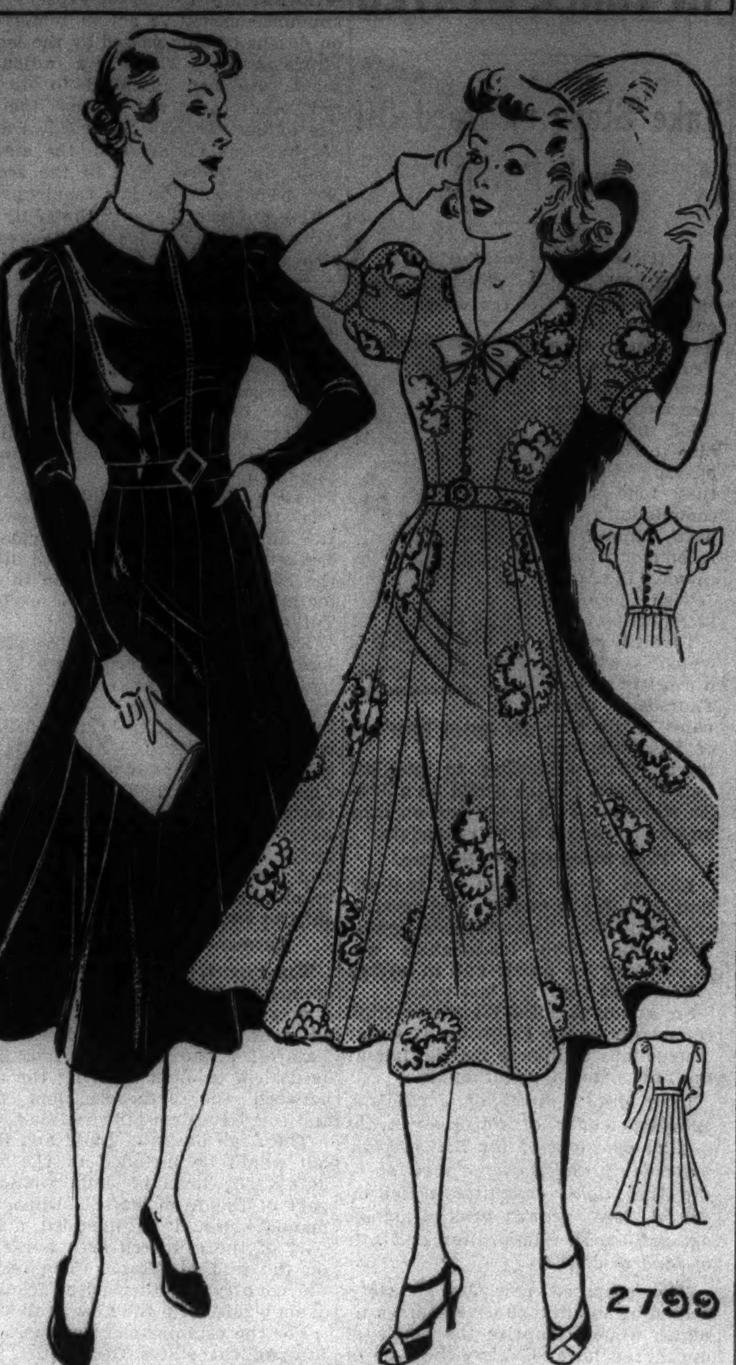
WHITE PIQUE SUN-BACK DRESS WITH CLEVER PRINTED BOLERO!

The slim little dress goes in for active sun-tanning. With the bolero, it's dressed up enough for any summer occasion. 12 to 20.

COTTON CORNER.....4TH FLOOR

The Full-Skirted Silhouette



JUNIOR GIRL'S DRESS.

Junior silhouettes, that is, those requiring size 11 to 19, are ideal foundations for the full-skirt fashion. Slenderly molded bustlines and infinitesimal waists top skirts that swing into infinity from a carefully fitted hipline. That's the picture, and that's the way you will appear in the summer model presented today. This pattern takes beautifully to cottons, linens, tub silks and sheers.

The version at the left, with the tailored collar and zippered front, is perfect for business and the more austere moments of a busy day. The model at the right will take you to many an afternoon event and informal date with your best beau. It has a V neckline with a narrow collar and pert bow. Instead of a zipper it takes to the more feminine note of buttons in a prim row down the front of the bodice.

Prints and plain shades are equally effective for this model, although plain dark colors are best for business. But for parties you may be as gay as you please. The sketch shows how a large print makes up. Effectively, don't you think so?

Style No. 2799 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17, and 19 years. Size 15 requires 4⅜ yards of 39 inch material, with ⅝ yard of 39 inch contrasting.

Norse Beauty Ruins Nerves of Movie Cast

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., July 5.—[Special.]—This place has beheld many odd sights in the interest of movie making, but one of the oddest is that of Chester Seay, lanky, slow talking, middle-aged Virginian, who is daily training an assortment of ex-soldiers, movie cowboys, Mexicans, and orientals recruited from the Los Angeles laundries and vegetable gardens in how to shoot with the bow and arrow.

Seay was engaged by Producer Sam Goldwyn, who is backing "The Adventures of Marco Polo," to instruct 500 men, if necessary, in archery. What Goldwyn forgot to tell Seay was that he would have to teach his grumbling pupils how to use short, curved bows similar to those carried by the Mongol warriors of Genghis Khan and Kublai Khan eight centuries ago, instead of the common or garden variety of American sporting goods house and girls' college archery sets.

Seay had already handled the archery instruction for the extras in "The Crusades," "Cleopatra," "Sign of the Cross" and "The Warrior's Husband," but none of that bow and arrow equipment was like the little crescent shaped, baffling instruments found in Mongolia at the time of Marco Polo's travels.

One of Seay's pupils is Sigrid Gurie, making her screen debut as Princess Kukachin, Gary Cooper's sweetheart in the story. This Norse beauty has to learn to shoot arrows because Robert E. Sherwood, author of the screen play, wrote in a piece of business in which she makes Marco Polo's acquaintance by nearly hitting Marco [Gary] with an arrow. "She's not a very good student," Seay said mournfully. "We're going to have to watch out that she doesn't shoot the director, or perhaps one of the visitors like yourself who are always coming to watch things and interrupting our progress on this set."

Betty Jaynes, Chicago 16 year old opera singer and budding film star, had a lot of new found celebrity friends to dinner to entertain her house guest, Mrs. J. T. Leathers of Chicago. . . . The girl who makes the third of the threesome with Bob Taylor and his fiancée, Barbara Stanwyck, is Mrs. Robert Beal, the actor's cousin from Nebraska. . . . Richard Winslow, orchestra leader who is on contract at Metro studio, has reconstructed his attic into a miniature of the Coconut Grove night club, and entertains his guests there. . . . Since Buster Keaton received his comeback contract to direct short reelers at M-G-M studio, gruff Wallace Beery, who is renowned in film circles for his unsentimental side, has offered to share the ornate Beery dressing room with Buster. In the old days this dressing room belonged to Keaton, but that was while Buster was on the film heights, and Beery wasn't. . . .

For their scenes in "Thoroughbreds Don't Cry," Mickey Rooney and Freddie Bartholomew have been patiently taking instruction and practice in how to fall off a horse. . . . Joan Crawford had her servant staf fetch luncheon from home, and served on the set of her picture "The Bride Wore Red," with Mrs. Irving Berlin [Ellin Mackay] as luncheon guest. Miss Crawford endeared herself to her technical crew during the last week by standing treat daily during the seven day 90 degree heat wave and providing bucketfuls of ice cream. . . . Kent Taylor suffered two cracked ribs in a screen fight with Joe Sawyer for "The Lady Fights Back" at Universal. Irene Hervey is the lead opposite Taylor in the story.

H. C. Potter, New York stage director and playwright, who became one of Hollywood's higher priced movie writers and executives, has resigned from direction of David O. Selznick's film version of "Adventures of Tom Sawyer" because of what was announced as a difference of opinion with the producer regarding the screen treatment of Mark Twain's story. . . . Douglas Fairbanks Jr. will sail Friday for London to salvage as much as possible from his Criterion Films corporation. Young Doug is one of many who have given up film ambitions in Britain after the financial disaster which befell the overexpanded movie industry there. . . .

Good Morning!

THE COLONEL.

He met her on a homebound ship
And he was very lonely. . . .

THE LADY.

[A charming Englishwoman whose aviator fiancé had soared away into a sunset and never come back.]

She really liked him [the colonel] very much,
But she "could love one only."

THE OTHER MAN.

Was of the colonel's reg-i-ment
Resembled de-ceased lover
About whom the fair lady's thoughts
So constantly did hover . . .

SAID THE COLONEL:

"PLEASE marry me, Most Beautiful!
I will demand so little!
I know your love you'll give me not;
Nay, not one jot nor tittle. BUT
Respect me, dear, you say you do
And yern to be 'contented'
Content I'll give you—and a HOME

THE LADY.

She relented. BUT—in

THE DESERT.

The lady met the man who so
Her lost love did re-semble:
His eyes, his smile, his voice, his form
Did set her all a-tremble. . . .

RESULTS.

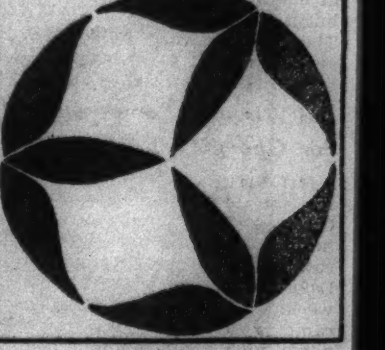
This desert triangle works out
Much as you have expected.
The lady's honor, by both men,
Is properly pro-tected.
The colonel sees all and does what
He thinks will be for THE best,
And sim-plifies this thing and that
By a most noble beau geste.

SUMMARY.

Despite the lovely po-etry
I trust you have been reading,
The fil-lum at the Chi-ca-go
Is really not worth heeding.
Good acting, yes. But labored yarn
I thought was stodgy—very,
Its humor like to its locale—
"Far, far from Tipperary."

See you tomorrow.

Applique Quilt Unites Beauty and Simplicity



Autumn's Leaves.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

The simplicity and beauty of Autumn's Leaves marks the quilt as one of the outstanding examples of applique work. This pattern is an old design which was used as early as 1830, and the favored colors at that time were brown and white. Modern color schemes are a bit more elaborate. The block measures 12½ inches when completed, and the entire quilt is composed of applique blocks surrounded by an 8 inch border and a one-half inch bias binding.

Three Houses On North Shore Change Hands

Mrs. Frank J. Bersbach to Move in Fall.

BY JUDITH CASS.

THREE handsome houses in and near the Indian Hill club grounds have changed hands in the last few weeks. The big gray frame house at 30 Indian Hill road, that has been the setting for the wedding of one daughter, and the débuts of two of the three daughters of Mrs. Frank J. Bersbach, will pass into neighbors' hands after the wedding of Miss Helen Bersbach to Robert Hall McCormick III. Sept. 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Blunt are to become the new tenants of the house. Their present home is in Locust road, not far from the Bersbach home into which they and their children will move in October.

Later this week Mrs. Earl R. McCarthy and her brother, William McEwen, will take possession of their new home, the charming white house at 100 Indian Hill road, that formerly belonged to Mrs. J. N. Wollett. The house at 156 Chestnut street, Winnetka, in which Mr. McEwen and his sister have been living since leaving their former home in Hill road, has become the property of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Dawes. Mr. and Mrs. Dawes have been staying with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Dawes, in Evanston, since they returned from the east to make their home here. They will not move into their own house until next month.

Gathering Place for Young Folk.

During the years that the Bersbach children were growing up their home was a center of attraction to all of their young friends. Miss Barbara Bersbach was introduced to society at a tea there in the fall of 1934, and two years later the reception following her marriage to William B. M. Hutchinson again filled the house with family friends. Miss Helen Bersbach was introduced at a luncheon at home in December, 1935.

The need for a large house has decreased in the last few years with the marriage of three children. The eldest son, the late Theodore Brentano Bersbach, who married Miss Elva Eitel in 1934, was the first to leave the family home. Mrs. Hutchinson was the next, for she and her husband went to New York to live. Frank John Bersbach Jr. and Miss Durie Malcolm were married last April and live in town.

The approaching marriage of Miss Helen Bersbach and Mr. McCormick will leave Miss Joan Bersbach, a debutante of the last season, and young Bobby Bersbach the only ones remaining with their mother. During the last few months Mrs. Theodore Bersbach and her infant daughter, Theodora Brentano, named for her father and grandfather, Judge Theodore Brentano, have been making their home with Mrs. Bersbach.

Miss Helen Bersbach returned recently from a visit in the east. Her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Robert Hall McCormick, will not spend the summer at her home in Bar Harbor as usual, but is taking a house in Lake Forest. The senior Mr. McCormick is in Italy at the present time, but will return to Chicago late in August.

All Aboard Tomorrow for Georgian Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Magie, II., the Jack Manierres, the Hyde Gillettes, Mrs. Wilmarth Ickes, and her son Don are starting off tomorrow by motor for Georgian bay and Lake Ontario to spend nearly three weeks on a fishing, boating and camping trip. The Gillettes will go north, with their camp equipment in a trailer, by way of Lake Beulah, Wis., where they will leave their little daughter with her great-uncle and great-aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Shippen Jenks, who spend each summer there.

The Magies have been to Lake Ontario three times, and will be able to take the initiative in the exploring to be done in the two boats that the group will share.

The William Victor Youngs, and Mr. and Mrs. August Kochs, and their families, also spend the summers at Lake Beulah.

Mrs. William W. Dixon and her sons have gone to Fish Creek, Wis., to spend the summer, and Mr. Dixon will join them later. The Dixons have leased their summer home in Oconomowoc this season.

Lauds Steindel Concert Heard at Grant Park

Critic Praises Musicianship of Conductor.

BY CECIL M. SMITH.

Just before sunset, as the slanting rays of the sun flooded Grant park with warm, yellow light, Walter Steindel, at the head of his 75 piece orchestra raised his baton to start the fifth of the nightly series of free outdoor concerts given in the band shell at the foot of Eleventh street.

The most challenging items on Mr. Steindel's program were the "unfinished" symphony of Schubert, Liszt's "Les Préludes," and the prelude to Wagner's "Die Meistersinger." As one who had not heard Mr. Steindel conduct before, I was delighted at all times by his judicious and sensitive feeling for just the correct tempo, and by the serious musicianship which marked his approach to everything he chose to play.

Mary Ann Kaufman, Chicago dramatic soprano, appeared as soloist in the prayer from Weber's "Der Freischütz" and Bohm's "Calm as the Night." Miss Kaufman is one of the most gratifying of our Chicago sopranos, and much of her singing was of velvet loveliness.

Toward the end of the Weber aria, however, she evidently forgot that she had a microphone to help her address her 15,000 auditors and began to push her voice much too hard. I hope she will correct this tendency before she sings in the open again.

Tonight at 7:30 [all the Tuesday concerts are to be at 7:30 instead of 8] Richard Czerwonky will direct the Chicago Philharmonic orchestra in a program featuring Tschaikowsky's Fourth symphony. Ruth Lyon, soprano, will be soloist.

Ernest Ansermet, Swiss conductor who is to lead the Chicago Symphony orchestra in four concerts at Ravinia park beginning Thursday, has sent in a revised list of programs. They are as follows:

Thursday at 8:30:

Overture to "News of the Day"..Hindemith
"Mother Goose" ....Ravel
"La Mer"..........................Debussy
Suite, "Scheherazade".....Rimski-Korsakov

Friday at 8:30:

Symphony No. 5, E Minor.....Tschaikowsky

New York, July 5.—(AP)—The man who defied his church superiors to give the duke and duchess of Windsor a religious wedding arrived here today "to tell Americans how to be good Christians."

When he finally was settled in his Fifth avenue hotel, the Rev. Robert Anderson Jardine made it clear that he decided his little parish in Yorkshire, England, was too small for him even before he incurred the wrath of the Church of England.

The Rev. Mr. Jardine revealed that he considers both the duke and duchess of Windsor as "deeply religious people, contrary to the general belief," and that he had long considered performing their marriage ceremony, but volunteered only five days before the wedding, "because I felt I was not the man to officiate."

"I thought it very unfair of the Church of England not to look at the wedding from the spiritual standpoint," he said. "The couple were asking for a religious service and it was refused. The archbishop of Canterbury took a political view of the subject rather than a spiritual view.

"It is a real lasting match. They are intensely happy and those who say that it will not last are false prophets."

He called himself "a sky pilot" as he posed for pictures with an aviator who is going to fly him on a two months' lecture tour of the United States. He also posed with Hugh C. Ernst, president of the radio organization which is financing his trip, and with Dr. Christian F. Reisner, who is going to have the English vicar preach in his Methodist Broadway temple here Sunday night.

A ruddy, barrel-chested man, the Rev. Mr. Jardine told how he "always wanted to preach in America." He has big plans for his return to England, too, but said he won't be able to speak on the government-controled radio.

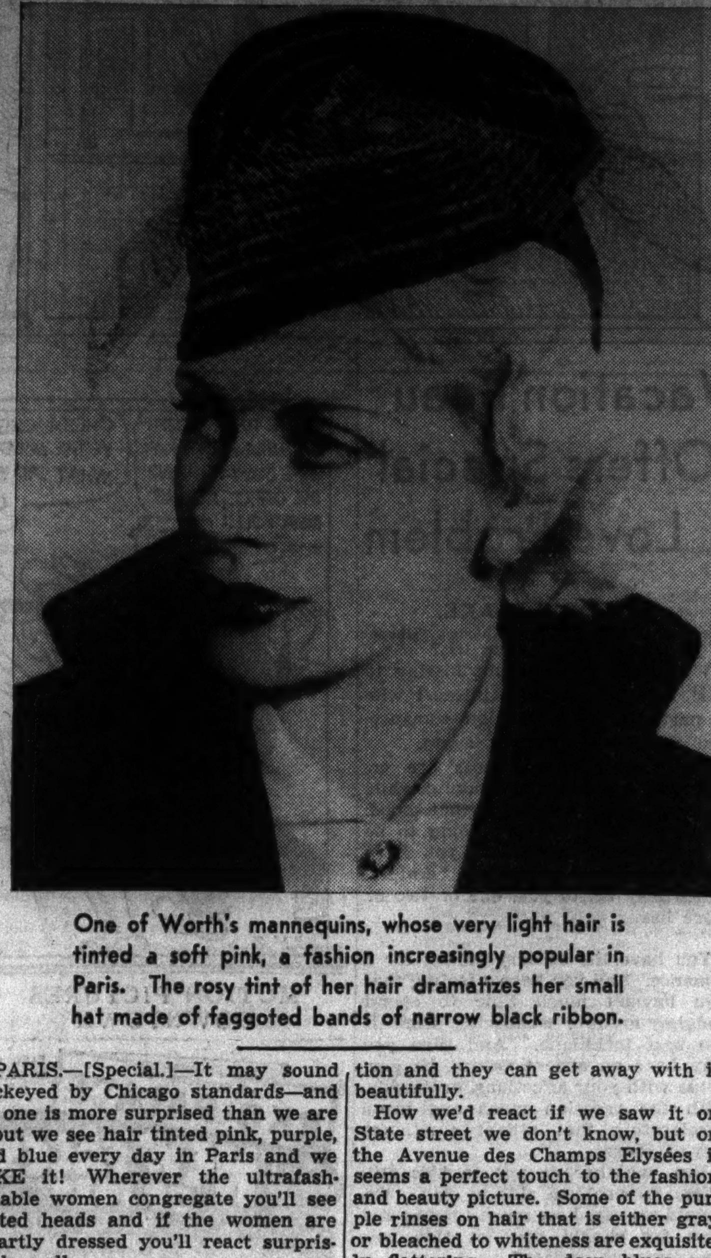
"There's a worse censorship over there than Hitler's or Mussolini's," he said.

He will broadcast sermons from Atlantic City, N. J., and from here Friday and Saturday nights and hopes for more time on the American radio, but he said, "I'm not telling my plans in England."

The Rev. Mr. Jardine revealed that forty years ago when he was a boy of 19 he was an atheist—his father was head of an atheist organization. One night he wandered into a Methodist meeting in Liverpool, became a Methodist street corner preacher and later a missionary on the Shetland Islands. Then he joined the Protestant Free Church movement before he joined the Anglican Church in 1923.

"I always do what I think meself the Master would do and I never bother me head over what the authorities say is right."

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS



One of Worth's mannequins, whose very light hair is tinted a soft pink, a fashion increasingly popular in Paris. The rosy tint of her hair dramatizes her small hat made of faggoted bands of narrow black ribbon.

PARIS.—[Special.]—It may sound cockeyed by Chicago standards—and no one is more surprised than we are—but we see hair tinted pink, purple, and blue every day in Paris and we LIKE it! Wherever the ultrafashionable women congregate you'll see tinted heads and if the women are smartly dressed you'll react surprisingly well.

We've seen purple and blue rinses before, of course—conservative ones, with bluish tinge used to dramatize snowy white hair. Over here women who are dramatically chic don't stop with a faint tint. They take it big and the effect on certain women isn't nearly as theatrical as a word picture must make it sound. They're women set apart anyway by their clothes, their jewels, their air of sophistication and they can get away with it beautifully.

How we'd react if we saw it on State street we don't know, but on the Avenue des Champs Elysées it seems a perfect touch to the fashion and beauty picture. Some of the purple rinses on hair that is either gray or bleached to whiteness are exquisitely flattering. The deep blues are more difficult, but even more striking, and the pinks, framing the right faces, are charming and effective.

We're not advocating these, of course. It would be a wild world if there were a rush of rinses to the head. But the woman who can carry it off in Paris is entitled to try it. The ones we've seen have all been successful—at least if it's chic you're after.

One of Worth's mannequins is a slender, fair skinned beauty who keeps her hair tinted pink—a dusting of strawberry over hair bleached the whiteness of sugar. And it's a knockout, especially with black clothes and flattering black hats.

ELEANOR NANGLE.

Wide-Set Eye Appearance Is Desirable One

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

A certain fashion show recently conducted in New York, in its advertised invitations appealed to young women to be sure to appear in the audience because movie scouts would be on hand to do their well known picking and choosing in their own undercover way. It was suggested, to this invited young audience, that a movie contract might await the girl with wide-set eyes and "clothes shoulders." These features, obviously, being favorites of the movie scouts.

Of wide-set eyes we'd speak today. We'll leave the "clothes shoulders" until tomorrow. There was a time when the girl with eyes set closely together had to go through life grinning and bearing it; or, perhaps, not even aware that this formation of eye was not to the good. But today, she hears so much about the beauty of wide-set eyes, she is not likely to remain in ignorance about close-set ones being a liability. And being today's girl on a quest for every single improvement possible, she studies those eyes of hers, and studies and puts into effect means of widening the distance of which we speak.

Rarely today does one find the close-set appearance due to eyebrows meeting. I don't recall seeing such a sight for ages. This is because of the tweezing ease with which they are disposed of, or other modern means of this superfluous hair removal.

It's amazing what shortening the eyebrow line will do. That is, plucking out the hairs toward the nose a fraction of an inch. I've seen great improvement with this simple feat. Then if you carry your eyeshadow out toward the temples, omitting it from the inner corners of the eyes completely, you'll lend more of the width you want.

Another little aid, although a little distance removed, is to brush the hair back off the temples. Don't pull hair forward for it adds to the close-set, cramped look. And keep the full area above and around the eyes free of wild hairs.

New Golf Togs Are Smart and Easy to Wear

Hunt for Sport Clothes Bears Fruit.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Shoppers searching for a faultless golf outfit will cheer a certain winner we've found in a Chicago shop that really goes in for correct and comfortable sports clothes with high fashion emphasis. Usually golf dresses are so well designed that the snap and style is designed right out, or else they are so complicated to get into that you give up in disgust. This new find, we hasten to proclaim, is different.

The material is a stunning natural tone roughish linen, supercool and unquestionably the nicest of all summer fabrics. Down the front are silver metal removable studs. The sleeves are short, and the tops cut for freedom and comfort. The front of the smart skirt has a couple of umbrella rib tucks, but the action blouse back is the big news. Cleverly set in to the back section, just where it's needed, is a panel of linen colored lastex that will stretch from here to there and back again. Covering this lastex is a loose panel of the linen of the dress.

The way this linen panel covers the lastex panel is the telling magic of the entire outfit. Sewed securely into the shoulder seams only, it is then fastened smoothly at the waist with the belt that ties in front. Every inch of the lastex is concealed, by the upper linen panel, nothing binds or pulls, and you play the most strenuous of games with complete freedom and comfort.

This new invention tubs as only linen can, and it's good looking enough to wear at the country club or even into town.

While you're inspecting the golf dress take a look at the new length one piece tennis dresses in the same shop. They are made of angel skin sharkskin, smoother but not any whiter than ordinary sharkskin, and are grand tennis outfits because of the Spartan simplicity, high neckline, and comfortable sleeveless tops. A minimum of deep blue braid is the contrast trim.

"I Devise and Bequeath"

By Louise Bargelt and Fielding James

SYNOPSIS.

On his return from abroad Michael Eden, heir to millions, postpones his marriage to Katharine McCann because his foster father, John Millis, tells Michael his foster mother is ill and needs him. Katharine's roommate, Joan, is engaged to Michael's friend, Terry Newton. From all sides Katharine is warned to break Michael away from John Millis. Millis asks Michael to sign a will making him Michael's heir. Michael signs, expecting to change the will after his marriage to Katharine. Mrs. Millis attempts suicide when she discovers her husband flirting with her nurse. Michael rescues her and agrees to take her away from Millis without telling any one where they are going.

INSTALMENT XX.

SHADOWED.

Michael stared at Mrs. Millis confusedly. She seemed pleased.

"You don't mind that we are being shadowed?" he asked.

"I shouldn't have been much flattered if John had let me walk out on him without showing at least that much interest."

Michael drew a deep breath.

"Perhaps I have misunderstood," he said patiently. "Perhaps we are just playing a little game of hide and seek with—with father? Perhaps, when he has been duly disciplined, we are going back home?"

There was no answer.

"That was not what you said, you know, mother," he reminded her.

"Dear me, Michael, I never, never knew any one so serious minded as you are."

"May I map it out that way, mother?" Michael asked, eagerly. "Shall we be going back home soon?" Home, to Michael, meant Katharine.

Mrs. Millis looked at him steadily. She looked white and pinched. "I doubt it," she said sadly. Her words were more impressive than a flat assertion would have been.

Michael's eyes darkened with a disappointment he could not conceal.

"Do you still think it best that father should not know your whereabouts?" he asked.

"Yes."

"Do you care where we go?"

"Why should I?" Mrs. Millis said wearily. "We make our own heaven and hell. We——"

Michael interrupted. "Now listen, please—"

Mrs. Millis never had a clear idea of the days that followed. She knew only that she was in the hands of a very resolute young man. She was from an easygoing southern family. She had married a man who, under ordinary circumstances, took life lightly and lazily. She was bewildered, and a little galled, by the masterful young courier she seemed to have attached to herself. There were brief orders, silent exits, dark platforms, strange little hotels, early departures, smelly hired automobiles, missing suitcases, and dominating it all, a self possessed young man, who scoffed at minor losses.

Not a neighbor was in sight—only rolling meadows.

"Mother," he said once, in a tone of firm patience. "You made your choice, and I'm doing everything that is possible to follow out your wishes. We have succeeded in throwing every one off of our trail. Don't make it any harder for us both than necessary."

He couldn't add, of course, that nothing could make it harder, really, than it was. That outwardly every thought and attention was for his mother. But inwardly, Katharine was never for an instant, out of his mind.

There were times when Mrs. Millis felt a little rested, that it amused her vastly. The boy was certainly taking this exodus seriously. Most of the time, however, she was lonely and frightened and homesick for John. It did not grow better, it grew worse. She had had visions of a sunny little corner of the south, such as she had known well in her girlhood. Instead she realized she was moving rapidly farther and farther to the north. The fields were white with frost. In many places there was snow. In the bare branches of the trees the wind whistled and funereal pines were outlined against a steel blue wintry sky. And Michael was staring out absorbedly, like a traveler returned from a far country, getting his first glimpse of home. A faint color had come into his pale face, and his lips were curved in an unconscious smile. He would bring Katharine here after they were married. She would love it!

"Beautiful, isn't it, mother?" he would say in soft ecstasy, taking her cold little hand in both of his.

"Beautiful!" she would echo. To her undying credit be it recorded that she deceived a very watchful son. The women of her family had had long training in accommodating themselves to their men.

But when they reached their destination, it took all of Mrs. Millis' fortitude not to break down and weep. She was ushered proudly into an old New England house, shut in on all sides by white hills. Not a neighbor was in sight—only rolling white meadows sparkling with a thin micalike fall of fresh snow and showing here and there the blue-black shadows of great bare trees.

The big kitchen into which they went first was, it must be admitted, a miracle of warmth and comfort. The living room adjoining was decently warm. But the house was large, and each step one went from the kitchen the rooms grew colder and more forbidding. Never in all her life had Mrs. Millis dreamed of such glacial forbidding rooms as she found in most of the house.

Michael did not know it.

He took off her wraps tenderly, installed her in a big old rocker in a sunny window not far from the stove, handed her a week-old newspaper and an old almanac, and set to work to engineer an appetizing lunch. Gradually she found herself thawing—slightly. Kerosene lamps, mohair furniture, white marble mantels, photograph albums, a little organ! And a thin-lipped female of late middle age, who waited on her grudgingly, and whose tired eyes softened only for Michael.

Then a cat rubbed against her knee and Mrs. Millis appropriated the cat. A dog, with beautiful understanding eyes, came up to be introduced. Mrs. Millis smiled weakly and decided that it might not be hell after all. But a very chilly heaven!

"Michael, where on earth are we?" she ventured at last.

He smiled teasingly. "What does it matter?" he asked. Then, as he saw her flush of resentment, he hastened to add: "This is really my house, mother. My house, with no curse attached. It came to me through my own mother. She used to spend her summers here with her uncle and aunt, who owned the place, and they left it to her when they died. It has been in the Bassett family for years." He smiled, rather shyly. "I hunted it up when I was at college and had it put in shape, and put a caretaker on the place."

"You never said anything about it," she said wonderingly.

"I did broach the matter to—to father," Michael said, coloringly slightly. "He thought it was foolish so I said no more about it."

"Just went ahead with your plans," his mother said dryly. "Where did you get the money?"

"It didn't take much. I had a big allowance and I economized. That was the first time I found out how little money one really needs to do anything he really enjoys. I like the place. I hope you do."

"Yes, yes," she said absently, drawing her fur more closely about her. She wasn't cold, but she was looking out of the window, and it did look so cold. "Where do I sleep? My teeth chatter at the thought."

"Every house of this sort has a bedroom off the kitchen."

He crossed the room and opened a door. "Come peek," he said encouragingly.

The room into which they went was very large. It contained an efficient stove which was radiating heat. The room was rather stunningly fitted out with good old furniture. On the substantial bed a beautiful old quilt made a splash of color. A very fresh looking down quilt was rolled up on the foot of the bed.

"Michael, shall I be sleeping downstairs all alone?"

"Not if you are even a little nervous, mother. I'll sleep right here in the kitchen with kitty and Fido," he chuckled. "Mother dear, brace up. You sha'n't freeze nor shall you starve. When you decide that you are about to die of loneliness we will just pull up stakes and move on."

Vacation Beau Offers Special Love Problem

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

We talked before about kissing to hold that young man's interest who is party to your vacation romance. But we'll talk about it again.

These summer romances are going to be and are breathtaking while they last. You set out in that mood. And your vacation isn't going to be a howling success unless you have gathered your quota of "scalps," which may be, to you, one or two or more beaux.

You have the scenery all set for a romance. And you have a feeling that you haven't much time to spend hedging around, wondering what is the best technique. And then you may have an ardent nature, be generous with your affections, ordinarily, with the vacation moon and mood accelerating that ardent emotionalism of yours.

But, whether or not to kiss still offers its problem side to you. Or, should we say, how much kissing and how far should you let this new acquaintance proceed.

Well, maybe you'll meet the "one and only" at that. But, if you do, your problem automatically clears itself up for you. You'll kiss him and you will know that between you two it's a seal of something beyond the problem we happen to be discussing. It's when you don't know much about the fellow that the problem arises.

Your answer here is simple, just a little reasoning on the nature of man, at home or on vacation. Satiety isn't the dish. There's no glamor in it for him. No chase. No excitement. No zest when you tumble to his request with alacrity. It's just the old law of supply and demand. Give a man what he thinks he wants too generously and too easily, and the very quantity and ease of it reduces its value. Kisses can be just as much a drug on the market as anything else he may think he wanted.

Another little fact to register is that girls of the free and easy type don't appear really exciting at all, after one evening or two. But mostly consider that a reputation of promiscuity is a messy one to get, because it clings and bounds back up at you at the most unwelcome moments.

Hutchins Appointed to Governing Board of St. John's College

Baltimore, Md., July 5.—(AP)—The appointment of Dr. Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, as a member of the board of visitors and governors of St. John's college at Annapolis was announced here today.

Dr. Hutchins praised the new administration at St. John's in a letter to Dr. Amos F. Hutchins, chairman of the board. The two educators are not related.

The appointment of Dr. Hutchins was the third addition made to the administrative personnel of St. John's from the University of Chicago staf in recent weeks. Springfellow Barr has been named president of the college and Dr. Scott Buchanan has been named dean. Both were members last year of the committee on the liberal arts at the Chicago university, R. Buchanan serving as chairman.

Chicagoans Add to Tributes Sent Jerusalem Educator

Gov. Horner and Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, were among those who paid tribute to Dr. Judah L. Magnes, president of the Hebrew university in Jerusalem, yesterday, his sixtieth birthday. Tributes and testimonials from scores of educators and Jewish leaders, collected into an album, were forwarded to Dr. Magnes, who is expected to visit this country in a few months. The presentation was sponsored by the American Friends of the Hebrew university.

Mrs. Frank J. Bersbach to Move in Fall.

are not expecting to enjoy the summer abroad as most of the members of Mrs. Stevenson's family are doing, but they will spend the hot weather months in Lake Forest, where they hope to move about July 15. Mrs. Edmund J. Doering, Mrs. Stevenson's mother, and her sisters, Miss Nancy Doering and Mrs. Doering Earling, and their brother, Edmund, all are in France at the present time. Young Mr. Doering will be a sophomore at Harvard in the fall. The senior Mr. Doering is motoring through Canada.

Mrs. Walther Buchen is in the east to meet her daughter, Miss Esther Buchen, who is arriving today on the Ile de France. Miss Buchen has spent the last year in Paris taking her junior year of college work at the Sorbonne. Walther Buchen Jr. has gone to Camp Highlands in Wisconsin for the summer, and the rest of the family probably will take a cottage at Bridgman, Mich., for the month of August.

Hutchinses to Sail for England Today.

President and Mrs. Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago are sailing today for England. They plan to spend most of their summer vacation motoring through the countryside, and will return to Chicago the latter part of August.

Mr. and Mrs. Shreve C. Badger are driving east today with their children. They will go first to Long Island to spend a week with friends. Mrs. Badger and the children then will go to Vermont to spend the summer with her mother, Mrs. John H. Winterbotham, and Mr. Badger will return to Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark J. Lawrence and Miss Audrey Lawrence have gone east to spend the summer at their camp at Upper St. Regis, N. Y. Miss Nancy Blaine, who now is at Timberline ranch in Arizona, will join them there the middle of July.

Now that the horse show season is over in the vicinity of Chicago, Miss Elizabeth Crawford, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David A. Crawford, has gone away to visit friends. With her aunt, Mrs. Henry A. Jones of Tuscaloosa, Ala., Miss Crawford has gone to New York. She will visit in Birmingham, Ala., before returning to Golf.

In celebration of France's Independence day, which falls on July 14, the date of the historic storming of the bastile, Rene Weiller, consul general of France, and Mme. Weiller have issued invitations to a reception from 11 until 12 o'clock in the morning a week from tomorrow at the consulate, 919 North Michigan avenue.

Dr. Budd C. Corbus Jr. has returned to Chicago from New Orleans and has become a resident physician at the County hospital.

Tree Rings Found in Charcoal May Date Indian Mounds

Dr. Fay-Cooper Cole, chairman of the University of Chicago's department of anthropology, announced yesterday that Indian culture in Illinois and the central west, known to have existed at least 2,000 years ago, may be dated to the exact year.

Using the tree ring dating method developed in the southwest, Dr. Florence Hawley is proving this method workable by using charcoal found in Indian mounds and camp sites. Working this week in Wisconsin, Dr. Hawley will extend her research through Illinois, Indiana, and Kentucky into the Tennessee valley.

In the southwest the dry climate has preserved timber for centuries, but in this area the moister climate has rotted all early timber and tree stumps, except those which have been burned into charcoal.

[Copyright: 1937: By the New York Times.]

AMSTERDAM, July 5.—Reformed Judaism's prospects in America are exceedingly favorable, Rabbi Joseph Rauch of Louisville concluded in a paper he read before the fourth congress of the World Union for Progressive Judaism, being held here. Today the delegates met and reports from ten countries were read. Rabbi Isserman stressed the connection between prophetic religion and political democracy. He suggested that a united religious front of Jews, Catholics, and Protestants should be formed to preserve western civilization.

Peaceful Home Important for Child's Welfare

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

There is much talk these days about security—financial security and other kinds.

There is a great deal of talk about the necessity of a child feeling secure in the rapidly changing world in which we now live. We have talked in this column a great deal about how largely his feeling of security is brought about by his having the love and the understanding and the loyalty of his parents. But there is one angle of this subject of the security his home should bring to him we have not touched upon in a long time. Let us do so today.

I would like to start by asking you a few questions—and since I'll never hear the answers which you will make honestly in your own mind, I can make them quite pointed without being personal:

Do you and your husband quarrel in front of your children?

Do you and your husband disagree, often and seriously, in the presence of the children?

Are you and your husband so fundamentally antagonistic toward each other that it tinges the atmosphere?

Do you and your husband not openly quarrel but say cutting or sarcastic things to each other, or glare at each other over the children's heads?

A child's mother and father are the very foundations of his world. You may not realize that but it is so—a basic fact that parents should try to assimilate.

If your answer to even one of these questions is yes, you are harming your child. Every mature person knows that there are men and women who are married who simply do not belong together temperamentally and physically — and perhaps socially. Every one knows that often one partner in a marriage either slights the fineness of the marriage tie, or actually outrages it. But most mature people also know that much discord and many actually unpleasant scenes are unnecessary—because of the childishness or lack of self-control of grown-up men and women.

Whatever the fundamental or surface situation may be, if you are going to remain married or if you only agree to live under the same roof and you have children, you must evolve some sort of a working basis. Sometimes concern for a child's welfare will create a unity of endeavor between a man and a woman. Their serenity and security are of vital importance, not only to their present but to their future well being.

This subject will be continued tomorrow.

Furniture Markets Report Good Trade at Opening of Shows

Buyers flocked to the American Furniture Mart and the Merchandise Mart to open the two-week summer furniture market yesterday despite the holiday. Early in the afternoon 1,900 had registered at the Furniture Mart and about 2,000 at the Merchandise Mart. Brisk business was reported.

Results of a national survey revealing that furniture led all other items in department store sales increases [illegible] at the Furniture Mart. It covered 5,600 stores and disclosed a gain of 22 per cent. The report also shows the furniture departments of the stores turned in a profit in 1936. [illegible] cases were the first since the depression.

News of Radio

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Cuff notes from Fourth of July week-end:

That was a stirring interpretation of Patrick Henry's "Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death" speech Hugh Studebaker gave over W-G-N Sunday evening. . . . The current ditty "Gone with the Wind" was given almost as many airings Sunday as the volume has sold. . . . Several new programs got off to a promising start on the Fourth: The new summer show replacing Jack Benny with Jane Froman as the headliner and her husband, Don Ross, as master of ceremonies and singer. Don has a voice well suited to radio and deserves better breaks than he has had up to now. Miss Froman has been too long absent from the air and is an exceedingly welcome addition to the summer fare. As for Fred Lightner, the comedian of the show, he is of the vaudeville old joke type and we fervently hope that he may be quickly dropped. Sample: "How many holes did you play?" "Twenty-one." "How come?" "Well, there were 18, but I dug three more." That ought to give you a fair idea as to what you missed if you failed to catch Lightner.

While many a sponsor turns to frothier entertainment during the summer, the one who lately finished off with "You Don't Have to Believe Bob Ripley" started off a promising summer musical series under the baton of Werner Janssen, who—while he did include a topical George M. Cohan medley—also gave an unusual interpretation of Jan Sibelius' "Finlandia." If you want to spend a summer resting up from the comedians you might try Janssen at 6:30 o'clock Sundays over WLS-NBC.

Andre Kostelanetz is set for a guest appearance with the Chicago Civic Opera orchestra in the Grant park series Saturday, July 31, and Rubinoff with the Chicago Philharmonic orchestra on Friday, Aug. 6.

Roof Garden Concert.

The Jubilee singers, unit of the federal music project, will give a concert this evening in the roof garden of the Jewish People's institute, 3500 Douglas boulevard.

3 for $12.50

The luxuriousness of the silk and the calibre of the workmanship to which it has been subjected would normally entitle these imported P.J.'s to an impressively higher price. However, our recent trip to the Orient enabled us to go to the source of the fabric, and select odds and ends of unusually fine silks, which we had tailored there over our own design.

French-Back Four-Button Bandeaux Imported Silk Shorts

Special at

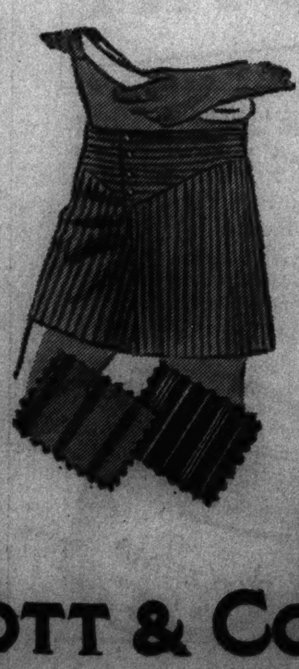
3 for $4.50



You have only to test the silk between thumb and forefinger to realise that these shorts of silk that we went to the Orient for are greatly underpriced. The fabric smooth, firm and cool and their styling—full cut and with French back—provides you with the comfort that shorts made to order for you would be hard put to equal.

WHITE SOX LOSE TWO TO TIGERS, 8-4 AND 7-4

CORINTO WINS STARS AND STRIPES; INFANTRY SECOND

SIR JIM JAMES 3D; FAVORITES SOUNDLYBEATEN

40,000 See Race at Arlington.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Crow for two was served immediately after the running of the Stars and Stripes handicap at Arlington Park yesterday to the bitter rivals, Hal Price Headley's horse, Whopper, and Mrs. Emil Denemark's colt, Finance.

The two had gone to the post the favorites and were pretty confident of victory. After the dead heat they had staged earlier in the week, the crowd of 40,000 was pretty confident too that the only question up for decision was which of the two would be first to pass the finish line.

They both went down in defeat—beaten most decisively by Corinto, stable companion of Finance.

By Length and Half.

And because his roommate, Corinto, won the race, Finance's crow must have tasted better than the helping served to Whopper.

Corinto drove up from behind in the run down the home stretch, conquered Whopper, Finance and Count Morse in order, then went on to win by a length and a half.

Second in the stirring battle was Infantry, a son of Chance Shot. A neck back in third place was Sir Jim James from Detroit, which also closed an enormous amount of ground in the stretch. The 3 year old Eagle Pass from Texas finished fourth.

Three-fifths Off Record.

Corinto ran the mile and a furlong in 1:50, which was three-fifths slower than the track record. He was favorably weighted, carrying only 109 pounds, and was ridden by Jocky Jack Westrope.

In the betting the Denemark entry included, in addition to Corinto and Finance, Chance Ray. Nine went to the post. The race had a gross value of $12,620. The winner's share was $9,000.

The entry paid $8.40 to win, $3.40 to place, and $2.80 to show. Infantry was at $4.20 to place and $3.20 to show. Sir Jim James paid $6.40 to show.

Corinto rolled home to victory before one of the most enthusiastic crowds ever gathered at a Chicago track. There was backing for every horse in the field after Grand Manitou, Bright Light and Prince Torch had been withdrawn from the overnight eligibles.

Finance Starts Well.

Finance buoyed his backers when he broke away in front. Whopper and Count Morse were right behind. They soon raced away to stage a duel of their own rounding the Post and Paddock bend.

Soon the giant Whopper's nose showed in front. Down the back stretch he raced a half length ahead of Count Morse. Finance was third and Infantry had moved into fourth place. Infantry appeared to be the danger at that stage of the struggle. Corinto was outrun during the first six furlongs, but moved along in easy stride in sixth place.

It was on the last turn that Corinto, apparently realizing that his stable companion Finance was in distress, made his move. From sixth place he moved up on the outside. Immediately after the stretch run was under way he poked his nose into the lead.

Down the stretch he ran straight and true. He whipped Infantry a sixth of a mile out. Then the race was over. Corinto gradually pulled away to gain a final advantage of a length and a half.

After they were conquered, Whopper wound up in fifth place, Finance was sixth, and Count Morse eighth. The latter found his top weight assignment of 126 pounds too much of a burden.

Record Crowd in 1929.

There may have been larger crowds at Arlington, but they were not much bigger. Record attendance there was on Classic day in 1929 when Blue Larkspur was the winner.

Jocky club figures for that day were 47,000. Four years ago on July 4 the attendance figures were 45,000. The figures were the same again last year, yet the stands, the lawns, and the spacious promenade grounds around the open air paddock appeared to be more crowded yesterday.

The wagering started as early as 12 o'clock when some 15,000 had congregated at the course. There were many picnic parties both in the stands and on the lawns.

Players of favorites did not fare so well. Because they didn't the $740,845 betting figure was all the more remarkable. High betting marks established at race tracks usually come when the favorites march home one after another. That keeps the money in circulation, the turfmen have long agreed.

Smith Shoots Record 69 in British Trials

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland, July 5.—(AP)—Horton Smith of Chicago, who insisted he wasn't good enough to play on the winning United States Ryder cup team last week at Southport, was good enough today to break ancient Carnoustie's course record and tie the Aubrey Boomer of France for the lead at the end of the first qualifying round for the British open golf championship.

Bagging four birdies in the first six holes in the face of a bitter wind, Smith shot a 69, two under par, to share the spotlight with the transplanted Briton whom he beat for the French open title in 1929.

Start Over Tomorrow.

While Smith was elated over the return of his putting touch—he required only eight putts on the first six greens—neither he nor Boomer was any nearer the title than the more human fellows, such as defending champion Alf Padgham, who took 78.

The championship proper starts on Wednesday, when the low 140 scorers and ties in today's and tomorrow's qualifying start all over again and from scratch. Nevertheless, the day's 18 hole play did justify the prediction that the foreign invasion—specifically that of the eleven man United States Ryder cup squad bolstered by the addition of Bobby Cruickshank, Joe Kirkwood, and Charley Lacey—would be hard to withstand.

A stroke behind Smith and Boomer were Gene Sarazen, veteran Brookfield Center, Conn., gentleman farmer who won both the British and United States open titles in 1932; Pat Mahon, big, able Irishman, and Ernest E. Whitcombe, heir to one of England's most respected golfing names.

These three went out over adjoining Burnside and rattled around in 70 strokes, one under par. For a time it looked as if Gene would have one of the greatest rounds of his life. He hit the turn in 32, three under, but came home in 38, two over standard figures.

Hagen Equals Par.

Six others managed to equal par of 71 on the two courses. Walter Hagen, nonplaying captain of the Ryder cup team, trying for his fifth British open crown; Bryon Nelson of Reading Pa., winner of the Augusta master's tourney last spring, and Bobby Locke, 19 year old South African sensation who was low amateur in last year's tourney, equaled par at Burnside.

Meanwhile Denny Shute, twice winner of the American P. G. A. championship and last American to win the British title, in 1933, played one of his best rounds since arriving in this country. Together with two comparatively unknown Englishmen, Stanley Stenhouse and W. H. Green, he managed to solve the puzzle of the championship Carnoustie layout, getting a 71.

All the other well known Americans were in the qualifying safety zone. Sam Snead, the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., recruit who made his international début last week at Southport; Tony Manero, United States open champion in 1936, and Big Ed Dudley of Philadelphia tied with five others, including 1935 British title winner Alf Perry, at 72.

ROSEMEYER WINS VANDERBILT CUP RACE; SEAMAN 2D

Mays Takes 3d in 300 Mile Auto Race.

Westbury, N. Y., July 5.—(AP)—Bernd Rosemeyer, of Germany drove his silver-nosed Auto Union racer to victory in the 300 mile George Vanderbilt cup race today before 70,000.

Giving a flawless performance, the 27 year old Teuton streaked over the distance in 3:38:00, an average of 82.564 miles per hour, to win by 51.7 seconds from Richard Seaman of England, who had a chance to win until he was forced into the pits for fuel with only one lap to go.

Rex Mays of Glendale, Cal., finished third to improve the American showing over last year's inaugural. Driving a rebuilt Miller Special, Mays did some remarkable driving through the pretzel shaped bends to cover the distance in 3:44:38.

Foreign Cars Too Fast.

Like the rest of the American pilots, he was unable to match the foreign cars which streaked down the straightaways at speeds from 145 to 159 miles per hour.

In fourth place came another German in another Auto Union car, Ernst Delius. Giuseppe Farina of Italy finished fifth. The race was run without a single accident although only 16 of the 30 starters were able to finish. Motor trouble and broken mechanism forced out the others.

Tazio Nuvolari of Italy, winner last year with an average of only 65.998 miles per hour, was eliminated after 16 laps with motor trouble, but returned as a relief driver for Farina and shared his fifth place victory.

Other place winners were: Sixth, Joel Thorne, New York, 3:59.56; seventh, Russ Snowberger, Wilmington, Del., 4:03.47; eighth, Wilbur Shaw, Indianapolis, 4:04.03; ninth, Bill Cummings, Indianapolis, 4:09; tenth, Herb Ardinger. Glassport, Pa., 4:17.18.

Billy Winn, rated as one of the foremost American contenders, was forced out with a broken crankshaft on the ninth lap.

Seaman's Fuel Fails.

All the drama and thrills of the race were confined to the final eleven laps of the 90-lap contest. With only 11 laps or approximately 35 miles to go, Rosemeyer suddenly drove into the pits for a last-minute checkup.

The recheck took 33 seconds, but during that interlude Seaman picked up so rapidly that he trailed the German by only nine seconds.

But as Rosemeyer streaked on without a sputter over the 89th lap, Seaman's car suddenly balked. He was almost out of gas. Heartbroken, he screeched into his pit, got fuel, and then took out after Rosemeyer. But the change had cost him 30 seconds and a chance for victory.

Driving as if he were going to lunch and frequently waving to his aviatrix wife, Elly Beinhorn, who timed him and signaled his progress to him, Rosemeyer led for all but nine laps.

Two elements gave the foreign cars and drivers supremacy for the second consecutive year. First, their cars possessed far greater speed on the straightaway; secondly, the foreign crews were almost twice as fast making repairs and giving fuel.

Snyder Forced Out.

On the straightaway, Rosemeyer and Seaman had no trouble reaching the 150 mile per hour mark, or higher at times, whereas the fastest Mays could make was 137.2.

It took Rosemeyer's crew 35 seconds to change the two rear tires; Mays' crew required a minute and 18 seconds to do the same job.

Jimmy Snyder of Chicago, driving a Boyle, went out of the race with a broken transmission during the 41st lap. Kelly Petillo, the 1935 Indianapolis winner. was eliminated by a broken axle on the 39th lap. Ted Horn, another American favorite, broke down on the third straightaway on his 39th lap and his Marks-Miller was pushed from the track.

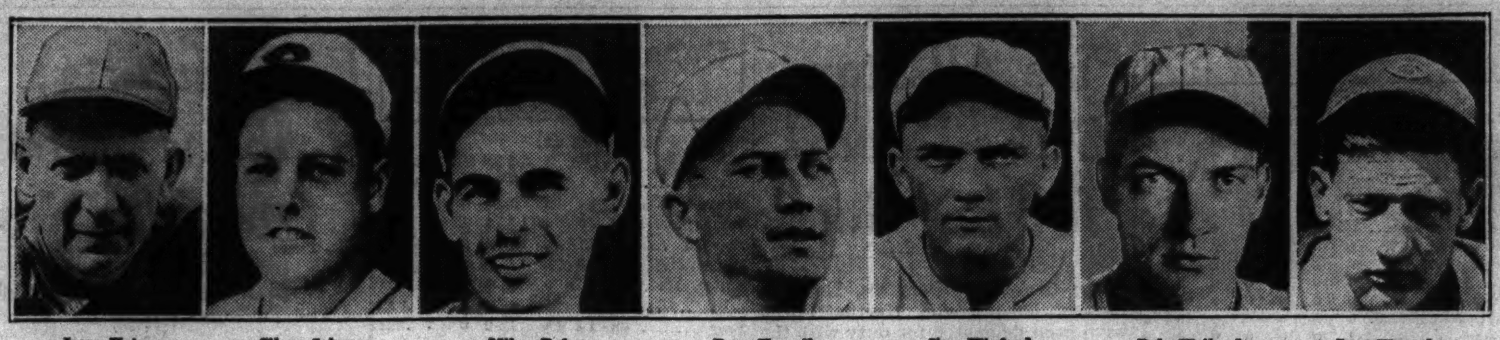
THEY MARCHED IN THE BIG PARADE



Jesse Haines. Silas Johnson. Mike Ryba. Ray Harrell. Jim Winford. Bob Weiland. Lon Warneke.

Curt Davis. Bill Lee. Charley Root. Leroy Parmelee. Clay Bryant.

Here are 12 of the 13 pitchers who took part in yesterday's double-header between the Cubs and the Cardinals at Wrigley field. They were pounded for a total of 65 hits in the course of more than six hours of play. The Cubs were forced to go 14 innings before winning the first game, 13 to 12. They took the second, 9 to 7.

THEIR RECORDS

Thirteen pitchers figured in yesterday's double-header between the Cubs and the Cardinals at Wrigley field. Three of them appeared in both games. While the Cubs were winning the first, 13 to 12, in fourteen innings and the second, 9 to 7, the pitching stafs of both teams took considerable punishment. Sixty-five hits were made during the afternoon, twenty-two of them for extra bases. The 39,240 spectators were entertained with three home runs, six triples, and thirteen doubles.

Bill Lee started the first game for the Cubs and was succeeded by Leroy Parmelee, Clay Bryant, Curt Davis, and Charley Root. Lee also started the second game and later was replaced by Bryant.

Ray Harrell started the afternoon for the Cardinals, but Mike Ryba, Lon Warneke, Jesse Haines, and Bob Weiland were called on before the first game was over. Jim Winford opened for the Cardinals in the second game and was followed by Harrell, Abe White, and Silas Johnson.

The hits made off the various pitchers and the number of innings they worked, follow:

FIRST GAME.

Cubs.

Lee—Seven hits in two innings.
Parmelee—Two hits in two innings.
Bryant—Three hits in three innings.
Davis—Three hits in one inning.
Root—Four hits in six innings.

Cardinals.

Harrell—Six hits in three innings.
Ryba—Seven hits in four and one-third innings.
Warneke—Two hits in no innings.
Haines—Four hits in three and two-thirds innings.
Weiland—Four hits in two and one-third innings.

SECOND GAME.

Cubs.

Lee—Nine hits in six and one-third innings.
Bryant—Four hits in two and two-thirds innings.

Cardinals.

Winford—Four hits in two innings.
Harrell—One hit in one inning.
White—Two hits in three innings.
Johnson—Three hits in two innings.

Holiday Sports Events Attract 421,340 Patrons

Major league baseball, a 300 mile automobile race at Westbury, N. Y., and horse racing at five tracks combined to lure 421,340 paying holiday fans through the turnstiles yesterday. The auto race led the list for single attractions with 70,000, while Chicago's Arlington Park topped all the race tracks with 40,000.

Baseball, with double-headers in eight cities, attracted a total of 218,340, the Yankee-Red Sox games at Yankee stadium drawing 61,146. The Cubs' marathon with the Cardinals at Wrigley field was witnessed by 39,240, while the White Sox, playing morning and afternoon games in Detroit, performed before a total of 48,000. The figures for the day's major events:

BASEBALL.
New York	61,146

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 5.—The nation's capital city, accustomed to parades and other welcoming festivities for world celebrities, is getting a fresh thrill this week. . . . Washington, on Wednesday, will be host to the most brilliant array of baseball headliners it ever has known. . . . The occasion is the fifth annual All-Star game, which for color and widespread interest ranks with the world series on Uncle Sam's sporting calendar. . . . It will be played in Griffith stadium, starting at 1:30 Chicago time, before a capacity crowd of 32,000, including President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who is described by the brewer owner of the New York Yankees as the man who gave us beer. . . . The President will throw out the first ball. . . . While the spirit of competition always has run high since the event was originated by this department in 1933, Wednesday's game promises to be a real fight.

The rival managers, Bill Terry of the National league and Joe McCarthy of the American, have been put on the spot, so to speak, by the new rules whereby they must select the teams instead of just directing players chosen by the fans. . . . Thousands of American league supporters are outraged by McCarthy's failure to pick Luke Appling of the White Sox for shortstop and National leaguers are mystified by the selection of three shortstops and no third baseman.

Trailing 3 to 1 in the series, the National league is expected to follow last season's policy of shooting its strongest pitching talent right from the start. . . . Terry plans to open with the Dodgers' fireball ace, Van Lingle Mungo, and follow with Carl Hubbell and Dizzy Dean. . . . Hubbell turned in one of the greatest pitching feats in baseball history in the 1934 All-Star game in the Polo Grounds when he struck out five of the American league's more renowned sluggers in a row. . . . Dean last year was so effective in his three innings that the American leaguers didn't hit the ball out of the infield. . . . Against this trio McCarthy probably will use Vernon Gomez, Bob Grove, and Tommy Bridges.

President William Harridge of the American league was the first of the baseball officials to arrive. . . . He was accompanied by Mrs. Harridge and Fred Ringley of Chicago. . . . Mr. Harridge canceled plans to attend a double-header between the Senators and Athletics when he learned it was raining in Philadelphia at noon. . . . All of the clubs in the American league will have front office representation at the game except the White Sox. . . . W. O. Briggs, president of the Detroit Tigers, hurried home from a European vacation to be here for the spectacle. . . . Every ticket has been sold except 500 bleacher seats, which will go on sale tomorrow morning. . . . President Clark Griffith of the Senators held back that number to thwart speculators.

Rabies.

Now that the rabies season is with us, a few words on what to do when milady's pooch jumps off the leash and nibbles you may not be amiss. First, doff your hat and give her a coy smile. If she ignores you, say "Erhm, erhm. That is a cute Pomeranian you have there. What is its name?" Then you can tell her you have been bitten and would like to know her dog better. After she has introduced the Great Dane formally you may ask her if she minds if you call one of Doc Bundesen's assistants to remove its head. When possible try to avoid being bitten by a dog with a pedigree. It always makes the owner mad and you can't get much out of it, except possibly the rabies.

Tribune Swim Entry List Closes Today

Beilfuss Natatorium, 1725 North Springfield avenue, which for a number of years has been productive of a number of fine swimmers, will be represented in the eighth annual Chicagoland 100 yard swimming races by a team of 69 boys and girls. The entry was filed by Director W. Gerhard. All will compete in the sectional trials at California park, 3901 North California avenue, next Sunday afternoon.

This is the largest team entry received, but the clerks, tabulating the lists, so far have been unable to catch up with either yesterday's or Sunday's mail. There are 29 girls listed from Beilfuss and 40 boys. All ten age classes are represented, from Class A for those 11 ad 12 years old, to Class E for those 19 and over.

This Is the Last Day.

This is the last day in which you may file entry for the preliminary races this week-end, which will be held on Saturday afternoon at Cermak pool, 7600 Ogden avenue, Lyons, Ill., and at Sherman park, 52d street and Racine avenue, and on Sunday afternoon at Whealan pool, Milwaukee and Devon avenues, and at California park, 3901 North California avenue.

From the clerks' lists of entries it is apparent the Sunday preliminaries will be much larger than those on Saturday afternoon. This undoubtedly is due to the preference for Sunday afternoon, but the four-sectional system does furnish swimmers in all parts of Chicago with a convenient center at which to win their gold qualifying badges which entitles them to compete for the championships at Whealan pool on July 18.

It Will Be a Large Field.

One hundred and eighty swimmers, under this system will compete for the championships that day. The number of qualifiers from the four sectionals will be apportioned according to the number of swimmers. Quite possibly three or four will qualify in each of the ten age classes from Sherman park and Cermak pool. This would leave five or six qualifying positions open in each of the ten classes at California park and Whealan pool.

Should it be necessary, the list of qualifiers can be expanded so that no contestant in the trials will be required to swim more than one race. A tentative order has been placed with the firm which has supplied the 180 gold medals. Within three days an additional supply of medals could be manufactured.

YORK'S HOMER ENDS 2D GAME IN 10TH INNING

Kennedy Routed in Opener.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., July 5.—The White Sox did much better financially than they did artistically in morning and afternoon holiday jousts with the Tigers today. They drew a total attendance of 48,000 for the two games, but dropped both, 8 to 4 and 7 to 4.

The morning game, played before 22,000, was a most painful travesty considering the circumstance that the losers had just won eleven of their last thirteen contests.

Vern Kennedy, twice victor this season over the Tigers, was bruised by Greenberg's No. 18 homer, good for three runs in the first inning, and wound up his chore after the second inning, in which the Tigers made three runs after Bonura had dropped Appling's throw for the potential third out. Among the things that happened after Zeke's lapse was a homer by Rogell with one down.

Sox Get Going.

The Sox made three runs in the sixth, mostly as a result of successive hits off Cletus Elwood Poffenberger by Kreevich, Walker, Bonura and Appling before anybody was out. They had another rally rolling in the eighth when Bonura was seized with one of those cerebral cramps which occasionally attack zealous ball players. Zeke made a dash for third with that base occupied, a most unhappy effort. What the Sox or Tigers did after Bonura's second misfortune of the morning didn't make much difference.

The slim solace in the affair was a span of perfect pitching by Sugar Cain, second of the Sox three pitchers.

It took the Tigers ten innings to put the Sox to defeat in the afternoon game, played before 26,000.

The end of a tragic day proved to be Rudy York's seventh home run of the season with two men on. Rogell opened the Tiger tenth with a clean single to center. Gehringer sacrificed. Greenberg was purposely passed to set the stage for York's powerful blow, which just cleared the left field wall near the foul line to end the game.

Lee Departs in Sixth.

Thornton Lee started the game and yielded only two hits until the Tigers knocked him out in the sixth with four straight hits and three runs to whittle a four run lead the Sox had built up with two in the third and two more in the fifth.

The Tigers then tied the score in the eighth at the expense of Clint Brown and ended the argument in the tenth after concluding a 12 hit assault. The Sox knocked out Jake Wade in the fifth, but could do little or nothing with Roxie Lawson thereafter.

FIRST GAME

Kennedy was wild at the outset of the morning game. After White had sent a fly to Kreevich, Rogell walked after a three and two count. Gehringer also ran the count to three balls and two strikes before lining a single to right, which put Rogell on third. Greenberg then boosted his No. 18 homer over the left field wall, scoring behind Rogell and Gehringer.

Fox opened the Tiger second inning with a triple to right center, but wouldn't have scored except for Bonura's error, a rarity in that it was on a thrown ball. After Fox's triple Bolton fanned and Appling tossed out Poffenberger. White bounced to Appling for what should have been the third out. It was at this juncture that Appling's sidearm curve got away from Bonura, Fox scoring and White reaching second. Rogell drove a homer into the upper deck of the right field grandstand, scoring behind White.

Bonura's Bat Fails.

The Sox got in scoring position in each of the first three innings and in first and third innings Bonura ended the threats with Radcliff on third, the second time supplying the third out with a strikeout.

When the Sox trotted into the arena at the start of the home third, Kennedy was not among those present. Cain had taken his place. Cain walked Greenberg, then settled down to four innings of perfect pitching before going out for a pinch batsman at the start of the seventh.

Zeke Pulls Mental Fumble.

evening could be spent peacefully. But Lee blew up. He was routed in the seventh and before Bryant could straighten out the mêlée, five runs had scored. In the two remaining innings, however, Bryant avenged the abuse heaped on him a few hours earlier.

FIRST GAME

The new barricade in left field assisted the Cubs to a run in the opening inning of the first game. Collins singled to right with two out. Demaree popped a fly into left and the ball nicked the fence for a double, Collins scoring.

In the second the Cards scored two runs on three hits. Medwick led off with a single and Mize fanned. Martin singled to left and Galan's throw to Hack was too late to keep Medwick from arriving at third safely, Martin meanwhile sprinting to second. Both scored on Durocher's single to center.

Cards Take Lead.

The five runs that gave the Cards a 7 to 1 lead in the third started with a single by Brown. Padgett also singled. So did Medwick, Brown scoring. Mize slashed a double into left center, Padgett going home. This was where Lee departed and Parmelee entered the party. Martin lined low to right and Demaree, instead of playing the ball safely for a single, attempted a diving stop and it skipped past him for a triple, Medwick and Mize scoring. Martin registered the fifth run and last run of the inning on Durocher's fly to Marty.

The Cubs suddenly poured six hits into the open spaces to collect the six runs needed for a tie in the fourth. Hartnett singled to right and managed to ride to the plate on Jurges' triple to the right field corner. Marty walked. Cavarretta batted for Parmelee and tripled, Jurges and Marty scoring. Ryba replaced Harrell. Galan singled and Cavarretta scored. Hack registered the first out by lofting to Martin. Collins walked. The firing was resumed when Demaree doubled to right, Galan going home. Herman singled to right and Collins scored. Hartnett fanned and Jurges fouled to Padgett.

Cards Break Tie.

Although slightly wild, Bryant was able to dodge trouble in the fifth and sixth, but the seventh was different. The Cards shattered the tie by scoring there times. Padgett launched this episode by singling to center. The dynamic Medwick plastered a triple against the screen in right center, Padgett crossing the plate. Mize was erased on a grounder to Collins. The Cubs elected to give Martin an intentional pass and he promptly stole second. Durocher also was purposely passed, loading the bases. The strategy was ruined when Ogrodowski doubled to left, Medwick and Martin scoring. Durocher was automatically stopped at third because the ball bounced into the seats. Bryant stopped the next two men.

Davis was a satisfactory workman until after he had retired the first two batters in the eighth. Then Medwick bashed a single to right for his fourth hit and Mize singled to left. Wild Horse Martin survived on a fumble by Herman. Durocher lined to left for a single, Medwick and Mize scoring. Martin tried to go to third on the hit but was nailed when he overslid the bag.

Warneke Replaces Ryba.

The inevitable caught up with Ryba in the home eighth when the Cubs came charging up with four runs, leaving them one shy of a tie. For a starter Hack popped to Durocher. Collins walked and Demaree doubled for his fourth hit. Warneke came to the rescue but walked Herman. Hartnett singled to right, sending Collins and Demaree across the plate. Jurges also singled, scoring Herman and sending Stainback, who ran for Hartnett, to third. Warneke retired and Haines came on to the scene. O'Dea batted for Marty and produced a short fly to Padgett. Bottarini batted for Davis and singled to score Stainback with the fourth run. Galan flied to Padgett for the third out.

The tying run in the ninth came off Hack's bat in the shape of a triple. He banged a tall fly to right and the ball hit the top of the screen, bouncing back onto the field for a triple. Hack scampered home on Collins' fly to Martin.

SECOND GAME

The evening argument which started at two minutes after six, was orderly only until the second inning. Then the Cubs punched home five runs, assisted by Winford's wildness. Hartnett led off with a pass, and Jurges singled. Cavarretta fanned and Lee popped to Gutteridge. Passes to Galan and Hack forced Hartnett to score. Collins hammered a single into center, sending Jurges and Galan home. Hack registered on Demaree's single. Collins scored on a single by Herman. Hartnett, up for the second time, fouled to Owen for the third out and the end of Winford.

When Harrell showed up in the third, and that was as long as he remained, the Cubs made him realize that he looked no different to them than when they blew him out of the picture in the opening game. He handed a pass to Jurges, who scored a moment later on Cavarretta's homer into the right field bleacher. In the fourth Medwick also sent a homer into the same sector.

Pick on White.

White was introduced in the fourth. Herman led off with a double to left and scored on Hartnett's single. The Cards got a run in the fifth on singles by Durocher, White, and Gutteridge. Pepper Martin opened the seventh with a homer; Durocher tripled and scored on a single by Owen. Bordagaray, batting for White, doubled and Owen was caught at the plate. Bryant succeeded Lee and the Cardinals scored three more runs on Gutteridge's single, Brown's double, and Medwick's single.

The Cubs scored in the seventh when Jurges doubled and came home on Bryant's double.

Five All-Star Cubs Depart for Big Game

The five Cubs—Demaree, Herman, Collins, Jurges, and Hartnett—who have been delegated for duty with the National league team in the All-Star game at Washington tomorrow, departed last night. Other members of the Cub squad have nothing to do until Thursday, when a workout will be held prior to heading for Pittsburgh for the first series of a road trip which will take them to six of the league cities.

The Cubs were guilty of a terrible boner in the seventh inning of the first game. Jurges walked and, with one out, Frey, who batted for Bryant, also walked. Galan sent a foul to Padgett in right and Frey was doubled off first. He had traveled so far that he couldn't get back even though the double play was made by way of Gutteridge at third base.

Umpire Dolly Stark, working behind the plate in the second game, was put out of action by a foul ball off the bat of Pinch Hitter Stuart Martin in the ninth inning. The ball hit the iron grilled mask which Stark prefers to the wire mesh type, and bowled him over. When cold water treatment failed to revive him, Dolly was escorted to the clubhouse. After an hour of rest he had fully recovered from what he termed felt like a blow from a sledge hammer.

Manager Charley Grimm already has decided that he'll open the series at Pittsburgh on Friday with Bill Lee serving from the mound.

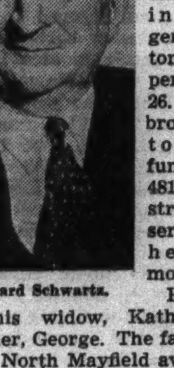
Ed Schwartz, Tribune Sport Official, Dies

Edward Schwartz, veteran official of THE TRIBUNE Athletic association, died yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Burlington, Wis., Memorial hospital from peritonitis following an emergency appendectomy which was performed June 26. The body was brought last night to the Conboy funeral home, 4817 Madison street. Funeral services will be held Thursday morning.



Edward Schwartz.

He is survived by his widow, Katherine, and a brother, George. The family residence is 15 North Mayfield avenue.

Mr. Schwartz was born in Chicago 53 years ago. From 1906 to 1912 he won several roller skating championships, which sport then enjoyed wide popularity. In this period of competition he was champion of Illinois three times, western champion twice, and in 1912 he won the national title.

In recent years Mr. Schwartz maintained his interest in sports by officiating at the Silver Skates derbies and swimming meets. He had been associated with the annual Golden Gloves amateur boxing tournaments since their inception ten years ago.

Sox Come Home for 3 Day Rest; Browns Next

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., July 5.—The White Sox, excepting All-Stars Monty Stratton and Luke Sewell, will be back in Chicago tomorrow morning for three days' rest from competition. However, they will work out at Comiskey park Thursday morning.

Luke Sewell left for Washington after this afternoon's game to join the All-Star squad. Monty Stratton was to leave Chicago for the same destination and purpose.

Despite a pulled muscle in his right leg, suffered at St. Louis, Jimmy Dykes expects to be back in the lineup Friday.

The next Sox official activity will be a four game series with the St. Louis Browns, which opens Friday and includes a double-header Sunday.

U. S. TEAM WINS.

STOCKPORT, England, July 5.—(AP)—The All-Star American lacrosse team marked up another victory, its fourth straight in England, today by defeating Chesire, 17 to 5.

York Wins Second with Homer in Tenth.

brain fog. Walker walked and went to third on Bonura's single to right. Appling caromed a shot off Poffenberger's shins which bounded right into York's hands. Walker held third while York threw out Appling, a fact which Bonura failed to notice. Zeke rounded second and broke for third, a suicidal play even if third hadn't been occupied. When Bonura got within three feet of third he recognized Walker as his teammate and tried to get back to second. Greenberg carried the ball across the infield and Zeke was run down, Greenberg to Gehringer. Hayes singled to left, scoring Walker, and took second when the ball got past Goslin. Russell replaced Poffenberger and Piet bounced to York.

The Tigers put the game on ice in the eighth by scoring two runs after two were out. They did it on Gehringer's double and singles by Fox and Bolton.

SECOND GAME

The Sox broke through for two runs in the third and had the bases full when the inning ended. Berger walked and stopped at second on Sewell's single to center. The runners advanced on Lee's sacrifice, after which Radcliff caromed a hot single off York's glove, Berger scoring and Sewell stopping at third. Kreevich was called out on strikes but Walker singled to right, Sewell scoring, and Radcliff stopping at second. Bonura walked filling the bases. Appling flied to Fox.

The Sox pounded Wade out in the fifth inning. After Lee had been called out on strikes, Radcliff doubled to left and scored on Kreevich's single to left, Mike taking second on the throw to the plate. Walker singled to right, scoring Kreevich. Lawson replaced Wade and Bonura popped to Rogell. Appling singled to left, Walker stopping at second. Hayes sent his third fly to White.

Tigers Come to Life.

The Tigers had a total of two singles going into the home sixth. Then with one down White singled to left and stopped at second on Rogell's single to the same terrain. Gehringer singled to right, White scoring and Rogell reaching third. Greenberg doubled to right, scoring Rogell and Gehringer. Lee was yanked and Brown went in. York fouled to Bonura and Fox flied to Kreevich.

The first hit off Brown was a single by Gehringer, with two out in the eighth. Greenberg then whanged a single to left, Gehringer racing to third. York bounced a single over Brown's head, Gehringer scoring the tying run and Greenberg reaching third. Fox struck out.

Lawson walked Brown to open the ninth, but nothing came of it when the next three batters failed. The first two hitters went down in order in the Tiger ninth. Lawson beat out a hit over second, but White was easy for Hayes and Bonura.

Rogell singled to open the disastrous home tenth inning and Charley Gehringer sacrificed. Greenberg was handed an intentional walk to set the stage for a possible double play, but York spoiled the plan with a home run over the left field fence.

Announcing the

FORTY NINER

Powerful Southern Pacific locomotives with the cab in front whisk the Forty-Niner over the High Sierra

—a luxurious new super-speed train to San Francisco starting July 8

Southern Pacific is proud to announce this luxurious, high speed train on the direct OVERLAND ROUTE to San Francisco. Named after the pioneers who crossed the plains in the stirring days of '49, the Forty-Niner will flash from Chicago to San Francisco in 50 hours and 42 minutes. An all-Pullman train of streamlined design with luxurious accommodations of the latest type, including bedrooms, the Forty-Niner will make five round trips a month, alternating with the Streamliner City of San Francisco, and giving super-speed train service to San Francisco every three days. It will have stewardess-nurse in attendance. Extra fare will be $10.

For the fastest daily service to San Francisco, take our luxurious Overland Limited or the Pacific Limited. Direct service to Los Angeles on the famous Golden State Limited, the Californian and Apache.

SEE TWICE AS MUCH

Go west on one of Southern Pacific's FOUR SCENIC ROUTES and return on another one. See TWICE AS MUCH of California and the West as you would by going and returning on the same route.

LOW SUMMER FARES

For example, from CHICAGO to California and return, $86 plus berth in air-conditioned standard Pullmans (extra fare $10 each way on Forty-Niner and City of San Francisco); $68.80 plus berth in air-conditioned tourist sleeping cars and $57.35 in air-conditioned coaches and chair cars.

YANKEE HOMERS WHIP RED SOX IN TWO GAMES

ke First Battle, 15-0; Win Second, 8-4.

New York, July 5.—(AP)—The New ɔrk Yankees blasted out a double victory over the Boston Red Sox, 15 to 0 and 8 to 4, today before a crowd of 61,146, with Joe DiMaggio's 20th home run, two by Lou Gehrig and one by Bill Dickey featuring the attack.

DiMaggio's homer, a wallop that carried to the 420-foot mark, came with three on in the sixth inning of the second contest and won the game for the Yanks and Spud Chandler, rookie righthander.

Gehrig's 13th homer in the fourth with one on helped keep the Yanks in the fight.

Members of the Baseball Writers' association presented a plaque to Lou Gehrig as the most valuable player to his club in 1936.

Tug Wilson.

Regarding your inquiry about the derivation of the nickname Tug for all athletic Wilsons, back in the '90s there was a Tug Wilson on the Pacific coast who won considerable fame as a fighter. He was a fireman on the tug boat Mary Ann and I saw him fight at Eureka, Cal., which is my home. We gave him the name Tug, because he regularly was employed on the tug boat. Maybe he was the first Wilson to acquire that monicker.—B. C. Wing.

CUBS BLAST 129 HITS FOR 80 RUNS IN LAST 9 GAMES

Since the Cubs started on their hitting orgy at St. Louis on June 29 they haven't been held to single figures in nine successive games. Against the Cardinals and Pirates they rolled up a grand total of 129 hits for 80 runs. But while this was going on the enemy was more than troublesome to the Cub pitchers. In the nine games the Cards and Pirates compiled 112 hits for 59 runs. Following are the day by day figures:

Dodgers Split DoubleHeader with Phillies

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 5.—(AP)—Two ageing righthanders, Sylvester Johnson of the Phillies and Fred Frankhouse of the Dodgers, carried off honors today as the clubs split a doubleheader, the Phils taking the opener, 3 to 1, and the Dodgers the second game, 7 to 1. Frankhouse breezed through the second game, yielding only five hits. Scores:

FARR SIGNS FOR TITLE FIGHT AGAINST LOUIS

LONDON, July 5.—(AP)—Ted Broadribb, manager of the British empire heavyweight champion, Tommy Farr, today signed articles for a world championship match between Farr and Joe Louis to be held in New York in September.

Broadribb previously had declared that if the Farr-Louis match went through, he would abandon plans for matching the British champion against Max Schmeling in London either in August or September.

Broadribb said he had cabled Jacobs: "Contract signed for early September within United States. You fix the time and the place. Farr gets 20 per cent of the gate and picture and radio option, win or lose."

Senators Defeat Athletics, 5 to 3; Then Tie, 2 to 2

Philadelphia, Pa., July 5.—(AP)—The Athletics lost one game and played to an 11 inning tie in a double-header with the Washington Senators today. The Athletics lost the first game, 5 to 3, and tied the second game at 2-2 in the ninth inning, which was called because of rain and darkness at the end of the 11th.

WHITE CITY FANS ATTACK WINNER WRESTLING BOUT

A wrestling bout at White City last night between Al Williams, Fox Lake, Ill., light heavyweight, and Al Perry ended in a fan demonstration when Referee Leo Kallis awarded the decision to Williams after 8 minutes, 32 seconds.

The gathering of 1,406 took exception to Williams' foul tactics and when the referee rendered his decision they surrounded the ring shouting imprecations at Williams.

As the wrestler left the arena, he was hit across the head with a pop bottle. Tom Donnelly, a second, and Lou Talaber and Jack Kogut, both wrestlers, went to Williams' rescue and the affair wound up in a free for all. Police and Andy Frain's ushers prevented the crowd from crashing through the dressing room doors.

Later in the dressing rooms Dr. T. R. Hionchon of the Illinois athletic commission treated the following spectators:

George J. Hollander, 5349 South Wood street, cut hand. S. W. Carline, knocked out and suffered mouth cuts. Patrick Haylin, 637 West 73d street, cut leg

2 NEAR DEATH IN RACE MISHAPS AT SOUTH BEND

South Bend, Ind., July 5.—[Special]—Nine persons were injured, two seriously, in two accidents during dirt track automobile races here today. Gerald Toms, 32, staf photographer for South Bend Tribune and William Haynes, 10, both of South Bend, are not expected to live.

Toms, who had finished taking a picture of cars coming out of the turn in the first race, was struck by a wheel which flew off the car driven by Windy Jennings of Detroit, Mich. He suffered possible skull fracture and internal injuries.

Haynes, suffered head injuries and compound leg fracture in the second mishap. Mike Salay, South Bend, attempted to pass Ernie Bush, Wyandotte, Mich., in the final event, when Salay's car locked wheels with Bush's machine. Salay's car broke off a telephone pole, ripped up 30 yards of fencing and ploughed into spectators seated on a hillside.

LACK OF BREEZE ROBS RANGER OF NINTH TRIUMPH

Vanderbilt Yacht Has Mile Lead Over Rainbow.

Newport, R. I., July 5.—(AP)—Ranger, Harold S. Vanderbilt's undisputed candidate for defense of the America's cup, was deprived of her ninth straight victory today by a breeze so light neither she nor her opponent, Chandler Hovey's Rainbow, could complete the 30-mile windward-leeward course within the allotted 5½ hours.

Rainbow Starts Strong.

Rainbow put up a good battle during the opening five miles, pointing surprisingly close to the wind, but whatever threat she carried across the starting line soon vanished and the contest became a dull procession.

Ranger rounded the windward mark more than twenty minutes in the lead, leaving Rainbow hampered by fickle zephyrs which repeatedly headed her off.

The faint southwesterly at the start hauled so far to the south-southeast that the second leg, intended to furnish a run before the wind, was converted into a reach and neither yacht had an opportunity to set spinnakers.

Time Limit Expires.

Expiration of the time limit found Ranger about half a mile from the finish line and Rainbow so far astern she was almost lost in the haze. Rainbow must have been more than a mile in Ranger's wake.

Tomorrow Ranger will meet Gerard B. Lambert's Yankee, runner-up in the 1930 and 1934 defense trials.

I'VE been called a slow-poke. Because I refuse to be rushed in making MEISTER BRÄU. We had MEISTER BRÄU in cans for eight months before offering it to the public. We spent those eight months in satisfying ourselves we could satisfy you.

And I insist on taking my time in brewing. I've been making MEISTER BRÄU since 1906, making it the same way it has been made since 1891.

We pay above the usual price to get the finest Malt and Hops. We clean them carefully before boiling. This takes many extra hours, but removes the chaff. So we don't have to boil and boil until the life is boiled out of the beer, as some do.

We don't try to save time by adding sugars or syrups in the brewing. That way makes a beer over-sweet.

We get a full high foam and sparkle with natural draft beer carbonation created in the beer itself.

Those who remember the old-time brews recognize the best of old in MEISTER BRÄU. We ask you to try this beer made today as we made it 46 years ago. Now we are ready with MEISTER BRÄU in cans for those who prefer this container. And we guarantee it to be the same full-flavored, sparkling clear MEISTER BRÄU in can or bottle.

ARLINGTON PARK HOLIDAY CROWD BETS $740,845

Pour $113,985 Into Mutuels on Handicap.

Betting by the holiday crowd at Arlington Park yesterday totaled $740,845. A total of $113,985 was bet on the Stars and Stripes handicap. The betting by races follows:

First	$61,542	Seventh	94,069
Second	77,541	Eighth	79,991
Third	91,737	Daily Double	31,036
Fourth	92,567
Fifth	98,377	Total	$740,845
Sixth	113,985

The vanguard of the large holiday crowd began to arrive before noon at Arlington Park. Additional parking areas were thrown open along the back stretch and cars were packed in this extra space back to the private airport on the grounds. The daily double windows were thrown open for business at 12 o'clock.

Racing Secretary Charles McLennan has distributed the second issue of the Arlington Park condition book to horsemen. This book covers the ten day period from Friday, July 9, to Tuesday, July 20. Included in this period are two of the eight stakes, the $2,500 Hyde Park for 2 year olds at 5½ furlongs on July 10, and the $10,000 added Arlington Lassie stakes for 2 year old fillies at 6 furlongs on July 17.

Delegations from all Elks lodges in the Chicago area will attend the races at Arlington Park tomorrow. The feature race will be named the Elks handicap. At the regular meeting of the Evanston Elks lodge that evening Starter Roy Dickerson, Assistant Clerk of Scales Robert Patrick McAuliffe, and several leading jockies will be guests of honor.

Jocky Charley Corbett had to give the Millsdale Stable's Early Times a powerful ride to keep him running long enough to get the decision in a photograph finish in the six furlong second race.

A thrilling finish came out of the Betsy Ross purse which engaged some of the best 2 year olds at the track. It brought another photograph finish. Mountain Ridge, one of the stars from Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' stable, was narrowly beaten by the Lemar Stock Farm's Mad Money. Warren Wright's Taxes was third. Mad Money and Mountain Ridge raced closely lapped most of the way.

Apprentice J. Gardele, who graduated from maiden ranks at the Hot Springs meeting, got in from Latonia and will ride during the remainder of the Arlington Park meeting.

Kettles Faces Williams on Western Card

Two boxing shows will be presented tonight in the wake of the Fourth of July triple holiday, a professional card being scheduled at Western stadium, Western and Devon avenues, and an amateur program at Elmwood Park stadium, 7315 West Grand avenue.

Alex Kettles, South Bend, Ind., 1937 sectional Golden Gloves heavyweight champion, will make a fresh start in a six round contest with Paul Williams of the south side at the Western arena.

Kettles whipped Harold Ullmer and Willie Davies and stopped Ralph Davis, Webster Epperson, and Jim Carter before meeting defeat at the hands of Henry Cooper of Brooklyn on the Braddock-Louis championship card at Comiskey park on June 22.

Mickey Beal, hard hitting Rogers Park featherweight, who scored a knockout at the same club last Tuesday, is paired with Harry Ward of Indianapolis, Ind., for six rounds. Supporting bouts:

George Engel vs. Bob La Monte [6], 145.
Johnny [Twin] Helstrom vs. Joey Richards [4], 142.
Tony Musto vs. Bill Palmer [4], heavyweights.
Johnny Rock vs. Georgie Woods [4], 145.

Francis Smith, featherweight southpaw from Aurora, and Jesse Yarber, Unity Athletic club, will be the headliners in a five round encounter at Elmwood Park. Mike Sopko, Elmwood Park bantamweight, and Jimmy Reade, Northwest gymnasium, will be participants in one of six supplementary bouts.

Everett Marshall, who is recognized as heavyweight wrestling champion by the Illinois athletic commission, has agreed to meet Chief Sanooke in a return bout at White City next Monday. . . . Jack Conley has been signed to wrestle Frankie Talaber at Rainbo Fronton tomorrow. In another match Jack Kogut is paired with Bert Rubi. . . . Johnny Brown, 1936 Chicago Golden Gloves bantamweight titleholder, who is fighting successfully in the professional field, today intends to undergo an operation for a nasal obstruction. . . . The Most Rev. Bernard J. Sheil, senior auxiliary bishop of Chicago and director general of the Catholic Youth organization, is sponsoring a buffet dinner this evening in the Stevens hotel in connection with the impending international matches at Soldiers' field between representatives of the C. Y. O. and the best boxers in South America. . . . John Henry Lewis will not fight Henry Thomas at Comiskey park this month, as reported last week. In fact, Manager Gus Greenlee predicts that his light heavyweight champion will do no fighting of any kind during the month because he is in need of a vacation.—F. M.

Firemen Beats Giants, 3-1, on Sullivan's Home Run

Benton Harbor, Mich., July 5.—[Special.]—The Chicago Firemen defeated the Chicago Giants today, 3 to 1. Chester Sullivan's home run with two on in the eleventh broke up a pitchers' battle between Prussing and Clay. Each yielded five hits.

BUSBY, raced wide, began to improve after about three-eighths, raced to MYPONNE gradually on the stretch turn, got up soon after being placed to strong pressure in final quarter, then drew out slowly. MYPONNE, cleverly rated in the early pacemaking and saving ground after five-sixteenths, was under stout urging after three-quarters and held on gamely.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse $1,100. Net value to winner, $800; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

EARLY TIMES, rushed to the front on the inside, drew into a good lead on the turn, stood a drive gamely but just lasted. STAR BESS, under light restraint for a half mile, came with determination when called upon and was wearing down the winner. OFFENDER, raced wide, went evenly.

MAD MONEY, quickest to begin, took a clear lead easily in the opening quarter, was under light restraint while saving ground on the turn, gamely resisted MOUNTAIN RIDGE in a long, furiously contested drive and was holding his advantage at the end. MOUNTAIN RIDGE, well up from the start and on the outside throughout, challenged gamely when called upon and held on tenaciously to the end but could not get up. TAXES, also a factor from the start, bore over badly in the stretch and otherwise might have been a stronger contender.

Time, :24 2-5, :48 4-5, 1:14, 1:40, 1:53. Two dollar mutuels paid: Star Bud, $26.80 straight, $11.60 place, $7.20 show; Flag Unfurled, $22.40 place, $10.60 show; McCarthy, $6.00 show. Winner trained by R. T. Runnels. Went to post at 4:00.

STAR BUD, placed under restraint after taking command, was rated to the stretch, increased his advantage when called upon but weakened badly after a mile and won under severe pressure. FLAG UNFURLED saved ground much of the race, was under light reserve for three-quarters and held on well when under strong handling thereafter. McCARTHY raced wide, improved position gradually after five-eighths and was going resolutely at the end.

FIFTH RACE—One mile, out of chute. Purse $1,200. Net value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50.

SPANISH BABE, forced to race wide for three-quarters, improved her position steadily, took command without need of strong urging and won with something left. LADY MONTROSE, fractious at the post and away slowly, began to work her way up when losing ground on the turn and continued boldly while racing wide thereafter.

*Mrs. E. Denemark entry. Time, :23, :46 3-5, 1:10 4-5, 1:37, 1:50. Two dollar mutuels paid: Corinto, $8.40 straight, $3.40 place, $2.80 show; Infantry, $4.20 place, $3.20 show; Sir Jim James, $6.40 show. Winner trained by F. Gilpin.

CORINTO, outrun for about five-eighths gradually improved his position on the outside thereafter, wrested command from WHOPPER shortly after entering stretch, held INFANTRY safe and had something left. INFANTRY, well up from the beginning and on the outside for almost seven-eighths, made a determined bid on the second turn, and stood stout pressure gamely through the final quarter and after shaking off WHOPPER, outstayed SIR JIM JAMES.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-half miles [turf course]. Claiming. Four year olds and up. Purse $1,100. Net value to winner, $800; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

SALTEO, rated under strong restraint for a mile, took command without need of vigorous urging, quickly increased his advantage after reaching the final three-sixteenths and won well in hand. BOMBASTIC, slow to begin, entered contention with a rush and held on well. HAZY AUTUMN lost much ground but held on fairly well.

EIGHTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Claiming. Three year olds and up. Purse $1,100. Net value to winner, $800; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :24 2-5, :48 3-5, 1:40 2-5, 1:54. Two dollar mutuels paid: Hour Zev, $10.00 straight, $5.40 place, $3.40 show; Technocracy, $6.60 place, $4.20 show; Polante Seth, $3.80 show. Winner trained by C. Sitgraves. Went to post at 6:20; off at once.

HOUR ZEV began to work his way up after a half mile, was forced to lose much ground on the second turn, quickly shook off TECHNOCRACY in the stretch, but was ridden out. Latter, well up from the start and responding well when called upon, went to the inside after racing around the leaders on the stretch turn and held on well, but could not withstand the winner.

25,000 See Now Then Win at Delaware

Wilmington, Del., July 5.—(AP)—Now Then, an 11 to 1 shot racing in the sky blue silks of F. J. Buchanan won the fifth running of the $5,000 Christiana stake for 2 year olds today as a crowd estimated at 25,000 tested the capacity of Delaware Park.

The throng, which exceeded by about 10,000 the opening day attendance at the new track, was drenched by frequent showers. Nevertheless, it poured $66,892 into the mutuel machines on the featured event, which was run over a sloppy track.

Given a good ride by Willie Ray, Now Then came out of the starting gate first and never was overtaken as he ran the 5½ furlongs in 1:09 3-5. Dauber, the favorite, from C. V. Whitney's stable, made a fine effort to catch the leader, but failed by three-quarters of a length. Mrs. W. P. Stewart's Pasteurized closed gamely to take third place, four lengths behind Dauber, while Recorder took fourth money.

REX FLAG WINS.

New York, July 5.—[Special.]—Shipped up to Empire City from Delaware especially to take advantage of the featherweight impost of 106 pounds, Mrs. Louise Viau's Rex Flag today won the $14,425 Butler handicap before a record crowd estimated at 18,000.

At the end of the mile and an eighth Rex Flag was first by a half length over John Hay Whitney's Flying Scot, the 16 to 5 favorite. Four lengths back Silver State Stable's No Dice was third a half length before Forty Winks, owned by Mrs. Payne Whitney, mother of John Hay Whitney.

Jocky Robert Merritt was in the saddle of the winner and hung up a consecutive double in the sixth race when he was home first with Mrs. R. A. Van Clief's Melodiana.

20,000 AT DETROIT.

Detroit, Mich., July 5.—(AP)—Main Man proved himself the best horse in the $3,000 added Liberty handicap today by winning the six furlong race in the fast time of 1:11 3-5 before a holiday crowd of 20,000, largest of the season here.

J. B. Respess' bay colt finished two lengths in front of Erin Torch, with Don Creole a neck farther back.

CLINGENDAAL WINS.

Salem, N. H., July 5.—(AP)—A. C. Compton's Clingendaal won going away today, coming fast down the stretch to beat Rough Time by a length in the $5,000 added Independence day handicap at Rockingham Park before a crowd of 25,000.

The favored Chicolorado from the Greentree stables ran third, losing the place by a neck. The winner paid $9, Rough Time brought $5.30 to place, and Chicolorado paid $3.80 to show.

COALS WIN TWO TO RUN STREAK TO 21 STRAIGHT

Defeat Detroit, 12-1, 5-1; Mills Win Two.

The Spencer Coals ran their season's winning streak to twenty-one straight when they won a doubleheader from the Detroit Colored Giants, 12 to 1 and 5 to 1, yesterday on their North Central avenue field.

Larry [Lefty] Irvin scattered six Giant hits in the first game and coasted in behind his mates' fifteen hit attack on two Detroit pitchers, while in the second contest Tony Sims held the Giants to three hits. Scores:

WINDY CITY NINES PLAY TWO LEAGUE GAMES TONIGHT

Two promising games are scheduled for softball fans tonight at St. Philip stadium, Kedzie and Van Buren street, when the Windy City Softball league starts its sixth week of play.

In the first league game, the Adducis will face a tough foe in the Montgomery V8's. Richie Mueller will pitch for the Montgomerys and will be opposed by the league's leading hurler in Lew Yacillo of the Adducis.

In the other league game the Senate Florals meet the Winkler Motors.

The Rival Food girls will face the 32d Ward Demos in a special game tomorrow at 7:30 p. m.

Rising Sun Poloists Win, 13-12, to Take League Title

The Rising Sun Ranch polo team defeated Oak Broko, 13 to 12, yesterday at the Oak Brook stadium to win the Central league championship. A goal by Capt. Roy D. Keehn Jr. was the deciding point. It put Rising Sun Ranch in the lead and before the teams could line up for another throwin the bell sounded.

WHEAT REACTS AFTER ADVANCE AT WINNIPEG

Early Prices Reach Seasonal Peaks.

WINNIPEG, July 5.—(AP)—All wheat futures made new seasonal peaks on the Winnipeg Grain exchange today and then eased to levels around the previous close. With the United States markets on holiday, wheat trading was almost entirely confined to commission house operations. Prices were unchanged to ⅜ cent lower at the close.

Only two of the coarse grains failed to establish new seasonal highs in the irregular session that witnessed dull trading after midseason. Oats futures followed wheat and were fractionally under the previous close in late trading. Short covering in July barley and July rye sent those prices up 2 and 4⅜ cents, respectively, at top levels.

Near Seven Year Top.

July wheat reached $1.51½, just ⅛ of a cent from the highest price of any wheat future in seven years. Highest prices came in the first hour with support coming from Canadian and United States millers, export interests and investment purchases. Export business, however, was confined to odd lots, with wheat prices now regarded as out of line with other world competitive wheats.

Although trade lagged at the start in sympathy with disappointing Liverpool cables, lower than due, wheat rallied sharply on liberal commission house buying induced by unfavorable crop conditions in western Canada. Scorching temperatures were reported over the west during the week-end, continuous lack of moisture and dust storms in Saskatchewan yesterday, were bullish influences.

U. S. Shares Advance in London Mart

LONDON, July 5.—(AP)—Trading in the stock market was moderate today, and prices were irregular. Professionals were not inclined to increase commitments pending clarification of the international outlook.

Industrial shares were slightly lower, although trade reports were considered good. Gold mining issues also sold slightly lower. Trans-Atlantic securities advanced under the lead of United States Steel and International Nickel. Oils and rubbers also closed higher.

Dollar trading was quiet in the foreign exchange market today. The United States unit declined ⅛ of a cent, the pound closing at $4.94 11-16. French francs were firmer at 128.444 to the pound against 128.63 over the week-end.

Money, ½ per cent. Discount rates: Short bills, 9-16 per cent; 3 month bills, 9-16 to ⅝. Bar gold unchanged at 140s 6d. [Sterling price equivalent to $34.75.] Bar silver steady and unchanged at 19⅝d. [Sterling price equivalent to 44.23 cents.]

French Rentes Resist Selling.

PARIS, July 5.—(AP)—French rentes showed good resistance in the bourse today despite selling caused by nervousness over the Spanish political situation. Industrial shares, bank issues, chemicals, and international stocks closed lower.

The United States dollar was quoted 25.9625 francs [3.852 cents to the franc] in final foreign exchange dealings today. In contrast, the French franc was quoted at 3.84¾ cents in New York over the week-end.

Stocks Rise in Toronto.

TORONTO, Ont., July 5.—(AP)—The stock market broke out of dullness today and scored a strong rally on good volume. More shares changed hands in the final hour than in the rest of the session, with gold shares rising to close at the top.

Western oils and base metals recorded gains. Industrials held their ground. Dominion Steel was a bright spot among the latter group with a gain of a point on good volume.

Montreal Market Firmer.

MONTREAL, Que., July 5.—(AP)—Stock prices closed higher in a quiet market today. Constructions drew main support with metals, oils, and several miscellaneous issues also on the upward trend. Utilities were mixed and papers firm.

CHICAGO'S JUNE CUSTOMS TOTAL SETS NEW PEAK

Port of Chicago customs collections in June totaled $2,468,445, the highest for the month in history, Joseph A. Ziemba, collector of customs here, said yesterday. The total for June, 1936, was $1,073,374.

Ziemba said that the increase was spread among all commodities and manufactured goods imported, although imports of corn in considerable amounts swelled the total. A shipload of flaxseed consigned from abroad to a paint manufacturer also added a considerable amount to the total. The duty on corn is 25 cents a bushel and on flaxseed 65 cents a bushel.

For the first six months of this year customs collections totaled $10,461,777 against $7,279,582 in the corresponding period of last year.

Ziemba said he expects that Chicago business resulting from its port activities will continue to gain during the rest of the year.

The Employment Status of Leading Industries as Revealed by Government Reports

Everyday Economics

Who Buys Steel?

A clerk in an office or a housewife probably thinks very little about where steel can be bought or how much it costs, but probably few other materials play such an important part as steel in providing the clerk or housewife with comfort and safety. Without steel, big apartment houses, trains, automobiles and radio broadcasting stations could not be built.

The automobile industry, which consumes 18 per cent of all steel produced is the largest user of this product. Railroads use 17 per cent of all steel made, while the construction industry consumes 16½ per cent. Other large users are manufacturers of machinery, electric refrigerators, pipe, wire, containers, and hundreds of other articles. Farmers also are good steel customers. In fact, the argricultural industries consume 5½ per cent of all steel produced.

The steel industry has been called the "prince or pauper" industry because it is usually either very good or very bad. Even in 1936, which was considered a very good year for steel, the daily average ingot production fluctuated within a range of more than 50 per cent. Production of steel in the United States fell from 41,069,000 gross tons in 1929 to 10,451,000 gross tons in 1932. Production climbed back in 1936 to 33,801,000 gross tons.

Production of light steels used in automobiles, appliances and light construction has expanded more rapidly since low points of the depression than heavy steels used in constructing big buildings and making heavy machinery. In fact, in 1936 a new all time record for production of light steel was made when production totaled 16,000,000 tons, about 2,300,000 tons higher than in 1929. Steel men are hoping that the demand for heavy steel will soon begin to increase rapidly.

FRANCE'S NEW TAX INCREASE EXPECTED SOON

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 5.—George Bonnet, French minister of finance, plans to present the French nation this week with the bill it must pay to attain solvency, it was reported today.

The French will be required by decree to pay something more than $320,000,000 at present exchange rates, in taxes additional to those they already carry. A small fraction will come from increased income tax, but Bonnet is relying on indirect taxes for the bulk.

Markets Reopen Today After Holiday

Security exchanges, commodity markets and banks throughout the United States will be open for business as usual today after having been closed yesterday, July 5, for the observance of the Fourth of July celebration. The Fourth falling on a Sunday this year, the fifth was declared a legal holiday for its observance. Leading markets in Canada, Europe and elsewhere abroad were open as usual yesterday.

VALUE OF MEAT ANIMALS SOARS; FEWER RECEIVED

June Costs in Chicago Above Year Ago.

The aggregate value of meat animals received at Chicago last month showed an increase of 18.1 per cent over the June, 1936, valuation figures despite a decrease of 2.3 per cent in the number of live stock received. The decline in volume was more than offset by the sharply higher per hundredweight cost of the stock.

The 658,373 cattle, calves, hogs, and sheep received were valued at $25,119,000. In the same month last year $21,258,000 bought 674,516 head, and in June, 1934, an investment of $14,758,000 obtained 985,155. Four years ago $17,309,000 bought 1,114,907 head.

Receipts and Values Compared.

Receipts of cattle and calves were 2.1 per cent under a year ago, while the valuation of these species climbed 32.8 per cent. Hog receipts were 13.6 per cent smaller than in 1936, but hog money was 3.4 per cent lower. Sheep receipts increased 22.7 per cent and money 21 per cent.

The proportion of the total outlay that went to hog raisers in June this year was the smallest on record for that month. Hog raisers were paid only 31.3 per cent of the $25,119,000, whereas a year ago they got 38.4 per cent and in June, 1933, they obtained 43.3 per cent. Buyers paid 62 per cent of the total for cattle and calves, compared with 55.1 per cent last year and only 50.6 per cent in 1933 before hog supplies were drastically reduced.

Live Stock Costs Higher.

Live stock costs have been running higher all year. In the first six months of 1937 a total of $145,975,000 was paid for all meat animals received at Chicago, compared with $125,172,000 a year ago, $122,012,000 two years ago, and $96,340,000 three years ago.

The 51 per cent increase in money invested over three years ago obtained 29 per cent fewer meat animals. In 1934 the six months' receipts aggregated 6,365,499. In 1937 buyers obtained 4,469,380.

The per hundredweight prices of live steers averaged $10.95 during the first half of 1937, compared with $8.45 a year ago and a low of $5.25 in 1933. Hogs averaged $10.40, against $10.10 in 1936, and $3.90 in 1933, while the lamb average at $11.30 compared with $10.50 in 1936 and $6 in 1933.

Belgian Prime Minister 'Satisfied' with U. S. Visit

LONDON, July 5.—Immediately on his arrival here from the United States where he discussed the possibilities of lowering trade barriers and the stabilizing of international currencies with President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Paul Van Zeeland of Belgium today held long private talks on his mission with Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden. His report was held confidential, but Van Zeeland said publicly he was "satisfied" with the results of the Roosevelt talks.

Variety Chain Stores 1936 Sales Highest on Record

Cambridge, Mass., July 5.—[Special.]—Variety chain sales last year were the highest on record, exceeding 1929, the previous peak year, the Harvard business school reported today.

Crowell Publishing company.

Investors' Guide: Please give me a report on Crowell Publishing company.—D. A. C.

Answer: This company publishes Collier's book and four nationally known magazines—Collier's Weekly, Women's Home Companion, American Magazine and Country Home. The four magazines have a combined circulation of more than 9,000,000 copies, Women's Home Companion enjoying widest distribution. Collier's Weekly is the leading revenue producer and second in circulation in the group.

Magazine advertising revenues increased from $19,602,000 in 1935 to $22,733,000 in 1936, and book revenue rose from $4,318,000 to $5,670,000.

Net income increased from $2,400,000 or $3.12 per common share in 1935 to $2,923,000 or $3.80 a share in 1936.

Current assets were $12,137,000 and current liabilities were $3,829,000 on Dec. 31, 1936.

Capitalization consists of 8,710 shares of 7 per cent $100 par preferred and 750,734 shares of no par common stock. The common is now on a regular dividend basis of $3 annually. Including extras, $3 a share was paid in 1936, $1.75 in 1935, $1 in 1934, 50 cents in 1933, $2 in 1932, and $3 each in 1931 and 1930. Dividends have been paid regularly on the preferred.

The common deserves a fairly good rating.

Allerton Hotel.

Investors' Guide: Recently I read an announcement of the Allerton hotel [Chicago] reorganization plan. I own one of the first mortgage bonds which I have not turned in. I should appreciate information regarding this reorganization and how it affects my holding. The literature sent me is too involved to understand fully. Does the fact that I have not turned in my bond jeopardize its value? Are there steps I should take?—Miss R. R.

Answer: Under the Allerton hotel plan, first mortgage bondholders will take over ownership of the hotel. A new company will be formed. The company will have 29,040 shares of common stock and one share will be issued for each $100 first mortgage bond. All other security holders are to be wiped out.

The reorganization being undertaken under provisions of the federal bankruptcy laws, all first mortgage bondholders will participate whether they deposited their bonds with the committee or not. You may register your approval or disapproval of the plan by notifying C. A. McDonald, master, 135 S. La Salle street, Chicago, before July 27.

House Power Bloc Opposes TVA Electricity Sale Plan

Washington, D. C., July 5.—[Special.]—Leaders of the house public power bloc announced today they would call on President Roosevelt to protest the proposed sale of Tennessee Valley authority power to the Arkansas Power and Light company for resale. They asserted this plan violated the law.

BANKS SHIFTING FROM U. S. BONDS TO TRADE LOANS

Still Carry Burden of Deficits.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

The job of financing the federal government's deficits, accepted by the banks during the depression years, is still employing large part of the total bank resources but a gradual shift to commercial loans and investments is occuring.

Chicago banks are now lending more money to commercial borrowers and less to the federal government than three months ago, although more than 46 per cent of their total loans and investments is still invested in government paper.

The quarterly statements of condition of Chicago banks will be issued in the next few days if the scheduled calls for report are made by the controler of currency and the state auditor.

Banks Sell Federal Bonds.

The banking trend of the last quarter, however, is shown by the weekly reports of conditions made by the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

A study of the reserve statements shows that between April 7 and June 28 Chicago banks liquidated 93 million dollars of government securities. Other loans and investments, including those to commercial borrowers, expanded approximately 40 million dollars.

The trend was the same as in the first quarter of the year, when the banks liquidated about a quarter of a billion dollars of government securities and increased loans to others by approximately 15 millions.

Chicago Deposits Increase.

The growth of deposits of Chicago banks, which began immediately after the expiration of the 1933 bank moratorium, was resumed in the last three months after a temporary interruption during the first quarter of the year. At the end of June total deposits of Chicago banks were 2 billions 908 million dollars, an increase of 150 millions over the April total. The all-time peak of bank deposits in Chicago, reached at the end of 1936, was 3 billion 143 millions.

Reserves of Chicago banks expanded with the growth in deposits during the last three months. During the period, however, the reserve quota which banks are required to maintain was raised by the federal reserve board, so that the surplus of reserves which the banks held three months ago was materially reduced.

LIQUOR MEN WARN AGAINST BOOST IN TAX

Washington, D. C., July 5.—(AP)—The Distilled Spirits institute warned legislators today against seeking to balance their budget by increasing the tax on alcoholic beverages. Reporting that state and federal revenue from such beverages totaled $864,927,355 in 1936, the distillers' organization issued a statement which said in part:

"We may expect a further increase in consumption of alcoholic beverages for 1937, and perhaps still further reduction in bootlegging, with consequent increases in public revenues from alcoholic beverages.

"But the bootlegger stands ready to recover lost ground whenever legislators disregard his capacity to take advantage of high liquor tax rates and seek to balance their budgets by the simple device of increasing the tax on alcoholic beverages."

Germans Hide Gold in Vault of 'Dye Trust'

Germany's quiet acquisition of fifty million dollars of gold in London and the secrecy attending the hiding of this hoard by the Nazi government in the treasury of a semi-private corporation is a highly significant move, in the opinion of Dr. Melchoir Palyi, guest professor of finance at the University of Chicago and former economist for the Deutsche bank in Berlin.

"According to an article published in the London Financial Times on June 3, based on figures taken from official German customs reports, Germany imported 50 million dollars of gold from London during the first four months of this year," Dr. Palyi said yesterday.

Builds Up Export Surplus.

"This acquisition of gold was apparently made possible by the fact that Germany was able to build up a trade export surplus. The metal, however, does not show in the weekly statement of the reichsbank. It was hidden in the treasury of the semi-private I. G. Farbenindustrie, the big German 'dye trust.'

"The reason for the repatriation of this gold is not clear. It is possible that the German government wanted the metal at home as protection in the event of war. Or it may be that it feared that having it in London might subject it to claims of foreign creditors, who have been repeatedly assured by the Germans that the amounts owed them would be paid when and if the Germans acquired the necessary means of payment."

Result of Special Decree.

In order to hold gold the dye trust must have obtained a special order from the German government, Dr. Palyi pointed out, because of the recent Nazi decree imposing capital punishment on violators of the prohibition against private holding of gold.

"The action of the Nazi government in putting its gold in the treasury of the dye trust," Dr. Palyi said, "is very much like that of a business man who places his funds in the name of his wife."

TENNESSEE BOND ISSUE WILL BE OFFERED TODAY

Offering of $1,400,000 of the state of Tennessee 3½ per cent and 3¼ per cent consolidated bonds will be made today by the Chase National bank, New York. The 3½ per cent bonds are due in 1947 and 1948 and the 3¼ per cent bonds are due in 1948 and 1949. Both issues are priced to yield 3.10 to 3.15 per cent.

Water Service Companies, Inc., has called for redemption at 102 on Sept. 1 all its collateral trust 5 per cent bonds, series of 1942. It has made arrangements whereby holders may obtain payment immediately upon surrender of the bonds at the office of the Bankers Trust company, New York.

CHICAGO EDISON LAYS PLANS FOR VAST FINANCING

Union of Utilities Is Involved.

BY HERBERT VEDDER.

One of the most ambitious pieces of financing to take place in the second half of 1937 is that of the Commonwealth Edison company in connection with the proposed comprehensive program for simplification and coördination of the capital structures of the companies supplying electricity to Chicago and nearby sections of northern Illinois.

Hope is held that the company will receive the "go ahead" signal in the next few weeks from the Securities and Exchange commission, which has been pondering the program since February. The plan first was announced on Dec. 18, 1936, and was approved by stockholders on Jan. 23.

Exchange of Stock Planned.

The first step in the plan is to offer three shares of new $25 par Edison common stock for each share of common stock of Public Service Company of Northern Illinois. Four of the new shares will be issued for each present share of $100 par Edison stock. Other companies involved in the financial union are Western United Gas and Electric company, and Illinois Northern Utilities company, both of whose common stocks are wholly owned by Edison.

Although it is difficult to predict the exact form and size of the financing because of changing market conditions, present indications are that as much as $125,000,000 of new Edison convertible debentures may be issued this year in connection with the program—in addition to stock to be offered to Public Service common stockholders.

Bonds to Be Convertible.

The debentures, according to present plans, will mature in 25 years and be convertible into Edison common stock at par at any time. Because it considers the conversion feature particularly attractive in view of earnings possibilities and because it believes the credit standing will be exceptionally high under the proposed setup, the company is reported to be considering an interest rate of not to exceed 3 per cent on the debentures.

The company is giving consideration, it was learned on good authority, to calling Public Service preferred at $120 share instead of offering new Edison stock in exchange. This would involve sale of about $16,500,000 of debentures, inasmuch as there are 137,500 such preferred shares in the hands of the public.

Growing Milkweeds

July 5, 1937.

PIONEERING difficulties that go along with attempts to domesticate a weed are being experienced in efforts to grow the wild milkweed as a commercial crop on the Tribune's Wheaton farm.

After the farm manager decided to grow milkweed this year, he immediately ran into difficulties. Neither seed nor roots of the plant are available on the market. Never before, so far as men at the farm know, has the milkweed been used as a commercial crop.

Good farmers promptly start the cultivators and hoes to work in an effort to kill milkweeds when they appear in corn fields or among other cultivated crops. They frown when they see them in their small grain fields. But perhaps the time will come when the milkweed will be protected and actually raised and sold.

Watch for Plants.

In getting a start of milkweed at the farm it was necessary to wait until patches of the wild plants poked their tips through the ground. After crops were gathered last fall farmers forgot where milkweed grew or they had given it a setback by cutting it down. The manager of the farm asked farmers in Indiana to watch for milkweed coming up.

None of the milkweeds began showing up in the fields of northern Indiana until the middle of June. About a week ago they were tall enough to be identified. Roots were then dug on the farms of Harley Paddock and Walter Moffitt near Huntington, Ind. Roots are used because it would not be possible to raise a crop of good sized weeds from seed the first year.

It was necessary to dig down about a foot to get long, strong roots. A group of Huntington men were employed to dig the roots which would have taken one man nine to ten days. The cost of getting them out of the ground totaled $27.60.

4,000 To an Acre.

The roots were kept in moist burlap sacks until taken to the Wheaton farm, where they were planted last Tuesday. Approximately 4,000 roots were required to plant one acre. They were dropped three feet apart in the bottom of furrows made with a breaking plow. With the rows 42 inches apart each plant will have ample room to develop. Each root was first covered with a hoe and then the field leveled by harrowin gand disking.

Since the roots have been planted so late in the season, the manager plans to give the field special care, so tha the milkweeds will have the best opportunity to develop before frost.

For Fathers

Are your children little ones? If so, you need more life insurance than you will when they are grown and able to shift for themselves.

Continental has an unusual family protection policy that is designed especially for the man with growing children. It provides a cash "clean up" fund at the time of death, a regular monthly income for twenty years from the date of policy issue . . . plus the full face amount of the policy at the end of the twenty years!

This Continental service policy costs but little more than ordinary life insurance . . . yet it provides ample extra protection during the period of your children's dependency. Ask your agent or broker for complete details.

Involves Uniting Utilities in Chicago Area.

the best rate since 1931, officials are said to be unwilling to make any offers for exchange of stock on the basis of current market prices of about $107 a share on the present Edison common. Participating in the general market decline of the last three months Edison stock has dropped from a high of $139 a share.

Edison reported net income equal to $4.05 a share on its present stock during the first five months of this year, compared with $2.71 a share in the corresponding period of 1936. Based on earnings of $6.80 a share for all of last year, the 1937 figure should be around $8 to $9 a share.

Sales of electricity have been increasing at a 15 per cent rate over last year, improvement being mainly in the more profitable residential and commercial classifications, where much of the increase can be retained as net income.

Public Service Earnings.

Public Service earned $2.84 per common share in the first five months this year, compared with $1.97 in a like 1936 period. At this rate it would earn $5 to $6 a share in 1937, compared with $4.17 last year.

Edison will offer four of its new common shares for each share of Public Service preferred if it decides to go ahead with original plans, rather than retire the preferred through sale of its own debentures.

Edison also may abandon the idea of offering 3.5 shares of its new stock for each Western United Gas and Electric preferred share and 3.7 shares for each Illinois Northern Utilities preferred share. In such an event it would sell about $20,000,000 of debentures to raise money to retire the 132,460 Western United shares at $106 and $106.50 a share, and the 54,645 Illinois Northern shares at $110 a share.

Plans Sale of Debentures.

In any event, almost $60,000,000 of Edison debentures are scheduled for sale to retire $19,429,000 of Commonwealth subsidiary 5½ per cent debentures at 102¾, $25,800,000 of Western United 5½ per cent debt at 104½ and $9,704,000 of Illinois Northern 5s at 105.

Then, if Edison is assured of being the beneficiary of reduced charges by exchange of most of Public Service of Northern Illinois common for new Edison stock, Edison plans to offer as much as $33,000,000 more of its debentures to retire $31,000,000 of Public Service 5 per cent bonds. It might possibly sell stock instead of debentures in this case. Edison owns about 38 per cent, or working control, of the 651,221 shares of Public Service common outstanding.

Possibility of further financing, but probably not until next year, lies in tentative plans to refund part of the $86,000,000 remaining 4½ per cent debt of Public Service and part of the present $175,000,000 debt of Edison which bears 3¾ to 5 per cent interest.

Would you be interested in starting a business for yourself without one cent of investment on your part?

Well, that is exactly what we have done for many men in this territory.

These men are previous storekeepers, doctors, lawyers, shopworkers, mechanics, etc., and are now earning and receiving in percentage as much as $50 a single day.

We are an old line, nationally known manufacturer of electrical units that defy competition, and for which there is a constantly increasing demand.

Now here are our arrangements: You must be between 24 and 54, preferably married, honest, reliable, possess a neat appearance, and possess at least a grammar school education.

At this time we will only interview men living on the south side and southern Cook county.

Every man answering this advertisement will be given a confidential interview, and if selected will be trained at our expense in our methods, which are successful.

There are no strings attached to this offer as we can even pay rent, light, heat, telephone, girl hire, consign your merchandise, and finance your accounts.

Apply Tuesday from 2 to 3 p. m. only. Suite 400 Maryland-bldg., 841 East 63d-street [1 block east of Cottage Grove].

COMMONWEALTH EDISON COMPANY.
There are several openings in our Appliance Sales Department for neat-appearing, ambitious young men, willing to start at the bottom and earn promotion by honest and persistent efforts. Apply Room 1807, 72 West Adams-street, 8:00 a. m. to 12:00 noon, and 2:00 to 4:00 p. m.

YOUNG MARRIED MAN.
For immediate employment with electrical unit company, on a permanent basis with liberal participation in profits with no investment. Over 26 years of age, permanently located on North or Northwest side, and able to furnish good character references, as position to be filled is one of responsibility. Apply to sales manager, Room 210, 4832 Lincoln-av., on Tuesday, July 6, between 10:30 a. m. and 12 noon.

YOUNG MEN who are looking for a permanent position; the Commonwealth Edison Company can use a few men who can qualify for work in the Appliance Sales Department. No sales experience necessary; close co-operation and training given by experienced men. Excellent commission, bonus and drawing account for those who qualify. Apply N. Galloway, Room 230, 140 S. TERRY AND THE PIRATES—FUTILITY WITHOUT UTILITY

WE HAVE NO MONEY TO HIRE A LAWYER! —THE COURT WILL ASSIGN US ONE —BUT SANDHURST WILL HAVE A LEGAL STAFF THAT COULD CONVICT FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE OF GROSS NEGLECT OF DUTY
7-6
MAYBE WE COULD GO TO NORMANDIE...
NO YOU DON'T! THIS IS STRICTLY BETWEEN SANDHURST AND ME!
BUT, PAT—OUR TESTIMONY WOULD BE CALLED PREJUDICED! SHE'S THE ONLY OTHER WITNESS OF WHAT WENT ON!
THAT WOULD MEAN APPEARING AGAINST HER HUSBAND.—AND THAT'S OUT!
BUT SHE MUST HATE SANDHURST...
TIME'S UP, LADS!—YE'LL 'AVE T' LEAVE NOW—AN' DON'T GIT ME MAD!

MRS. FRANK O. LOWDEN DIES—The former Illinois governor and his wife, Mrs. Florence Pullman Lowden, who died yesterday at Sinnissippi farm at age of 68. She was a daughter of the late George M. Pullman. (Story on page 14.)

STARTS WESTWARD ATLANTIC HOP—The British flying boat Caledonia, which was on its way early today from Foynes, Ireland, to Botwood, Newfoundland, while an American plane was making the fight in the other direction.
[Associated Press Radiophoto.] (Story on page 1.)

"I'D DO IT AGAIN," SAYS JARDINE—The Rev. Robert Anderson Jardine, who married the duke of Windsor and Wallis Warfield, with his wife as they arrived in New York yesterday. Jardine will lecture in the United States.

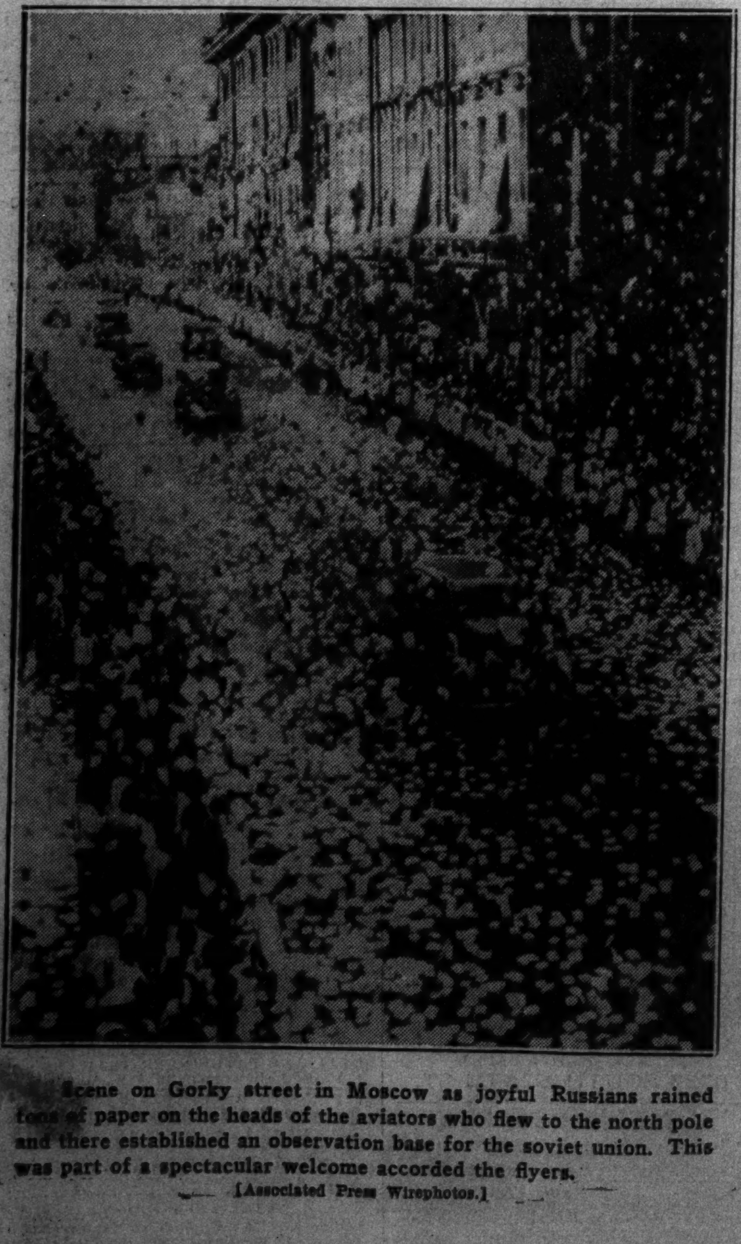
MOSCOW GREETS POLAR FLYERS

When members of the soviet union's north pole expedition returned home they were greeted affectionately by Dictator Josef Stalin and other government leaders. Here Stalin (left) welcomes I. T. Spirin, chief navigator of the expedition, with a kiss.



Scene on Gorky street in Moscow as joyful Russians rained tons of paper on the heads of the aviators who flew to the north pole and there established an observation base for the soviet union. This was part of a spectacular welcome accorded the flyers.

Nearly 80,000 Attend Arlington Races and Cubs-Cards Double-Header

Yesterday was a sports holiday for tens of thousands of Chicagoans. This is a portion of the crowd of 40,000 fans who went to Arlington Park for an afternoon of racing favored by clear weather and a fast track. They saw the annual running of the Stars and Stripes handicap in which the two favorites, Whopper and Finance, who finished in a dead heat in a sensational race last week, were defeated by Corinto. The crowd was one of the most enthusiastic in years, and the betting was heavy. (Story on page 21.)

[TRIBUNE Photo.]
The finale of the thrilling first game of the double-header at Wrigley field yesterday, which the Cubs won from the St. Louis Cardinals, 13 to 12. Demaree slides home with the winning run on Jurges' hit in the 14th inning under Catcher Ogrodowski's glove.

Second Baseman Brown of the Cards beats the ball to third base in the third inning of the first game. Hack of the Cubs is taking the throw. Spectators at the two games were treated to three home runs, six triples, and thirteen doubles.

Air view of Wrigley field during yesterday's double-header. More than 39,000 spectators sat in the stands for six and a half hours while the Cubs won both games. The score of the second, which didn't get started until after 6 o'clock, was 9 to 7. Both games were typical Cub-Cardinal contests, with plenty of slugging, plenty of argument, and a parade of pitchers. (Story on page 1.)
